Another Suitcase Found in River

WOLSCHEIDORF WOMAN'S HEAD THOUGHT FOUND IN THIRD SUITCASE IN RIVER

Lowell Man Found Third Suitcase in River and Turned it Over to Tyngsboro Chief—Believes it Contained Human Flesh—Nauseated by Odor on Opening Case He Turned it Over to Police After Closing it Without Looking at Contents

Has the head of Mrs. Alice Wolscheidorf, whose body and torso were found floating in the Merrimack river near Tyngsboro three weeks ago, been found?

That is the question that is being asked by many who have followed the case closely and who are strongly inclined to believe the head has been found and turned over to District Attorney Reading.

The theory that the head has been found but no mention is being made by the state in order to spring a dramatic surprise in court when Dr. William M. Robb and A. H. Swope are arraigned is gaining great credence.

It is known that a third suitcase has been found. The person, a Lowell man, who found a third suitcase near Tyngsboro Island, is known to The Sun.

The suitcase was turned over to Chief Pelletier of the Tyngsboro force, this man says. Since then nothing has been heard of it.

There was a decomposed, odorous substance within that suitcase. The man who found the suitcase thought at the time that it might be the head of the woman whose dismembered limbs wrapped in one suitcase and whose torso, wrapped in another suitcase, were found after being buried into the Merrimack.

This suitcase was held tightly together by a cheap brass lock and by two leather straps. The finder took

City Finances in Good Condition

If city departments during the next three months exercise the same care in the expenditure of funds as marked the nine-month period ending October 1 there is an excellent possibility of the creation of a surplus this year.

This assertion is based upon a nine-months' financial statement prepared by City Auditor Daniel E. Martin and today presented to Mayor John J. Donovan for his study and information.

On the whole the 1923 appropriations are enjoying good health, and it is believed every department, with the possible exception of one or two, will live within money provided the first of the year. All of the so-called big departments, such as ashes, street maintenance, sewer maintenance, police, fire, schools, buildings and health, seem well set for a successful year. Each should live within its appropriation.

	Total Credits	Spent	Balance
Ashes	$ 104,332	$ 73,691.81	$ 30,640.19
St. Maintenance	404,505	275,940.54	128,564.46
Sewer Maintenance	25,000	16,934.80	8,065.20
Police	336,030	247,474.18	88,555.82
Fire	402,107.50	294,132.10	107,975.40
Buildings	165,047.57	115,400.31	49,647.26
Schools (all)	1,291,973.63	917,614.18	374,359.45

These figures speak for themselves and show that it will not be difficult for the departments named to live within balances as now exist.

Only one department, the water works, seems to be in an insecure position. Out of total credits amounting to $345,265.57 there already has been spent $312,485.11, leaving a balance for three months of only $32,780.46. Based on these figures the department, unless it curtails to a great extent, will finish the year with a deficit of $70,000 or thereabouts. An actual deficit of $70,000 will obtain if expenditures for October, November and December are proportionally as great as during the first nine months.

Insurance Exchange Engineer Finds Lowell Fire Department at Low Standard of Efficiency

Every Hose, Engine and Ladder Company Put Through Certain Evolutions to Determine Ability of Men and Their Familiarity With Equipment—"Lack of Initiative," "Insufficient Orders From Officers" and "Slow Time" Some of Comments in Long Report Made by Engineer John S. Caldwell

Filed with the report of the special committee which investigated Lowell's water and fire department conditions, containing many recommendations for improved service and protection, is a report submitted by Engineer John S. Caldwell of the N. E. Insurance Exchange on results of inspections made to determine the efficiency of company units of the fire department in the use and handling of apparatus and equipment. It is dated August 15, 1923.

In conducting the inspection 13 evolutions were used designed to show how the men of the department acted in emergencies and in the usual conduct of fire fighting. The report is not satisfactory, except in spots, in fact it seriously criticizes the work of many of the engine, hose and ladder companies, officers and men alike.

The main criticism was "slow time," although "lack of initiative" also was found in many instances, according to the report. The report states also in specific instances that the men showed lack of familiarity with equipment. Praise is given where the inspector found it due and censure is administered just as freely.

Thirteen Evolutions

The 13 evolutions stipulated in the conduct of the tests were as follows:

1. Starting on signal make short run from station to selected hydrant, show water at nozzle attached to single line on hose 150 feet long.
2. Starting on signal make short run from station to selected hydrant, connect engine and show water at nozzle attached to single line 150 feet long under 100 pounds pump pressure.
3. With water under hydrant pressure flowing through line assure middle section as burst and replace with new section.
4. Hoseman and ladderman operating together. Ladder to be placed at selected building for use of hoseman to take line of hose over ladder on

STOLE $125,000 WORTH OF FURS

Six Thieves Enter New York Warehouse, Cover Watchman and Make Big Haul

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Six thieves early today trucked $125,000 worth of baled furs from the warehouse of Frederick Huth & Co., on West 30th street.

While one robber stood over the night watchman with a pistol, his companions leisurely went through several floors of the warehouse, selecting the choicest furs in the stock and lowering them to the street entrance by elevator.

Three truckloads of the furs were removed.

POLO GROUNDS, HOME OF GIANTS, SCENE OF SECOND ENCOUNTER FOR WORLD'S TITLE

Stengel, Hero of Yesterday's Game Loudly Cheered as He Walks on Field—Another Great Crowd on Hand—McGraw Out to Make it Two Straight—Huggins Determined to Even Score

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 11. (By the Associated Press.)—Stunned into late sleeping, perhaps by the thrills of yesterday's epic game, which the ivy-draped Casey Stengel wop for the New York Nationals with a ninth inning home run, Gotham's jaded baseball fans arrived slowly at the Polo grounds today, for the second encounter between the champions of the two major baseball leagues for the world's title.

The baseball bug who scoffs at the league games and bites only on world series ball, got a surprise when he came into the historic old arena, for, as the saying goes, "It ain't what it used to be."

Change in Park Noted

Since last year the outfield bleachers have been wiped out almost completely and the double-decked grandstand extended until it forms almost a complete enclosure with a small horseshoe opening, broken in the center by the electric score board.

In this cheese box—or perhaps, it more resembles a carton of Pittsburgh steels—5000 fans who had to get up early or watch the game down town on an electric score board, were packing a bit leisurely-eyed, trudged onto the field, dragging its heavy instruments. Those who didn't sleep last night, were kept awake and those who did were put to sleep with a soothing melody that sounded like distant car honking.

The early fans filed into the park lazily and leisurely, dropped into convenient seats, drawing down their hats to keep out the half-light that seeped through the muck under the shoulder of Coogan's Bluff.

There were occasional sounds of revelry when Nick Altrock and Al Schacht, the buffoons of baseball, did their stuff. The comedians gave a new touch today, a double barreled argument with an imaginary umpire in the direction of whose phantom presence they threw clouds of dust and then imagined themselves chased from the park. A five-year-old boy aided the act.

Advance guards from the two teams came onto the field almost simultaneously but there was hardly a ripple from the crowd.

Looking jaunty and full of fight, it wouldn't have been guessed that the Yankees had lost the opening game yesterday.

Babe Ruth, one of the first on the field, swung his trusty bludgeon on the sidelines while Cozy Dan Dolan gave the giant recruits some batting practice on the diamond. When Casey Stengel came upon the diamond a great cheer went up.

The Giants were attired in their splendor and spun white uniforms, while the Yankees had on their blue traveling costumes.

Underneath the grandstand, rival boards of strategy mapped out their plans of battle for the second test—McGraw intent upon taking the full advantage of the jump which on the Yankees in the opener, while Huggins rallied his forces, determined to break through and even the score.

Fair Weather Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A hazy sun chimed itself over the eastern rim of the Polo Grounds today, where the second frame of the world's series will be played this afternoon.

"Fair; partly cloudy," had been the weather man's forecast after the shower which swept across the Harlem river region three hours after yesterday's classic encounter at the Yankee Stadium.

For the first time in the history of years of world series baseball, cheap seats chasers were absent from the entrance gates last night. The first one put in an appearance after sun-up.

Second Fire Prevention Week Blaze

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 11.—The second big fire in Hudson county to occur in fire prevention week, destroyed the Spencer Iron foundry early today, with an estimated loss of more than $100,000. Eight fire companies labored for more than two hours to prevent the flames spanning the street to the National Chemical Products Co. plant, where thousands of tons of inflammable material are said to be stored.

He was a past grand master of Mount Lebanon Masonic lodge, Boston.

Faccenda Held as Murder Suspect

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—A charge of suspicion of murder was lodged against Ernst Faccenda, early today, by detectives investigating his alleged admission that he saw Emma Dickson, 15-year-old Millville, N. J., high school girl, slain in the swamps along the Port Elizabeth highway, near her home at Bricksboro. Faccenda was held in bail yesterday as a material witness. It was after the return of Peter Sheller, a member of the "murder squad" of this city, from the scene of the crime that the more serious charge was lodged against the prisoner. Faccenda, who is 19 years old and lives in this city, admitted, according to the authorities, that he was a witness to the killing, but declined to supply additional details. He declared that he did not know the identity of the slayer. The detectives plan to question him further today.

NEW McDONOUGH FUNERAL HOME IS OPENED BY MORTICIANS TO PUBLIC INSPECTION

Interior of Stately Old Mansion Opposite South Common Transformed By Artisans and Decorators—Possible to Conduct Three Separate Funerals Simultaneously Without Confusion

The consummation of a cherished ambition is realized with the opening today of the beautiful new funeral home of M. H. McDonough Sons, Undertakers, at 14 Highland street, opposite the South common, a few steps from Grahams street, and the public is cordially invited to inspect the home at any time.

A fine old stately mansion is converted by the artisans and decorators touch into one of the finest funeral homes in this part of the state, providing, as it does, up to the minute facilities, in a homelike and cozy environment, not surpassed by any other building of its kind.

In connection with the opening one cannot repress the opportunity to marvel at the progress the firm of M. H. McDonough Sons has made in 17 years, less than two decades, and to congratulate its members on the enterprise and foresight which has made out of one of Lowell's imposing mansions a creditable, essential and utilitarian addition to Lowell's business places, accessible to car lines and handy to the depot.

A brief history of the building will not be amiss. It was built by the late Benjamin Webster, and is of solid construction throughout. In fact one can see in some of the timbers the old fashioned carpentry of other days. Much of the original fresco work of the house aside from painting has been left untouched. The embellishment of the interior has been carried out with a view to preserving much of its original character and layout and hence, one is

ST. COLUMBA'S MISSION GREAT SUCCESS

St. Columba's church again witnessed an overflow attendance last evening, the fourth evening of the women's mission being conducted this week by the Dominicans. Morning and evening services to date have been attended by capacity congregations, larger than any gatherings in the history of the parish, and a source of great satisfaction to the presiding priests, Rev. Edmund A. Baxter, O.P. and Rev. Louis L. Farrell, O.P.

The recitation of the rosary and instructions on the mysteries of the rosary by Rev. Fr. Baxter last night, were followed by an eloquent and forceful sermon on "Courtship and Marriage," by Rev. Fr. Farrell.

Confessions are being heard daily and hundreds of communicants have been going to the altar since the start of the mission last Sunday. The men's mission will open next Sunday evening and continue with the usual devotion until Oct. 21.

DUO-ART WEEK AT STEINERT'S

This week is being observed as "Duo-Art week" with M. Steinert & Sons, who have the public to visit their Duo-Art Salon to hear the playing of the great masters of the piano on the Duo-Art. Monday was observed as "Faderewski day," Tuesday as "Josef Hoffmann day," Wednesday as "Harold Bauer day," today is "Shura Cherkassky day," and Saturday "Toshiba Music day." Shura Cherkassky is the phenomenal eleven-year-old boy pianist. Other artists such as Percy Grainger, Rudolph Ganz, Alfred Cortot, and Frank Hanau the exponent of popular music on the piano, who record exclusively for the Duo-Art may be heard.

Faderewski, the master pianist, says: "In its broadest aspect, the Duo-Art will have a far-reaching influence on musical taste. Children in the home possessing the Duo-Art piano, must naturally and unconsciously become discriminating listeners. Hearing frequent repetitions of the great masterpieces as played by skilled performers, the foundation is laid for musical enlightenment, which means enjoyment and gratification in later life. Whatever musical talent a child may possess, is stimulated in such an atmosphere, and when lessons begin, the instructor finds a willing and apt pupil instead of one whose view of music is entirely confined to unimaging exercises and practice."

The management of the Steinert house desires that the public will feel free to drop in anytime to hear the playing of these artists, and also see what artistic music rooms are maintained in this city.

MATRIMONIAL

The wedding of Miss Annette Y. Foster, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Foster of Lowell, and Mr. Frederick F. Graham was held at 8 o'clock last night in St. Louis church with Rev. J. B. Labossiere officiating. The bridesmaid was Miss Helen M. Brennan and Mr. J. R. Graham, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride wore a dress of white tulle and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, and her bridesmaid wore a dress of gray tulle and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. A reception and wedding supper were held at the home of the bride's mother, 678 Bridge street, immediately following the ceremony. The house was charmingly decorated with autumn leaves and apple blossoms with wintergreen. The ushers were Mr. Herbert Foster and Mr. Ernest Le Clair. The happy couple left on an extended wedding trip and will be home in friends after Nov. 1, at 12 Union street, New Britain, Conn., where Mr. Graham is the sales representative of Snyder, Inc., of Boston.

Wayne—Wilson
At 3.30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Miss Katherine Wilson and Mr. George Wayne were united in the bonds of matrimony by Rev. John C. Duffy, O.M.I., at the Immaculate Conception rectory. The bride wore a blue suit with picture hat to match and carried white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Richter, wore a dark brown suit and hat, and carried pink roses. Mr. Henry J. St. John acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Henry St. John, Thomas Wayne and Henry Richter. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 625 East Merrimack street, following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne will make their home at 625 East Merrimack street after Oct. 13.

Kelley—Hart
An interesting wedding took place last evening, when Mr. Richard Kelley, a prominent business man of Boston, and Miss Margaret M. Hart, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Hart of Suffolk street and well known member of St. Patrick's parish, were united in marriage by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin. They were attended by Miss Catherine O'Neill as bridesmaid and Mr. Francis O'Neill as best man. The bride was attired in a gown of sky blue crepe de chine trimmed with charming lace and wore a picture hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore a taupe colored gown and carried a bouquet of carnations and red roses. Miss Margaret O'Neill, the flower girl, was dressed in white. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Suffolk street, following the ceremony. A wedding supper was served and a fine program of musical selections was given by those present. Mr. Michael Fourie rendered several violin selections and provided the music for the dancing which was taken up the latter part of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley left during the course of the evening on

"Suffered Rheumatic Torture for Years"

Now Restored to Perfect Health

Read What J. C. Jones, of Winchester, Ky., Has To Say About ALLENRIU, the Sure Conqueror of Rheumatism

For years I was a sufferer from the torture of rheumatism. My limbs (foot and hands) would swell to almost double their normal size. I suffered intense pain day and night so that I could hardly get to sleep. I had very little hope of ever recovering from this most dreadful and painful disease. A friend of mine seeing how despondent I was over my hopeless condition advised me to try ALLENRIU. I went immediately to the George Drug Company in Winchester and got a bottle of the internal treatment and a bottle of the Liniment to use externally. For the sake of other sufferers I wish to say that the results were simply marvelous. After beginning the combined treatment the swelling began to reduce and the pain left me entirely. I continued the treatment until I had taken only two bottles which effected a complete cure. Today I positively feel better than ever before in my life. I feel that I am very fortunate in finding a remedy that has relieved me of the distress and the almost unbearable pains from which I suffered. For the past five weeks I have been working 12 hours a day and haven't even a symptom of rheumatism or ache or pain.

Signed, James C. Jones.

ALLENRIU has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished even in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was hopeless. You are sure to get it at A. W. Dows and all druggists.—Advt.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, potent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bisultrated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer trouble them. They are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisultrated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisultrated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—Advt.

Flanagan—Larkin
A pretty October wedding took place at high noon in the rectory of St. Patrick's church, yesterday, when Mr. William J. Flanagan, a popular employee of the Courier-Citizen composing room staff, and Miss Ella L. Larkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Larkin of Mt. Vernon street, were united in the bonds of matrimony by the pastor, Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.L. Mrs. Henry Sullivan, bridesmaid, and Mr. John V. Flanagan attended the couple. The bride wore a brown tulle gown, suit trimmed with black fox fur, while the bridesmaid wore a taupe tulle suit trimmed with red fox fur. The bride carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley and the bridesmaid carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was a platinum wrist watch and that of the bridegroom to his best man a green gold watch. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 173 Mt. Vernon street. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. Mr. and Mrs. Flanagan, who were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, left early in the afternoon on an extended wedding trip. Upon their return Nov. 1 they will reside at 173 Mt. Vernon street.

Foye—Sullivan
A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Michael's rectory when Miss Mary P. Sullivan, popular telephone operator at the Lawrence exchange, and daughter of Mrs. Catherine Sullivan of Jewett street and Mr. Walter J. Foye, well known local young man, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw. The couple were attended by Miss Helena T. Sullivan, sister of the bride, and Mr. Raymond Foye, brother of the bridegroom, who acted as best man.

STREET DEPARTMENT BEHIND SCHEDULE

The street department is behind its schedule of work in granite block, reinforced concrete and asphalt paving, according to figures compiled for the week ending Oct. 6.

Against a schedule calling for 16,630 square yards of granite block paving by that date the department actually had laid 15,971 square yards; against a reinforced concrete schedule of 10,000 square yards, 9941 square yards have been laid, and against a schedule for asphalt of 32,843 square yards, 29,153 yards have been laid.

Sinking Steamer Sends S. O. S. Calls

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 11.—The steamship City of Everett is sinking about 150 miles west of Tortugas, according to wireless advices received here today. S.O.S. calls were sent out by the steamship at 7 o'clock. The first message received said: "Going down stern first. Am lowering boats. Will sink soon. Latitude 24.30, longitude 86.00, or about 1.50 miles west of Tortugas." The steamship Comal, which is about 75 miles from the scene of the disaster, is rushing to the assistance of the City of Everett.

New McDonough Funeral Home

impressed indeed with the cozy, homelike atmosphere within. Benjamin Webber, who built the home, was associated with Buttrick & Co., grocers in Market street, where Edwin Smith's store is now located. Subsequently the home passed into the hands of Harlan P. Goodell and later to William Wood. Edison school boys and girls will remember that familiar sign on the old fire box 41 which read "Keys at B. N. Webber's." The exterior of the house has been left as before with the addition of the ornamental lights on either side of the doorway and a sign reading "M. H. McDonough Sons, Funeral Home." With these two features added, the original stately entrance is retained, and the exterior painted white presents a striking appearance. As one enters the main door, and enters into a hallway, a spacious parlor 14x30 feet on the east side of the building meets your eye. Leading off this room is a ladies' rest room, lavatory, etc. On the west side of this floor are two rooms each 15x15 feet, with a door connecting. These two rooms can be used in conjunction with the larger parlor on the other side of the hall or can be used separately if the occasion arises. It is possible with the layout of these three rooms and the method of entrance into the hallway and then into the funeral carriage to conduct three distinct funerals at the same time without the slightest confusion. In the present headquarters of the firm the need of such an arrangement was made manifest and the McDonough firm has solved the problem satisfactorily. Proceeding along the hallway, next comes the display room, 20x30 feet where caskets and funeral paraphernalia will be on exhibition. Then comes the work or trimming room, 18x15 feet, where caskets can be fitted up. Leading off this room is a morgue which is equipped with a kerbolith sanitary floor with the walls and ceiling done in white enamel. Ample window space affords floods of natural light, contributing one of the finest and brightest rooms of its kind in the state. Artificial light will not be required and the McDonough firm is pardonably proud of this feature. Still further comes the last unit of the first floor organization, a garage 26x38 feet, so situated that bodies can be placed in the morgue from the garage, without being in full view of passers-by. Access from and to the garage can be had into either the morgue or the work room or both. A driveway from Highland street extending up and around the garage adds to the convenience of the vehicles at funerals. The furnishings of the rooms on the first floor, particularly that part of which is to be utilized at funerals, are in keeping with a finely kept home. Everything conducive to comfort and rest has been thought out with a view to producing a funeral home creditable to the city and in keeping with the surroundings. On the second floor there is a splendid six room apartment where Mr. John L. McDonough now resides with his family. Apart from the six room suite is a splendid chamber which can be utilized by persons who desire to remain in the home with the bodies of their friends or relatives. The office of the firm is located on the second floor and telephone calls 906-W and 907 day and night will be promptly attended to with efficiency and dispatch. The opening of the new funeral home of this well known undertaking firm marks a milestone in its career. Founded in 1906, by the late Michael H. McDonough, 25 years with James H. McDermott, it has grown to be one of the largest and best known firms of its kind in these parts. Mr. McDonough died in 1909 and the business has been and is carried on by the three sons, John L., Edward F., and George M. McDonough, all registered embalmers. These young men have achieved a fine reputation for competent, courteous service, particular attention to every detail, and their success is attributed to the prompt and intelligent response to all demands. In its 17 years of life in this city, it has conducted several thousand funerals, not only in Lowell and its environs, but sending and receiving bodies to and from all parts of the United States and Canada and European countries. Mr. John L. McDonough of the firm was recently appointed a member of the executive committee of the Mass. Undertakers' association. With a modern and up to date funeral home, imposing in appearance and practicable and homelike, the firm of M. H. McDonough Sons, has given to the undertaking profession hereabouts an institution of which they might well feel proud.

DO YOU CATCH COLD EASILY?

Beware of Stubborn Summer
Colds That Become More Persistent With Cold Weather

When a cold stubbornly resists the ordinary methods of treatment, and one cold rapidly succeeds another after each change of temperature, it is time to take a tonic that will strengthen the blood and give it the qualities necessary to fight off disease. There is such a tonic, as is shown by the experience of Mr. Joseph L. Pullen of No. 67 Ontario street, Oswego, N. Y., who says:

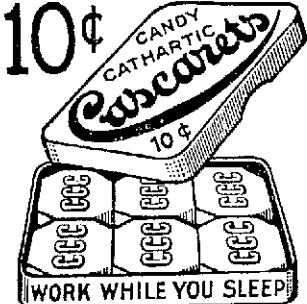

"About a year ago I found that my system was so badly run down that I was seldom without a cold. In my work as a carpenter I was exposed to severe weather and every little change brought on a cold. Colds were rapidly absorbing my strength. I was tired all the time and lacking in ambition and energy. I had very little appetite and what I ate didn't seem to help me. I suffered from heartburn and indigestion and had a pain in my back.

"My father had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they had helped him so much that I decided to give the remedy a trial. I felt some relief after the first box and continued the treatment. In a few weeks I felt more active and energetic and soon my strength returned. I have a good appetite now and no longer have indigestion. The pain in my back is gone. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills built me up so that I no longer catch cold easily. The remedy is an excellent tonic and I do not hesitate to recommend it."

CONCERT AT ACADEMY OF NOTRE DAME

The Smalley, Zimmer, Dodge trio of Boston opened its 1923-24 season with a harp trio concert at the Academy of Notre Dame yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Ralph Smalley, director, formerly of the Boston Symphony orchestra, an accomplished cellist, rendered several well known selections. Miss Nellie Zimmer, well known Boston harpist, kept her audience to the highest point of admiration as she played her way into their hearts. Her touching rendition of "Old Black Joe" received the hearty applause of the assembly. Mr. William Dodge, formerly of the Boston Opera Co., rendered several violin selections from well known composers. The program in full:

to roof to operate. Start from station on signal. Use no water.

5. Send short ladder over ground ladder to roof.

6. Have horse-drawn apparatus hitched ready to respond to alarm.

7. Horse-drawn engine and motor hose wagon to be used. Have engine connected to hydrant and single line 150 feet long attached using water under hydrant pressure only.

8. Raise and place extension ladder to selected point and operate line of hose from ladder.

9. Raise and place 60-foot ladder at roof of building.

10. Demonstrate operation of aerial ladder.

11. Demonstrate operation of Detroit type of door opener, hose shut-off clamp or double male and female hose connections.

12. Demonstrate proper method of building fire net.

13. Assume fire in selected building. Apparatus to start on signal from designated point, make run and receive location and character of fire from observer near building. Proceed as for actual fire except no water to be used.

Since forbids the reproduction of the report in full, but the findings and comments made upon two of the evolutions, numbers 3 and 11, are given herewith to show the character of the criticism and praise.

Replacing Burst Hose Line
Assume middle section of pipe line as burst and replace it with new section.

Engine 1—Two men at nozzle. Officer alone laid spare length and obtained hose clamp and was alone for one minute before a man was called for assistance. Other man remained at pipe. Time very slow.

Engine 2—Replacing burst length good. Time good.

Engine 3—Promptly done in quick

time except hose clamp not used, the captain electing to close pump discharge gate instead.

Engine 4—Officer did most of actual work and was slow in calling on men to assist. Men showed little initiative. Operator shut down line at engine discharge gate and removed it from outlet, then re-connected. Hose clamp not used. Time slow.

Engine 5—Hose clamp applied too close to coupling. Man at pipe remained there and man who went for extra hose stood with coupling in hand apparently not knowing where to take it. After officer applied clamp he called for the hose and directed the placing of it in line, attached it to the length next to the hydrant, then moved pipe back to new length, leaving the line, but 100 feet in length. Company indicated confusion. Elapsed time very slow.

Engine 6—Hoseman got clamp and shut off water at middle of length of hose assumed as burst. Pipeman not prompt in assisting officer, who evidently depended on their initiative as few orders were given. After officer and broken line beyond clamp he discovered location of shut off and ordered it put in proper place. Elapsed time very slow.

Engine 7—Clamp put on properly by officer but action slow, officer doing most of work, pipeman looking on. No specific or prompt orders given. One man good and took hold of work without orders; pipeman indifferent. Time slow.

Hose 8—Hose well applied. Good initiative on part of men and good judgment by officer. Elapsed time fair.

Hose 9—Officer and one man did work, driver at horses. Officer ordered pipe open to bleed line before hose clamp put on. Good initiative but slow time.

Hose 10—Driver on sent holding horses; three men for work. Officer personally got clamp and applied it. Man got hose from wagon, but did not know what to do with it and one man remained at pipe. Officer finally ordered these men to work and change was made. Elapsed time very slow.

Hose 11—Hose clamp properly attached. Some delay in getting spare hose and poor supervision by officer. Time very slow.

Hose 12—Water shut off by means of hose clamp well placed. Spare length brought up with wrong end to connect, then reversed on order from officer. Slow time.

Hose 13—Captain ordered pipe open and got clamp which he attached himself. Man with extra hose bundled it over shoulder and carried it all to coupling which had been disconnected, then hose had to be straightened out and captain ordered burst length added and when water was again let on the burst length was still in line which was now 150 feet long. Elapsed time slow.

Use of Appliances
Demonstrate operation of Detroit type of door opener, hose shut-off clamp or double male and female hose connections.

Engine 1—Use of appliances poor. Men did not know which end of door opener to use.

Engine 2 and Ladder 2—use of hose and ladder appliances fair to good.

Engine 3 and Ladder 3 and Protective 1—Appliances not properly used. Not one man of eight tested

Engine 3 and Ladder 3 and Protective 1—Appliances not properly used. Not one man of eight tested could properly demonstrate use of door opener.

Engine 4—Use of door opener and clamp very poor. Men not familiar with equipment. Officer said appliances seldom used.

Engine 5—Use of appliances fair to poor. Men did not seem to understand working principles of door opener or proper space for shut-off clamps.

Engine 6—Operation of reverse couplings good.

Hose 10—Hydrant chuck placed on fire station floor assumed as location of hydrant and instructions given to have male end of hose connected to male outlet on hydrant. Hoseman did not know what to do until told by officer; wanted to change ends of line. When further instructed to attach playpipe he did not readily find proper appliance although directly in sight in front of him.

Hose 11 and Ladder 1—Use of door opener by ladderman fair, by hosemen poor.

Hose 11 and Ladder 4—Use of appliances fair to poor. Door opener apparently not much used and men untrained in its uses and advantages.

Hose 13—On operation of door opener one man fair, another poor. Officer claimed he had no door opener when it was in plain sight on running board.

How To Keep A Child Healthy

A GENERATION ago parents thought that sickness was a part of a child's life, but we know better now. The secret is in the food the mother allows the child to eat, and in watching that elimination occurs regularly two or three times a day. Mrs. J. Russell of 19,141 Havana Ave., Detroit, Mich., keeps her family of two young children in perfect health with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and Mrs. R. L. Smith of 519 Maple Ave., East Pittsburgh, Pa., says her family of three children have never been sick a day since giving them Syrup Pepsin.

A Substitute for Physics
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientific compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and suitable aromatics. The formula is on every package. You will find you do not have to force children to take it, and it is much better for them than castor oil, calomel or other drugs like phenolphthalein even if covered with sugar or chocolate. Syrup Pepsin is mild and gentle in action and your child will have an easy passage without griping or strain. It does not contain narcotics, and you can give it with absolute safety to an infant at the breast.

"Magic" in a Teaspoonful
Every store that sells medicines sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. Give half a teaspoonful to any ailing baby or child at night when you put it to bed and you will find a happy, laughing youngster in the morning. Take Syrup Pepsin yourself when constipated, and give it to any member of the family young or old, for any ailment due to constipation, such as biliousness, headache, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, bad breath, constipation, fever sores, indigestion, and to break up fevers and colds. Stop that first sneeze or sniffle and you will have a healthy winter.

GAS LIGHTING IS GAINING RAPIDLY

New Installations in Local Stores and Banks—Street Lighting in Boston

LOWELL TRUST COMPANY USING GAS VERY LARGELY

During the past six months there has been a real reawakening in Lowell—both in the use of gas for lighting in homes, mercantile establishments and factories. There are many reasons for this.

C. E. Z. LIGHT

change of heart, notably among them being the invention of better and more efficient Gas Mantles, Shades and Lamps, giving a more even and better light than has heretofore been produced.

This has been noticeably so in the case of the Radio, No. 30, the Reflex, the C. E. Z., and the Reflexor. Along Merrimack Street, most of the stores are now fully equipped with a Gas Lighting System that is giving genuine satisfaction. Among these we might mention the Miller's Boston Ladies' Outfitters, Taylor's, Garmon's and MacIntyre's. Two banks have also been fully equipped with the latest type Gas Lighting. The Middlesex National Bank and the Lowell Trust Company.

At the Lowell Trust Company gas lighting is now being used very largely, it being the consensus of opinion among those employed in the bank that the soft glow of these new gas lights is very restful to the eye. The illustrations in this article show the type of Reflex and C. E. Z. lights that have been installed at the Lowell Trust Company.

Boulevard Lighting. In the city of Boston and in many Western and Middle Western Cities boulevard lighting is now being done almost exclusively with the new Welbach White Way Light. Lowell people who have occasion to drive at night between Forest Hills and Dedham have been amazed at the wonderful results obtained from this new type of street lighting, making the boulevard at night between these two towns almost as bright as day.

We look forward to the time when Lowell will adopt these Welbach White Way Street Lights on some of the downtown streets.

GARAGES BEING HEATED BY GAS

With the cold weather now almost upon us automobile owners are giving attention to the proposition of garage heating.

During past Winters frozen radiators, frozen pumps, cracked motors and other troubles due to cold inconvenience and expense to automobile owners.

This can be eliminated in your home garage with the installation of a Scientific Garage Heater, which can be easily installed and which can be operated for a very reasonable sum during the cold months. With proper use the up-keep of a garage heater is not so great that it cannot be readily afforded by most people having private garages.

There is no reason why a garage heater should be used when the machine is not in the garage. The Gas Heater can be turned off during the day, to be turned on again when the car is brought back to the garage for the night.

With the Thermostat set at 30 degrees and the garage heater used properly the gas bill will be within the reach of the average person.

LARGE STOCK OF GAS FLOOR LAMPS

To meet the increased demand for Gas Floor Lamps the Lowell Gas Light Company is carrying this year a larger stock than at any time in its history.

The markets were secured for the finest gas lamps obtainable and the designs being made are indeed beautiful and quite inexpensive.

There is one lot of lamps with mahogany posts and the newest style shades being sold commencing in the home at $21.45 each.

Already a number of these lamps have been taken and there is no doubt that the present stock will soon be depleted.

NATIONAL CANDY DAY

Saturday, October 13, will be National Candy Day. From noon until 3 p. m. the Lowell Gas Light Co. will have a window demonstration showing how candy can be made by the use of gas.

SILICA GLOBE THAT WILL NOT BREAK

New Invention Will Save Money For Those Who Use Gas For Lighting

A representative of a New York Importing House conferred with officials of the Lowell Gas Light Company, Wednesday, Oct. 3, in the interest of a new "Silica Globe" which has recently been invented.

This Silica Globe is so constructed that it is almost unbreakable and will when perfected greatly reduce the expense placed upon the ordinary householder in replacing globes that have been broken through one reason or another.

This company is interested in anything that will tend to make the use of gas or its appliances less expensive to its thousands of customers.

While the new Silica Globe must of a necessity sell at a higher price than the globe now being sold throughout the country, it will undoubtedly save a great deal of money and inconvenience in the long run.

These globes will be on display and for sale in the Lowell Gas Light Appliance Store, 73 Merrimack St., just as quickly as the importers can furnish a supply.

FREE SERVICE

ON GAS LIGHTS

The Lowell Gas Light Company has a crew of five men known as the maintenance crew, who spend all their time giving a free service to the thousands of Lowell people who use gas for home lighting.

If your lights are out of order or are not giving you real satisfaction we would be pleased if you would call us on the phone. One of these men will be immediately sent to put them in first class condition, no charge will be made for the labor, and only nominal charge for the parts used.

HEAT WATER BY THE VULCAN METHOD

For the person of ordinary means the most convenient method of securing a supply of hot water when needed is through the installation of a Vulcan Water Heater.

The Vulcan is inexpensive and can be set up in any home on short notice. It comes in black and in gray enamel. It takes but little room and is not a big consumer of gas when properly used.

There are thousands of Vulcan Water Heaters in Lowell homes.

Gas, A Healthy Illuminant

We quote from two eminent English professors, who have made a study of gas and its relation to health, both of whom look upon gas as the best and most efficient form of home lighting.

Dr. Allan Wilson, of London, has issued a Bulletin in which he avers that the new type gas lights are less injurious to the eyes, and cause far less eye strain than other modern form of house lighting.

Dr. F. S. Toogood, Medical Superintendent of the Lewisham Infirmary, reported as follows in the Medical Journal on Gas Lighting: "In both large and small apartments which have normal means of ventilation, gas consumed when used for lighting assists ventilation by the increased circulation of air. Its advantages in the sick room in respect to its reliability, avoidance of noise, freedom from dust-producing propensities, and saving in both work and anxiety—are obvious to every professional man and woman."

During the months of November, December, January, February, March and April Wash day is perhaps the most dreaded day in the average home. With the rain, snow and hail storms which come with regularity in New England States it is impossible at times to dry the clothes out of doors.

While there have been numerous appliances sold in the past the Gas-Electric Drying Machine has been recently perfected in indeed a boon to the housewife. The Drying Machine can be set in the kitchen or in the basement taking up a space 2 feet x 4 feet. With the Dryer a basket of clothes can be dried in from 15 to 20 minutes.

This saving of time will be appreciated by the housewife as one of the greatest aids brought out in recent years.

The Lowell Gas Light has just taken over the agency of the Dryolite and a demonstration will be cheerfully given at our Appliance store at 73 Merrimack street.

AUTOMATIC STORAGE OF HOT WATER

High School Annex Equipped With New System—Many In Home Use

A contract was signed three days ago through the plumbing house of J. E. Drury & Co. to install a 300 gal. Ruid Gas Automatic Storage System to furnish hot water for the shower baths and basins in the high school annex. This contract will give the Annex one of the most up-to-date and efficient water heating systems in the City of Lowell.

The Lowell Gas Light Company is also installing a number of Kempack Gas Storage Hot Water Systems in the homes of some of Lowell's thrifty people, those who want an unlimited amount of hot water at any time of the day or night.

These storage systems are what might be called the last word in water heating appliances. They provide an unlimited supply of hot water at all times. They are automatically controlled by thermostat, making them the most useful acquisitions in any home. They can be operated at a cost that is indeed low when the readiness for use and efficiency is taken into consideration.

GAS BEING USED MORE IN INDUSTRY

The Lowell Gas Light Company has recently organized an Industrial Gas Department to call the attention of Lowell manufacturers, bakers, restaurants, hotel men, etc., to the modern gas appliances that have been perfected in their respective fields.

The rapidity with which Gas appliances are being brought out for cooking and heating keeps even gas men on the jump in order that they may keep abreast of the times.

This department has been perfected with the idea in mind that whatever is done by heat can be done better with gas.

There is no doubt that gas is the finest fuel obtainable for heating and manufacturers now realize this.

Managers of plants are gradually changing their old equipment built for the use of other kinds of fuel in order that gas may be used.

7000 TONS OF LOWELL COKE READY FOR QUICK DELIVERY

Lowell Gas Light Company Is Turning Out More Than 85 Tons of Coke Daily—Price Less Than Last Winter

With a shortage of coal and record-high prices for anthracite almost certainly New England people are more and more confining their house heating problems to the exclusive use of coke or gas.

In preparing for such an emergency as exists at the present time the Lowell Gas Light Company has for some months past been manufacturing more than 85 per cent Coal Gas, giving it a supply of approximately 55 tons of coke per day.

It is hard to remember happenings of the past, but the illustration on this ovens in order that they might buy it in one and two bushel lots, carrying it home on sleds or in wagons in an attempt to keep their homes above the freezing point. Owing to the scarcity of coal and the large demand made upon the coke pile it was necessary to limit small delivery of coke at the yard to 20 tons per day, the remainder going to bakeries, restaurants, etc.

This year while there is a scarcity of anthracite and with high prices inevitable, the Lowell Gas Light Company is in better position than ever before to meet the ever increasing demand to the lower price a higher grade of coke is being made and 60 bushels are being delivered for each ton ordered.

Extra trucks and wagons have been put into commission, more men have been engaged and all is in readiness to meet a demand for Lowell Coke which we feel will be unprecedented in the history of the Lowell Gas Light Company.

The company has retained the services of two experts who will visit the homes of Lowell customers, demonstrating the proper method of burning coke

page will show more clearly than any words, conditions as they existed in Lowell last winter. The photo was taken at the School Street Plant of the Lowell Gas Light Company at 6 o'clock in the morning with the thermometer 8 degrees below zero. The boys and girls in the photograph were waiting in line for the coke to come from the ovens for its high grade Coke. At the present time there are more than 7000 tons of coke stored in the yard waiting the demand that is sure to come upon the arrival of the first cold spell.

The price of coke this winter is to be kept at not higher than $14.50 per ton which is 50c per ton less than the price that prevailed last winter. In addition to get the greatest efficiency. A telephone call to 6750 is all that is needed to have one of these men call at your home.

There is no reason why people should stand for the smoke and dirt of soft coal with this cleanest of all solid fuel—Lowell Coke—ready for immediate delivery.

Burning of Raw Coal a Barbarous Practice

BY FLOYD W. PARSONS

The burning of raw coal is a barbarous practice. We are rapidly approaching an end of the era of smoke. Soon we will be doing to every lump of coal what the meat packers are doing to their business—getting out everything but the squeal. Gas is the only logical substitute for coal, and for this reason the manufacture of gas is destined to become the greatest business in America. The industry is a century old, and yet it is only in its infancy.

Nothing antedates gas, for before the earth cooled off and became a solid body it was a swirling, formless mass of gas traveling swiftly through space. Practically the only thing in the world that can be burned in gas. Even in the case of coal, it is not the solid lump that burns, but rather the gas that is distilled off.

One thousand gas companies here in the United States now serve 17,000,000 people in 4000 communities. The capital invested in this great national enterprise totals approximately $1,000,000,000, and yet the era of universal gas usage is just dawning.

RADIANTFIRE IN A THOUSAND HOMES

HIGH PRICE OF COAL IS MAKING GAS POPULAR

Of all the inventions of recent years none is more important perhaps than the Humphrey Radiantfire, which is being used in thousands of Lowell homes as the most modern method of room heating.

With one or more of these Radiantfires in the home there is no need of lighting the furnace fire until the real cold weather arrives.

Radiantfires are made in a number of different styles and sizes and are being sold at prices that will fit most any purse.

The demand for this form of room heating is greater this year than ever before, necessitating intensive efforts on the part of the Lowell Gas Light Jobbing department.

In order to reach those living in the store, North Chelmsford. This will be followed by demonstrations at the following places: Brown's Market, Draught's, Smith's Store, Townshend Center, and the Post Office in Chelmsford Center.

Arrangements have been made this year to make all connections free of charge.

A NATIONAL RANGE WEEK

This week will be known throughout the United States as National Glenwood week during which time Glenwood gas ranges will be exhibited.

The Lowell Gas Light Company has a full and complete line of these modern gray enamel ranges which are giving such general satisfaction everywhere.

Suffice it to say that we are ready to deliver these ranges on short notice.

GAS PIPING FOR NEW HOUSES BELOW COST

With the advent of house heating by gas, which is inevitable in the march of human progress, the Lowell Gas Light Company is blazing a trail among New England Cities with a campaign of house piping that is meeting with the greatest approval on the part of those putting up new houses.

A representative of the company is calling upon all contractors and builders and offering new houses with a proposition that is attracting the most favorable consideration.

Houses are being piped for gas throughout, including outlets in from 4 to 8 rooms together with two outlets in the kitchen, at a total cost of $15.

With the increasing use of Radiantfires and other forms of room and house heating it is becoming more and more evident to the wise home owner that gas outlets in every room are an absolute necessity.

More than 35 houses in Lowell have been thus equipped during the past two months and a number of other prospects are in sight.

CANVASSING FOR NEW STYLE SEMI

Canvassers representing the Lowell Gas Light Company are now calling upon its large number of customers in the interest of a new Semi-Indirect Gas Lighting fixture, which is already meeting with a ready and rapid sale.

This semi-indirect is of the chain type with a newly designed hood which is indeed very pretty. To be appreciated it must be seen and we request those who desire the latest type of semi-indirect fixture in their homes to call at our Appliance Store at phone 25 and a representative will call and put in a light for several days' trial absolutely free of charge.

FREE FRY-GLASS WITH NEW RANGE

Several weeks ago the Lowell Gas Light Company gave as a premium with any Gas Range sold at $100 or more a beautiful set of aluminum ware.

The response was so great that it was found necessary to send to the Aluminum factory for an extra commitment to fill the orders of those who took advantage of the liberal offer.

Feeling that the people of Lowell appreciate real genuine offerings of this kind we have just ordered two sets of Fry-glasses which will be disposed of in the same method, in the very near future.

Watch the daily papers later for announcement of this liberal sale.

FIRST GAS STOVE MANUFACTURED IN 1876

The first gas stove on record was used in 1876 by a baking powder company to demonstrate cake-baking at the Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition. At that time the kerosene stove was in general use, and until the end of the century the gas stove made no great headway.

When about 1900, the quality of kerosene became so poor as to decrease the usefulness of the kerosene stove, its coolness and greatest speed were found to exist in the more dependable gas stove, and the latter grew rapidly in favor.

There are now some 7,000,000 gas cooking appliances in use, and nearly 4,000,000 gas water and room heaters while more than half of the 325 billion cubic feet of gas consumed in the United States in 1921 was used for cooking and heating.

The first elaborate display of gas stoves was made at the Chicago World's Fair, in 1893. In 1901 the first all-steel gas stove was put on the market. In 1910 began the use of white porcelain enamel that has made the gas stove of today a thing of cleanliness and beauty.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Whenever a gas bill is abnormally large there is always a complete explanation for it, when all the facts and circumstances connected with the case are known.

For instance, when you find a sudden or unusual increase in your bill ask yourself:

Does the bill cover the same number of days as the previous bills with which the current bill is compared?

Has the weather been to blame? Has there been sickness in the house? Have I had company during the period?

Have the servants or others used more gas than I am aware of? Have any additional gas appliances been installed during the period?

Have I been wasting gas because my appliances need adjustment? Are there any other circumstances that will account for the increase in my bill?

If you recall no reason, do not go to your neighbors, but go first to the office of the Lowell Gas Light Company and they will do their utmost to help you locate the cause. If they find that a mistake has been made they will cheerfully correct the error. They are there to serve you.

CASES HEARD IN THE DISTRICT COURT

On a finding of guilty to illegally keeping intoxicating liquor, George Labrie, proprietor of a cigar store in Chelmsford street, was sentenced to one month in the house of correction, and fined $100, by Judge Enright in district court this morning. An appeal was taken.

As the result of a raid at 330 Cheever street by Sergt. Winn, Officers Moore and McElroy, last night, Alfred Boland appeared in court today and pleaded guilty to illegal keeping. The officers testified that they found 11 gallons of distilled spirits on the premises, and that they had been watching the place for a long time. Boland paid a fine of $150.

The third illegal keeping case on the blotter this morning concerned Sophie Sararohok, who was continued until Oct. 20.

Frank Balch was arraigned on three violations of the automobile laws and drunkenness. For operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, he was fined $100, and for driving without license or registration, a fine of $10 on each charge, was imposed. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file.

Dominick Bandzevich of Providence, R. I., was ordered to pay a fine of $100 for carrying a pistol without a license. He said he came to this city last Sunday and went to the house of a friend in Fayette street, where he purchased the firearm for $37. He then got drunk and fell into the hands of the law.

To give him a chance to sober off, Felix Poudrier was committed to the house of correction for 20 days.

Edward J. Chaput, who was arrested in Central street by Traffic Officer John Whelan yesterday afternoon, paid a fine of $100, for driving under the influence of liquor. Before imposing sentence, the court remarked that he may hereafter follow the custom of Judge Crosby of Worcester in imposing a two months' house of correction sentence for offences of this nature.

Brooklyn Couple Give Praise to Tanlac for Recovery

"My wife and myself both know Tanlac is a wonderful stomach medicine and tonic, for we have tried it and gladly recommend it to everybody." Is the statement made, recently, by Isidore Kaufman, proprietor of a high-class delicatessen at 112 Ralph ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Since taking Tanlac I have no more indigestion, headaches or dizzy spells, and have gained around 12 pounds. My wife felt tired all the time, had no appetite and her work was a drudge. But now she is a changed woman. In fact, we are both like new people, thanks to Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Third Suitcase Found

Off the straps and the lock easily snapped open.

Overcome by the stench, he says, he quickly clamped the lid of the suitcase shut and notified Chief Pelletier of his gruesome find. He did not look at the contents of the suitcase, he says, but is confident that the odor was that of dead human flesh.

Chief Pelletier called for the suitcase and without opening it or looking at it at the time, took it away with him. No words passed between the Lowell man and the Tyngsboro chief at the time as to the probability of the case containing the woman's head. The man who was on a camping and fishing trip went on about his recreation.

The chief of police of Tyngsboro, he says, made it a point to seek him out the next day. The suitcase was hardly mentioned, he says, but the chief laconically and in a meaning manner mentioned, in a far from casual way, that the search for the head of the woman was still continuing in the vicinity of Dr. Robb's camp.

"I sort of took it as a joke to keep my mouth shut and said nothing at the time," the man said. Since then he has become curious and has spent several sleepless nights wondering about the value of his find. Finally, overcome by the desire to "tell somebody," he made known the story to a few intimate friends.

Chief Pelletier of Tyngsboro and District Attorney Reading will not say the head has been found. There is believed to be a strong possibility however that the head was contained in the suitcase found by the Lowell man and turned over to the Tyngsboro chief.

Has District Attorney Reading, whose case against Doctors Robb and Swops has been characterized as woefully weak in points, an "ace in the hole" in the nature of the missing parts of the dead woman's person? That question is the one receiving the attention of the day.

The man who spoke today of finding the third suitcase claims no particular credit for himself but rather gives the credit for making the find to his companion on the fishing trip, his faithful Scotch terrier.

He says he was proceeding slowly up the Merrimack along the inner channel and the dog was in the bow of the boat. Suddenly he began barking and going through frantic motions as if about to jump over the side. Following the dog's glance the man spied a floating object.

As he made for the object the dog's barking became more violent and he went almost into a frenzy. Getting alongside he saw at once it was a suitcase and immediately lifted it from the water, placed it in the boat, and made for the Tyngsboro shore.

Gas Ranges Make Cooking Easy

UNTIL this year's coal shortage thousands of women never knew the advantage of cooking with gas.

Glenwood gas ranges were made for just such emergencies as this—to do all kinds of cooking easily, quickly and economically. Their all-round ability has been a revelation to many a good housewife.

The Glenwood model shown here will bake, broil and roast as well as the biggest coal range. There's capacity enough with its compact "build" for all the requirements of any ordinary household. The oven is so evenly heated that you can bake two rows of bread or pastry at the same time.

Glenwood "Robertshaw" Oven Heat Controller. Automatically regulates the heat for baking and roasting. Just set the indicator.

Y. W. C. A. DIRECTORS

Reports of International Institute, Health and Girl Reserve Departments Read

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Y.W.C.A. was held Wednesday afternoon in the Association building at 3 o'clock.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Nathan Pulsifer, second vice president. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Louis Olney. The following is from the report of the International Institute read by Miss Fern Graden, executive. Statistical report: Individual service rendered for the month of September, 231 contacts made; type of contacts, visits to clients, 55; reference visits, 30; interviews, 51; making a total of 236. This kind of service rendered: Recruiting and follow-up, 14; interpreting and translating, 114; friendly, 44; medical, 44; legal, 39; employment, 32; domestic adjustment, 24. Total, 311. Cases carried with agencies in community, 52; the board of health, charities department, district court, doctors, hospitals, lawyers, Lowell Guild, Lowell Social Service League, mills, police-women, probation officer and schools. The group service, clubs, total attendance, 185, with five organized clubs for the month. Also the visitors who came to the Institute during the month numbered 48. In closing Miss Graden said: "The outstanding feature in the Institute this month has been our club enrollment. Miss Dorothy Beck has been secured to give several lessons to the Martha Washington club composed of younger Greek girls, on ways to help in the kitchen, taking up such things as the care of milk and milk bottles, setting the table, cooking, etc. Miss Natalie Marshall and Thomas S. Mathe have consented to give courses in dietetics and interior decorating to the Educational club comprised of young Greek women.

Excerpts from the Girl Reserve report follow: As September is the month of beginnings, our big rally came September the 21st, the first meeting of the fall and winter season, when the three high school clubs, the 'Tri-High, Triptoe, and the Highlands, met in Kitson hall for a party and 'cheers from Aquas.' The girls who had represented the three clubs of the Girl Reserve department at the Camp Aquas convention related various incidents of the trip and the convention. Gretta McPherson, Annette Pease, Marion Fletcher and Dorothy Mignault gave the reports.

The two clubs who really got started this month were the White Eagle club (Polish girls) and the Athena club (Greek girls). A club has been formed from the vocational school, also a Junior High School club, which promise to be two very fine groups. An international club, made up of foreign children, meets every Saturday morning for games and story telling. Recreation, which is the fourth part of our program, is being emphasized more this year and is already proving to be very popular with the girls. Especially the basketball; each club hopes to have a basketball team and have the inter-club games.

The schedule of the health education department was read and plans for opening the center given. The schedule has been arranged as follows: One night is to be given over wholly to the girls from the Institute, a cosmopolitan gymnasium class followed by a Greek girls' basketball team. Monday evening classes for adults; Tuesday evening given over to health examinations, followed by basketball practice. Thursday and Friday nights are the sports nights when basketball, bowling and shooting will be taught. Classes for the younger girls are planned for every afternoon in the week. Two committee meetings were held during the month and were well attended.

The report of the cafeteria showed a gain for the month of September in increased meal service, 6,384 meals being the total. The Home department's report showed that 38 transients had stayed at the Y.W.C.A. during the month; that 17 new girls had found homes in the building, and that "all night service," accommodating girls who had missed train connections, was heavy. Several cases were handled in co-operation with the Lowell Social Service League and the Institute.

From the desk report the number of people living in the Institute was 23; the number asking for living accommodations outside the building was 33. Number of persons seeking employment 27; number of employers listing positions, 16. After the reports were read and approved the meeting was turned over to Miss Kathleen Knight, campaign director for the coming finance effort, which will start Oct. 22 with Mrs. Louis Olney captain of teams. Mrs. Nathan Pulsifer on publicity gave report. The campaign organization is progressing quickly and a general rounding up of captains and workers is in progress. The meeting closed informally.

The worst cases of overcrowding in London on record are two cases of 13 persons in a single room.

SHOT TO DEATH WHILE RIDING

Woman Was Shot While Riding With Post in Lonely Crossroads Section

JEFFERSON, Me., Oct. 11.—Fred L. Post, a marine engineer at New London, Conn., will be arraigned here on the charge of murder this afternoon before Recorder George W. Shugar of the Lincoln municipal court.

He was alleged to have killed Mrs. Sybil Estelle Hamilton of Rockland, who was shot yesterday while riding with him in a lonely crossroads section known as Flanders' Corner, between Waldeboro and Jefferson.

It was at first supposed she was shot by a stray bullet, in accordance with the story told by her companion, but an investigation resulted in the discovery of powder marks on her clothing. It was alleged, indicating that the shot was fired at close range. The arrest of Post this morning followed.

Post, who had been living at New London a number of years, returned a week ago to Rockland, where he formerly lived and where a score of years ago he was employed as a special policeman. He boarded at that time at Park-Main hotel, formerly kept by Mrs. Hamilton and her husband, Clinton J. Hamilton, who died two years ago.

Mrs. Hamilton was 53 and leaves a daughter, aged 12. Post is about 45. Post appeared shortly after 3 o'clock at the home of Charles Flanders and said Mrs. Hamilton had been shot. The latter accompanied him to the scene and saw her body beside the road.

He said Post told him he heard a shot and noticed she was steering wildly. He spoke to her and she said she felt dizzy. Then she slumped over the side of the automobile. Post said he took her out of the car, then went for help.

"I didn't have time to bake today" worries many a mother, for the promise to have cake at supper or dinner, must be broken; the kiddies find Mama has not kept her promise, they are disappointed—why should they take it so hard? Drake's Cake can be bought fresh at the nearest delicatessen or grocery—and promises at home can be kept.

TO DISSOLVE THE REICHSTAG

Pres. Ebert Invests Chancellor Stresemann With Authority to Act

Dissolution of Government's Authorization Bill Fails to Pass

BERLIN, Oct. 11. (By the Associated Press.)—President Ebert this afternoon invested Chancellor Stresemann with authority to dissolve the Reichstag in the event that the government's authorization bill, giving the chancellor wide authority in dictation of measures for economic rehabilitation, fails to command the necessary two-thirds majority in that body.

The chancellor immediately informed the coalition party leaders of the alternative confronting the government parties. The socialists thereupon immediately called a caucus with the idea of uniting the party in support of the authorization law.

A minority defection in the ranks of socialists was the threat which hung over the measure, giving rise to fears that it would be defeated when it came up for a final vote, which was expected this afternoon. The socialists went into caucus about 1:30 p. m. and the majority members began a course of persuasion upon the minority element which threatened to abstain from voting. Such an act, it was feared, would prevent the government's obtaining the two-thirds majority required.

MAJORITY REQUIRED.

WHISTLER'S LOWELL SUBJECT OF PAPER

A discussion of the preservation of old houses in Lowell featured the autumn meeting of the Historical Society in Memorial hall last evening, presided over by Alfred P. Sawyer, president.

A paper on "Whistler's Lowell," descriptive of the residence of the family of Major George W. Whistler at the house in Worthen street, which now is the property of the Historical Society, was read by Frederick W. Coburn.

"The Lowell of the artist's infancy," he said, "though it had borne that name but a short time, was far from being the squalid settlement in a wilderness portrayed by some of Whistler's biographers. Georgian doorways, collections of the arts and crafts of colonial and post-revolutionary decades, still tell of resident families among whom the amenities of civilization were traditional. White men and women of good stock had been living during 150 years in East Chelmsford, West Dracut, Middlesex Village and the northern part of Tewksbury, now consolidated within municipal Lowell."

The carelessness of some of Whistler's most noted biographers as regards the Lowell period of his life was cited in the following paragraph: "In 1837 other engagements took Maj. Whistler back to Stonington, Conn., and his family soon followed him. There, in 1838, was born another son who was named 'Kirk Booth.' In referring to this brother of James McNeill Whistler, who died in childhood, the amiable Whistler biographers, Mr. and Mrs. Pennell, make a quite usual error; they call him 'Kirk Booth.' Mr. Eddy, another biographer, calls him 'Kirk,' without giving his middle name. These are minor errors, but they attest the lack of thoroughness with which the first years of Whistler's life and his background have been studied."

MISS MADORE IS TENDERED SHOWER

A shower was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wallace in Westford street in honor of Miss Florence Madore who is to become the bride of

Anthony V. Wallace. Miss Madore was presented a beautiful floor lamp with shade of blue and rose. There were 40 of her girl friends present. The decorations were pretty. Miss Madore was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. A mock marriage was performed with Miss Pauline Wallace as the bride, Miss Irene Bernier as the bridesmaid, Miss Blanche Dagle as the best man and Miss Dorothy Ward as the minister. Miss Helen Waytower played the wedding march. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable entertainment was provided.

THE LAW OF RHODES

Some able propagandists who favor cancellation of the inter-allied war debts, have brought up the "Law of Rhodes" as a principle of international law that in their opinion might be applied to the question of reparations from Germany and the war loans from the United States.

This principle is brought down through the ages from the days of ancient Rome and is said to have appeared in the Pandects of Justinian, the Napoleonic code, and even in the more modern application of international law. It is exemplified by this example: "If in order to buy up a ship, merchandise is thrown overboard, the sacrifice made in everybody's interest must be compensated through everybody's contribution."

Various judges are quoted as showing the application of the law in case of voluntary sacrifice made in the general interest, but providing that said sacrifice was made in the proper manner. It has frequently been applied in maritime cases, and now, some European statesmen think that it would be a fine thing if the old law were applied in the cancellation of debts incurred during the war, some of which the allies claim were in the common interests of civilization. The European propagandists are beginning to shout from the housetops that "the sacrifice made in everybody's interest must be compensated through everybody's contribution." Translated into another form, they say: "The more you stand to lose and the more you shall pay; the more you have lost and the more you shall receive."

American jurists are asked to take up this principle and give an opinion on its bearing on the problem of reparations and inter-allied debts. Despite the fact that we have recently arranged a plan of refunding the war loans to the allies, it appears that the question of cancellation is still being agitated in a manner that indicates a conviction abroad that they will never be paid.

The reference to the "Law of Rhodes" implies that in fighting the Central powers, the allies were fighting our battles as well as their own; and they tell us what a terrible calamity it would have been if the enemy had won; but these writers do not seem to acknowledge that the allies would have been beaten but for the assistance of the United States. Was it not enough to save them from subjugation without having to pay them for what they did to save themselves from impending defeat?

ABOLISH CHILD SLAVERY

Publicly given the evils of child labor in various parts of the country will bring forth the attention of the people throughout the United States the necessity of a national child labor law. The textile industry of the south is not the only one against which the charge of exploiting child labor is made. An equally great offender in this respect is the beet sugar industry which is highly protected by the Fordney-McCumber tariff law. It is reported that there has been a great increase in the number of boys and girls employed in this industry this season.

The national child labor committee of New York and the Children's Bureau of the U. S. department of labor recently investigated the employment of children in the sugar beet industry and reported serious conditions. Thousands of children, fully a fourth of them under ten years of age, were found toiling in the fields from nine to eleven hours a day. Not only were these children deprived of an opportunity to attend school in the spring and autumn, but they were in many instances contracting physical deformities by reason of their labor and hardship.

Speaking of the inquiry that was made in Utah, the "American Child," a magazine published by the national child labor committee, said: "We found that some rural schools were closed on account of beet field needs." Miss Alice K. McFarland, chief of the welfare division of the Kansas industrial court, made a survey of conditions in the beet fields of that state and called them "deplorable." "It is a common thing to see little rats with long, sharp knives cutting tops from beets," she said. "In many cases they work from 6 o'clock in the morning until nearly dark, with only a short stop for lunch."

It is to put a stop to this form of child slavery that we have an anti-child labor campaign in progress during the present week. Conditions demand a prompt remedy, and congress is expected to pass the necessary legislation at the short session in December. If such an amendment is proposed by a two-thirds vote of both houses of congress, then it will go to the states for ratification, and when ratified by three-fourths of the states, it will become effective. That was the course adopted in passing the prohibition amendment and we believe the child labor amendment will be readily adopted. Child slavery must be abolished.

AN ALARMING CRIME EPIDEMIC

New York city is now in the grip of what the newspapers designate as the worst robbery epidemic in the city's history. The records of burglary insurance companies as well as those of the police department bear out this statement. It seems that New York is infested by gangs of professional bandits who carefully plan the time, place and manner of every robbery they intend to make. They are well armed and usually overcome the occupants, if any, of the places they rob. In many instances they get away with hundreds of dollars and stores, often carrying off loot that amounts to many thousands of dollars.

The question arises, as to how this epidemic is to be met. The police seem to be helpless to stamp it out, and the men engaged in it are evidently not under the influence of religion so that they might be restrained by any appeal of that kind. In spite of the fact that in some quarters where a different policy might be expected to prevail, there is a plea for greater freedom for young people in following their own inclinations in matters of faith and morals and consequently also in the action resulting from their convictions in regard to both subjects. Apparently the laws of the land are scoffed at by many of the young people of today and it is hardly to be expected that more freedom will increase their respect for law and order, not to speak of their attitude toward the deaconess which too many regard as obsolete.

If each generation adopts a new religious belief according to its lights,

Was You Clever

"Days," said teacher, addressing the fifth grade, "if I stand with my back to the sun at midday what have I on my right hand?" James, from a far corner of the classroom, answered "Fingers!" And yet he got into trouble over it.

Very Thoughtful Man

"You should take a vacation, old man," said Jackson. "You're working too hard and it's water nonsense. Why, you have all the money you need and more." "I know that," assented Johnson, "but I've got to provide for my children's lives somehow."

Working It Out

"Why don't you discharge your present doctor and see if somebody else can't help you? Here he's had you in bed for three weeks now and you seem to be getting worse all the time." "I would make a change, but this fellow owes me $50 and his bill books up only $45 to date. I've got to work it out of him somehow."

Happy Water

One came into a Minnesota village one day and inquired of the restaurant proprietor: "Got any squirrel whiskey?" "No," said the restaurant man, "but I can slip you a little Old Crow." "Aye, don't want to," said Old. "Aye, don't want to," said Old. "Aye, don't want to," said Old.

According to Orders

A grocer's boy hailed a vessel in dock at Liverpool. The mate gruffly asked him what he wanted. "I've got some vegetables for the ship," was the reply. "All right, you needn't come aboard. Throw them up one at a time," called the mate, and then stood ready to receive the expected packages. "Aha," thereupon, shouted the lad as he threw a dried pea at the mate. "I've got a sack of these," he roared Sunday Herald.

No Lady Tramps

"We don't see any lady tramps," remarked the idler. The philosopher, as usual, was ready to discuss any proposition that came up. "That is easily explained," he began. "Shoot," assented the other. "A tramp depends on a certain clothing," the philosopher continued. "Well," the visitor supposed a woman is going around in cast-off short skirts when other women are wearing long ones? You'll never see any lady tramps."

Lucky Wasn't Lucky

Lucky, a Boston bull pup owned by M. W. Messing of Graceland, Md., was the wealthiest dog in the world until Mr. J. W. Corrigan performed an operation on him and removed $2000 worth of diamond rings and 36 cents in small change from the dog's stomach. At first the rings were believed to be stolen, but Mrs. Messing remembered putting them in an apron pocket while working in the kitchen. Lucky had been playing with the apron and suspicion fell upon the dog. Mr. Messing placed several cheap rings in Lucky's accustomed corner and spied on the pup from the kitchen window. Lucky sniffed the rings and unconsciously lapped them up. An X-ray examination and the operation soon followed.

Very Mean Lord

Cortland Bleeker said at a broker's banquet at Coney Island: "We hear a lot about the tricks the broker plays on the poor public, but what of the tricks that the great money kings play on the poor broker? The average money king treats his broker as Lord Eldon treated Betty. Lord Eldon, you know, was entertaining a few friends at a dinner in a tavern, and he dropped a guinea on the floor while making up the cash for the bill. Well, he couldn't find the guinea, so he said to Betty, the maid, when she came in: 'Betty, I've dropped two guineas. See if you can retrieve them for me.' Betty soon found one guinea and Lord Eldon slipped it in his pocket and rose with his friends to go. When you find that other guinea, Betty,' he said, 'keep it for your tip.'"

A Londoner, one day, while waiting for the city train

All day Redneck way.

I said, "Come take a stroll with me." "The car is late," he said. "And if you'll wait an instant, I'll check my car," "your grip," said I.

A service station just passed me. "Gas," I remarked. "Petrol," said he. A daredevil went lumbering by. "A year," said he, "a truck," said I.

I stumbled over what had been a salmon can; he said, "a tin." Then a car I offered cigarettes. "A tin," said he, "a pill," said I. "Have you an extra match?" I said. He chuckled. "Infectious," instead. Then paused to dial some cash from me. "My pants," I said, "trousers," said he.

The English are a curious race. I'll say they are, won't you? supposed to speak our language. They yet so seldom do. They yet so seldom do.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Speaking about plants, a friend of mine tried an experiment the other day which he says proved its worth. In a vase with some fresh cut flowers he placed an aspirin tablet, and the life of the flowers was preserved for several days longer than they would ordinarily. This does not prove that aspirin is an elixir of life.

Add to the names of those eligible to compete for the rating of highest man in town that of Secretary Wells of the chamber of commerce. Since his assistant, Mr. Gallagher, resigned a fortnight ago the genial secretary has been gracefully carrying a double burden. "You never know your capabilities until you have to use them," he smilingly remarked when asked if the added load was not irksome.

The Union Pacific railroad system has issued a booklet, entitled "All Grade Crossings—Be Who Hysteria Is Safe." The following information is given in the booklet and is of interest to all: In the last five years, 9101 persons (almost twice as many as were killed at the Battle of Gettysburg) have sacrificed their lives at grade crossings in the United States through failure to stop, look and listen. The final paragraph in the booklet is as follows: "Grade crossing accidents would absolutely cease if every driver would stop, look and listen at every grade crossing—won't you do it?"

They tell me the boys of Centralville tendered Walter Boye, well known baseball player, a wonderful reception last Monday night on the eve of his entry into the matrimonial ranks. Mr. Boye is deserving of the many congratulations extended him by his friends. A lover of clean sport, he made many records by his ability on the ball diamond, and also by his gentlemanly conduct off the field. He is a member of an athletic family, as his brothers, Raymond and Arthur, well known on the ball grounds within recent memory. It is a foregone conclusion that Walter will make a "hit" in the nuptial league.

Headmaster Henry H. Harris of the high school rightfully takes exception to the propaganda going around to the effect that the High School Alumni association is opposed to Sunday football at Alumni field. As president of the association, Mr. Harris wishes to correct this prevalent misunderstanding. The alumni of the high school, he says, are strongly in favor of Sunday outdoor recreation, but there is a statute in the laws of the commonwealth which prohibits the Sunday playing of football and other games, to which admission, directly or indirectly, is charged. To allow the use of Alumni field in violation of this statute, the high school alumni would make itself liable to court action.

Francis Heyen, president of the local branch of the Assyrian Mar Yacoub society, has received from Assyria a Tiger House plant similar to those that grew in the hanging garden of Babylon. Heyen, who is a wonderful gardener, stands an amount of neglect without deteriorating in the least. The sun fails to affect them, the cold likewise, and some of them have been known to go several weeks without water. Many people have called at Mr. Heyen's home on Westford street to see the plant and, as he realizes it is a novelty, he is extending an invitation to the curious to visit his home any Sunday and he will gladly show the plant and give any information concerning it that he can.

"Notice many changes?" a man standing in the square, who had been in Lowell for 10 years was asked by a friend this noon.

"I should say so, quite a few," said the visitor. "Most of them are for the better, I think. That Fletcher street line, however, is as dead as ever. I see been waiting here 20 minutes for a car and one hasn't shown up yet."

Told the line had been discontinued for so long many years, the visitor said. "Well, then, I can savvy all the changes are for the better. I thought that I had noticed one that was for the worse."

WOMAN INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

Margaret Bralley, a resident of St. Patrick's home on Cross street, was painfully injured early last night when she was struck and knocked down by an automobile operated and owned by Joseph P. Lawrenson of Crosby St. She was taken to St. John's hospital, where it was found that she was suffering from several abrasions, a laceration of the head, and a possible fracture of the shoulder. At the hospital this afternoon it was stated that she was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

NOT CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Thomas B. Higgins, local attorney whose candidacy for school committeeman, was announced yesterday by some of his friends, today denied he had authorized the statement and added that he has no intention of seeking public office.

"I have not considered seeking a place on the school committee," declared Mr. Higgins, "and whoever made yesterday's announcement for me did it without my knowledge or sanction."

Berton Braley's Daily Poem The Mechanic Speaks

Maybe I'm "gross, material and blind,"
Maybe my soul's become "commercialized,"
But I'll admit, somehow, I cannot find
What evil lurks in being "standardized."
Standardized tools make work a simpler thing.
Standardized roads and railways give to man
Broader horizons, greater scope and bring
New wonders for his seeking eyes to scan.

"Standardization" gives a million men
What once a thousand, at the most, might own.
It multiplies again and yet again
Comforts that would be otherwise unknown.
Lightens the load of weariness and toil,
Makes steel the beast of burden, and redeems
The plowman from his bondage to the soil.
It does not tie men to material things,
But makes them serve him in a better way;
Give toilers leisure for the thoughts of kings,
For books and music, laughter, love and play.
"Standardized thought?" Ah yes, I've heard the phrase,
It sounds like something ominous, in sooth;
Yet since the first beginning of his days
Man's thought has struggled for a standard—Truth!
It adds new speed to thought, new breadth to dreams,

FIRE PREVENTION DRIVE CONTINUES UNABATED

Today marks the entering of the last half of Fire Prevention week and finds the enthusiasm of those behind the drive in Lowell no whit abated. Flushed by the success met earlier in the week in driving home to the school children of Lowell the need for precautionary measures against fire the crusaders have commenced to preach the same gospel to adults.

Carelessness is the main cause of all fires and by constantly guarding against thoughtless actions we have the greatest of all insurance against the depredations of fire.

Fire losses cannot be eliminated but we have learned that they can be greatly reduced. Statistics for last year from cities of over 200,000 population where fire prevention committees of chambers of commerce functioned throughout the year indicate an average net capital loss of $3.27. This figure is 30% lower than the average of the entire nation and 10% lower than the average of all cities with more than 20,000 and less than 200,000 inhabitants, we are informed by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Encouraged by this record, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has launched a fire waste contest among local chambers of commerce and civic organizations numbered in its membership. The plan and details have been worked out in conjunction with the National Board of Fire Underwriters and the National Fire Waste Council. One of the purposes of the competition is to give recognition and credit to the chambers which are conducting continuous fire prevention campaigns. It is felt that these efforts are producing results and therefore should be stimulated in a manner which will encourage other chambers to appoint committees to carry on the work in their communities.

In order that cities of approximately the same size will be competing, they will be divided into four classes according to population. Grading will be based on the yearly accomplishments in actual reduction of fire losses, education of the general public, and permanent structural and protective improvements.

Although this is the first attempt to apply the competitive idea to the fire waste problem nationally, similar plans have been successfully used to stimulate interest and arouse support in conservation projects when conducted on a smaller scale. That this contest has great possibilities is evinced by the support and co-operation of the leaders in the fire prevention movement who have approved the general plan.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family remedy made quickly and easily. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good. Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly loosens the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COMMENCE CLASSES IN CITIZENSHIP

The first session of the classes in civics, government and English were held at the Y.M.C.A. last evening. About 65 men and women who are on the road to citizenship and have applied for either first or second papers have enrolled in these classes.

H. T. Toomey of the Lowell high school is the instructor of the course in civics and government, and Robert L. Trinker is teaching the course in English. These classes are open to any one who is interested in these two subjects, there being no charge for enrollment or registration.

ADJOINING FOREIGN MISSIONS

The first meeting of the "We Will Help-U" society for the aid of foreign missions was held at the auditorium of the Notre Dame academy yesterday. The entertainment program consisted of a short playlet, followed by the singing of appropriate selections by the graduates '24. This is the second year of the society which is comprised of about 25 senior members of the academy. The society did good work last year, sending aid to the foreign missions in various ways and it is expected that this year will prove equally successful.

The Best of All Medicines, Says Lowell Man

Dreco Relieves Kidney and Liver Trouble—Driving Away Gastritis and Constipation.

It is strange that people will disregard the early symptoms of stomach trouble and wait till they are down sick, unable to attend to their duties. Stomach disorders lead to a long train of other troubles. The liver, kidneys and bowels are closely allied with the stomach and soon become affected.

Mr. Albert Wheeler well known in Lowell and vicinity, says: "My stomach was in bad shape, was weak, souring the food I ate and causing belching and suffering. I felt bloated and acid rising from my stomach made me feel terrible."

My liver and kidneys became infected, my system being clogged by the poisonous backwash of constipation. Each day I felt worse. The suffering was unbearable; then I started taking Dreco.

This wonderful medicine improved my condition. And after the third bottle all

Important To All Mothers

YOUR children can always be charmingly dressed if you will starch their wash clothes with Linit—the remarkable starch discovery.

Even ordinary cotton goods, napkins, table-cloths, curtains, etc., have a cool, soft, pliable finish, like expensive linen, when starched with Linit.

A New Starch Discovery

LINIT is a scientific starch discovery—distinctly different from ordinary starches. After Linit is thoroughly dissolved, according to directions and is ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING LIKE

WATER—with a "milky" appearance.

Be sure to use Linit according to directions, and unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is why Linit goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches, and is much easier to iron with.

Linit penetrates the fabric, helps prevent wear, and prolongs the life of the material.

YOU will be interested to know that Linit was originally developed for the use of the great Fabric Makers to give that smartly fashionable finish now so much in vogue.

With Linit you can have your shirt waists look like new. The children can have their garments finished in the daintiest style, equal to the most beautiful French finish.

Linit is sold by all grocers, 10c

MRS. ADA FRICK
PERRYBURG, OHIO

"YOU can be just as healthy, strong and happy as I am," said one woman to her neighbor after listening to the description of her ailments,—"if you will take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My condition was very similar to yours, I suffered from those awful bearing down pains, weakness, backache, nervousness and headaches until I could hardly drag around. Today I am strong, well and happy because I followed the advice of a friend who had been greatly benefited by this old-fashioned root and herb medicine."

Nearly fifty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. prepared from medicinal roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its fame has spread from shore to shore. You will now find in every community or neighborhood some woman who has been restored to health by its use, or has some friend who has. Therefore ask your neighbor.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials such as the following are on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and prove the merit of this medicine. Therefore no woman should continue to suffer from such ailments.

Mrs. Frick Tells of Her Experience

PERRYBURG, OHIO—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my sides all the time. I can't remember just how long I suffered but it was for some time. One day I was talking with a neighbor and I told her how I was feeling and she said she had been just like I was with pains and nervous troubles and she took the Vegetable Compound and it helped her. So then I went and got some and I certainly recommend it for it is good. Whenever I see a woman who is sick I try to get her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ADA FRICK, R. # VETERAN "CASEY" STENGEL ENTERS BASEBALL'S HALL OF FAME

THERE IS JOY AGAIN IN MUDVILLE AS MIGHTY CASEY SWATS THE BALL

Immortal Casey Who Brought Tears to Eyes of Mudville Fans by Striking Out, Made Good Yesterday Through His 1923 Incarnation, Charles "Casey" Stengel, Who Belted Blow That Broke Tie and Brought Victory to Giants in First Game of World Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(By the Associated Press.) The immortal, mighty Casey who brought tears to the eyes of Mudville fans by striking out made good yesterday through his 1923 incarnation, Charles "Casey" Stengel, who belted a blow that broke the tie and brought victory to the New York Giants in the first game of the world series. The score, thanks to Casey's powerful punch that sent the ball to the left-center field bleacher for a five-to-four victory, was five to four.

There must be joy today in Kansas City, for that is Casey's home town. But any rate there is joy in Casey's heart, for he has been dreaming of being a world's series hero ever since 1910, when the manager of the Kansas City club told him he couldn't hit and fanned him out to Kankakee. In those days Casey was but a raw recruit, a lumbering, walking and talking misanthrope who thought he was some puny little fellow. And when that Kansas City manager told him he wasn't a hard enough hitter for the league, Casey spoke right up.

"Some of these bash days you all gonna be sorry to let me go," and now Casey's judgment in himself has been vindicated.

Knee-Knocking Excitement

It was the same sort of situation that the original Casey faced that Stengel experienced yesterday afternoon in the ninth inning of his knee-knocking excitement producer as ever was played in a baseball park. The score was tied, four and four, two Giants had hit the dust, and the count upon Casey was three and two.

Thousands of spectators, seated in the broad sweep of the stands and bleachers, waited breathlessly for that next ball to come from the fist of "Bullet Joe" Bush, the Yankee slinger.

Bush wound up; his arm came sailing around; the infielders, their feet apart, waited for the ball to come on their toes. Bush loosed the ball. Straight as a rifle bullet it came down toward the plate, and Casey Stengel's came forward again, met the ball on the nose as they say, and sailed away up, over the heads of the infield to the outfield past the left-center fielders. Fifteen yards beyond them it struck earth and bounded on toward the fence of the bleachers, under the very nose of the wildly shouting fans crowded there.

Around the bases sailed Casey, at first, then second. It seemed he would never get around. Then he passed third and the encouraging voice of old Huckle Jennings, the coach, pointed him to his car.

HOLIDAY PROGRAM BY CHINESE STUDENTS

China's "Double Ten" twelfth anniversary of the republic was celebrated in Lowell yesterday by the Chinese students at the Lowell Textile school. Several instructors at the school and the secretarial staff of the Y.M.C.A. were guests at the program conducted in the Y.M.C.A.

The Chinese Students' club had an additional guests a number of the Chinese residents of the city. A banquet was held in Chin Lee's restaurant at 6 o'clock and followed by games and entertainments at the "Y" until nearly midnight.

Club members participating were: W. P. Chen, Hawkins Nih, K. C. Lee, Clarence Wu, E. L. Kuo, C. K. Kuo, Chester Liu, and T. C. Wu.

GOLF ATTRactions AT LOCAL CLUBS WILL APPEAL TO SCORES OF CLUB SWINGERS TOMORROW

Columbus day offers several stellar attractions for Lowell golfers, principally at Longmeadow and at the Vesper Country Club.

At Vesper St. W. Forrest and Walter Clarkson meet in the final match for the club championship and it has all the earmarks of a battle royal. While many are inclined to believe that Forrest is too brilliant for his older opponent, others who have watched Clarkson recently in practice rounds know his game is sound and will take a lot of punishment.

At Longmeadow on the holiday there will be a medal tournament with three gross, three net and one special prize. On Saturday and Sunday there will be prizes offered for the best 36 hole card turned in. The player who scores the best 18 holes for the three days will receive a golf bag and complete set of clubs.

BROTHER AND SISTER HOLD TWO GOLF TITLES

By N.E.A. Service

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—For the first time in the history of golf in America two national titles are held by members of the same family.

In mid summer Dexter Cummings, shooting a brand of golf that would have been hard to match in any kind of tournament, surprised the smart set by stepping out and winning the national intercollegiate championship, defeating among others Rudy Knipper, Iowa star, who had starred at Brookline in the 1922 national amateur.

Last week Edith Cummings, not to be outdone by her younger brother, wrote another surprising chapter to the history of the golfing year by winning the women's national championship.

Unforgettable Play by Frisch

In the fifth inning, the Yankees were prevented from tying the score by Frisch on a remarkable play. Ruth had hitped down the left field foul line with one out and Bob Stengel strode to the plate. Meusel hit a twister to short right, Frisch made a great run, caught over his shoulder, wheeled in his track and whipped the ball perfectly to the plate, catching Ruth. The score became tied in the seventh, when Hank Maguire, going to third, (Ruth then hit for three bases, scoring Baneroff and Maguire. That tied the score and the Giants took control.

Then the ninth and Casey.

FOOTBALL

The Belvidere Seconds will play the first game of the season at Shedd park next Sunday afternoon.

The Wanderers would like to know where the Oakleaves get the 5 to 0 victory. With only one full period to go, the Wanderers claim the Oakleaves left the field and refused to listen to their own referee. The Wanderers were hearing at the time by a 5 to 0 count. If the Oakleaves would like a return game, let them speak up, says Manager David Burke of the Wanderers.

The Dodgers accept the challenge of the Butler Bulldogs for a Columbus day game on the North Common at 10 a.m.

The Acre eleven is looking for games with any 15-50-pound team in the city. For games, call 5893-J or see Manager Kelleher at the corner of High and Chestnut streets between 5 and 7 o'clock any evening.

The Lowell Cubs and the Buffaloes campus last Sunday afternoon. Jean played in a scoreless tie on the Textile campus. The Cubs did not play the day as scheduled, but arrangements have been made to line both teams up at 10 o'clock on Columbus day.

The following players were asked to report for practice tonight at 5:30: Bourret, C. and B. Marquis, Grannan, Jean, Christian, Buckley, McNamara, Moulton, Watson, Keefe, South, Benard, DuCharme, Goyette, Cohen.

The Parkes challenge any 130-135 pound team in the city for a Saturday afternoon game at 10 a.m. To date this challenge has been met by the Wanderers. The Wanderers will play the Parkes on Saturday at 10 a.m. To date this challenge has been met by the Wanderers.

The Belvidere Seminoles will play the Shedd Park Juniors next Saturday and the Tor. Wanderers eleven on Oct. 20. The Seminoles team is composed of Purcell, Cahill, McGowan, Griffin, Riley, Fielding, Bechard, McLaughly, Scanlon, Beecher, Hill, Curtis and McElahan. Games may be arranged by calling 1455-W and asking for Eddie.

Cadets and Butlers Clash on Gridiron Tomorrow — Lineups Are Posted

The stage is all set for the Cadet-Butler football game at Alumni field tomorrow afternoon when all roads will lead to the scene of the much-discussed clash for the amateur football championship of the city. The grand finale in practice sessions, for both teams was held last night and only a light signal drill will be indulged in tonight. Profound secrecy has pervaded the doings in the rival camps since the announcement of the contest, which leads the fans to suspect that several surprises will be offered on the afternoon of the game.

Butler A.A. O.M.I. CADETS

Connelly, re. Curran, Crowe, Sullivan, re. Egan, Tadin, Bickard, re. Brown, McElahan, re. C. Payton, O'Brien, Winters, re. Coughlin, Whiteley, re. Lemoine, J. McMahon, re. Posteler, Nelligan, re. D. O'Connor, Conway, re. J. J. O'Connor, Loefer, Britton, re. Murphy, Toohy, Rogers, re. Trovile, Henry.

The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock with competent and disinterested officials in charge of the festivities. The stands along the sidelines which were used to good advantage by the high school students last Saturday, will be available tomorrow afternoon for the spectators. The possible draw of the gridiron. Special car service to and from the grounds will be provided by the street railway company, while arrangements are being made to announce the winners of the series returns between the periods.

Butlers' Practice

An important practice session will be held by the Butlers tonight at 7 o'clock. All players must be on hand as final instructions, etc. for the championship game tomorrow will be given.

Cup For Winner

To the winner of the Butler-Cadet game will go the Reahr trophy, emblematic of the city football championship. Its donor, Frank Reahr, will be at the game ready to present the cup to the captain of the winning team. The trophy is of handsome design, and later will be suitably inscribed by Mr. Reahr.

Belvidere in Field

The Belvidere A.A. under the managerial rein of Maurice Conroy, will get into action for the first time this season when they play the strong Tremont team at Alumni field on Columbus day next Sunday afternoon.

The Belvidere will have one of the strongest and fastest teams in the city when they take the field, and their large following is confident of soon seeing them perform against the Cadets or Butlers. The Belvidere firmly believe that they are entitled to a crack at the city championship and already they have challenged the winner of the Cadet-Butler game. Last year, they defeated the Cadets in a well played game at Alumni field.

LOWELL TEXTILE AT HARTFORD TOMORROW

It will be "On to Hartford" for the members of the Lowell Textile school football squad tomorrow morning when Coach Bailey will lead the team for its game with Trinity in the Connecticut city. Besides the coaches and the squad of 20 men, the team will be accompanied by a large crowd of loyal rooters and members of the faculty. Assistant Coach John Dandy was an interested spectator at the Worcester Tech-Trinity game last Saturday and came back to Lowell with considerable information on Trinity plays.

Farm Prices Trend Upward

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Farm prices trended upward during September and on Oct. 1, the index figure of prices paid to producers for the principal farm crops was 27.3 per cent higher than a year ago, 25.6 per cent than two years ago, but 11.1 per cent lower than the average of the last ten years on Oct. 1. These statistics were announced today by the department of agriculture which said the price level increased about 2.2 per cent during September, while the level for the last 10 years decreased about 4.2 per cent during that month.

LOWELL HIGH WILL MEET MANCHESTER

The high school football team yesterday engaged in its last strenuous practice session in preparation for the Manchester high game on the holiday. Only a light workout was programmed for this afternoon.

Confident because of their well-earned victory against Concord high last Saturday, the members of the team will go to Manchester tomorrow with a determination to annex a second consecutive victory over a New Hampshire rival. The up-river team is much heavier than the locals, but as speed has come to be recognized as an essential attribute on the gridiron (Katie Rockne's Notre Dame outfit, for instance) the Liston-coach-elect is not worrying.

Practically the same lineup that started against Concord last week will face Manchester at the opening whistle, and if their recent performance can be taken as a criterion of their ability, Manchester will have a tough proposition on her hands.

REMARKABLE PICTURES OF THRILLING FEATURES OF FIRST SERIES GAME

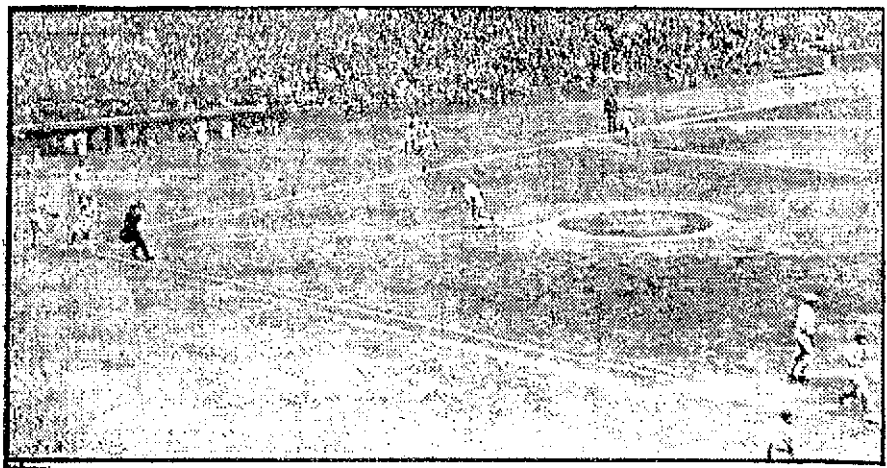

STENGEL'S HOMER FINISHES IT

In the last inning, Casey Stengel, center fielder, and veteran of many a hard-fought campaign, poled a mighty home run to deep center. The camera caught him coming into the plate, bringing home the run that meant a Giant victory.

THE MIGHTY BABE OUT AT HOME

This shows how Babe Ruth lost a big chance to score what would have been a valuable run for the Yankees by failing to slide into the plate in the fifth. After tripping he tried to score on Bob Meusel's fly of which Frisch made an astounding catch in short center. A great peg by Frisch to Snyder doubled Ruth. Billy Evans is the umpire.

WHEN YANKEE ROOTERS WENT WILD

WRESTLING CARNIVAL AT BUNTING PARK

An open-air wrestling carnival with four well matched sets of grapplers listed to perform is the attraction arranged by Battery B for the holiday afternoon at Bunting park. Last season the Battery staged a number of indoor matches and they were among the most interesting seen here in some time. Bob Johnson, the well known Batteries wrestler, who was forced to lay off because of a fractured arm received in an accident while at work, had charge of the high class card, and he is the "man behind" the program announced for tomorrow. Johnson knows the game from every angle, and hence his knowledge of the game enables him to put up satisfactory matches. For his main event tomorrow he has hooked up Charlie Marshall, known as the "bull dog of Maine" who will back Prof. Arthur Davis, instructor at Tufts college in a bout for the New England light heavyweight championship.

Bill Rudy of Boston, and Kid Roberts of Lowell are down to clash in the semi-final for the middleweight title. Tiger Pearson, of the Battery, and Charlie Zevalls, Haverhill champion, will hook up in one preliminary, while Kid Pomeroy of the Battery and Jim Donnelly of this city will perform in the opening. The first bout will go on at 2 o'clock.

To Mike Menosky, outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, goes a new and unique distinction. Coming to the bat with the bases filled, Mike worked the pitcher for a base on balls. That base on balls indirectly cleared the bases, scored three runs (how come?) Well, listen and you will be convinced that almost anything can happen in the very uncertain game of baseball.

In the first game of the final series of the season between Boston and Washington, Menosky came to the bat with two down and the bases filled. He worked the pitcher until the count stood three balls and two strikes. Then he fouled off a half dozen pitches. On each pitch the base runners were off with the delivery, in order to advance the most probable bases in case Menosky hit a fly. Pitcher Zahiser of Washington finally pitched one that was wide of the plate, making the fourth ball, entitling the batsman to first and all runners to advance one base.

BEFORE THE BATTLE

A long line of fans waited patiently for hours outside the Yankee Stadium before the first battle between the Yankees and Giants for the world's baseball supremacy. Many remained in line all night, keeping the light of their baseball enthusiasm glowing with "hot-dog" sandwiches and peanuts. Not all had to stand in line, however. Many had reserved seats, but arrived at the park early anyway. Among those who came a long ways to see the games were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Eldredge of Raton, New Mexico. They are shown inset.

At the time Menosky received the base on balls, Shortstop Mitchell was on third base, catcher Walters was on second and George Burns on first. All runners were going at full speed on the fourth ball pitched to Menosky. Burns, going from first to second, rounded that base at least 30 feet in the direction of third. Catcher Ruel of the Washington club took in the situation at a glance and snapped a hurried throw to second that should have caught Burns at least 20 feet from the bag.

Burns, realizing that he would be an easy out if the peg was accurate, stood flat-footed. Fortunately for Burns the ball struck just in front of Beckinpugh who was handling the throw, bounding into centerfield. As a result all three runners scored on Menosky's base on balls aided by Ruel's bad throw. Had not the throw been bad, the inning would have closed in a most unusual manner. It would have been necessary for the umpire to permit a run to score after the side had been retired. It happened to be the umpire.

WORLD SERIES SIDE-LIGHTS

"One Eye" Connolly Among the Notables Present—
"Blindman" Also on Hand

Stengel Needed Crowd to Be at Best—Venders Sold 57 Miles of "Dogs"

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(By the Associated Press) One of the prominent "gate crashers" to exhibit himself yesterday was "Tammany" Young, the terror of ticket takers. "Tammany" won't tell how he got in for nothing, as at least three more games are to be played.

"One Eye" Connolly, who boasts that he couldn't be kept out of jail if a big sporting event was on there, got in, but kept hidden.

Day before yesterday when the Giants were at practice in the Polo grounds, "Casey" Stengel was being joshed by his mates for his inability to hit the offerings of the rookie pitchers. Casey tried time and again, but couldn't for the life of him hit one on the nose.

"What's the matter, Casey?" asked George Kelly. "Aw, I can't do nothing 'till I get a crowd around," Casey replied. And when Casey got his home run in the ninth yesterday and the 55,000 fans cheered, Kelly remembered said: "I do declare Casey sure knows his stuff."

One of the most interested fans at the game sat in a box just behind home plate. He was all dressed to kill and beside him sat a fair fan. He was recognized as the same pitiful figure who sits on a Broadway corner at night with a sign on his chest: "Please help the blind."

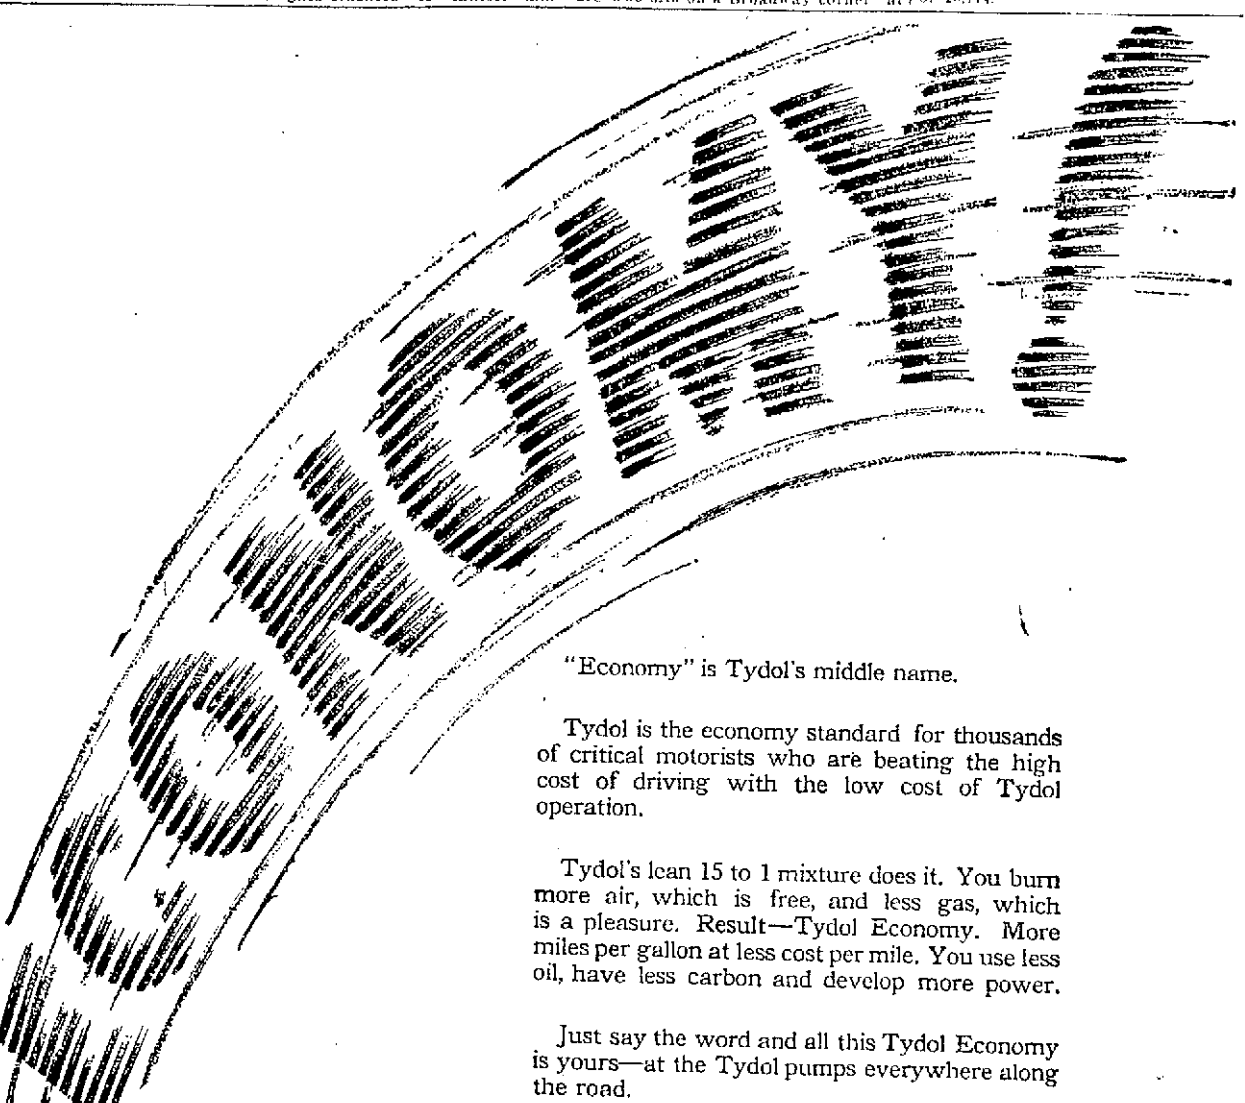

The vendors of fan foods had a profitable day. The vendor-in-chief, estimating a frankfurter to be five inches in length and a small paper bag to hold 25 peanuts, said he had sold 57 miles of sausage and a half a million of the pods from the fabaceous plants that grow in the southland.

Pitcher John Scott's 71-year-old father came all the way from down south to see the series, sat alongside Kenecaw Mountain Landis, baseball's commissioner-general.

Old Amos Rustie, a Giant of years gone by, had to stay at the Polo Grounds all day but heard the result over the telephone. Rustie is day watchman at the Giants' grounds.

Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indianapolis American Association club, who has watched every world series since Christy Mathewson was a rookie, declared it was the most thrilling game he had ever seen.

ECHO FROM THE CIVIL WAR

These assembled talesmen represent the first mixed jury ever drawn in the United States. They were impaneled in October, 1867, to try Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, on an indictment charging treason. The trial was never held because of the writ of amnesty issued by President Johnson, which pardoned all participants in the rebellion. This rare print, one of the six permitted to be taken, was found between the leaves of an old book recently sold at auction in Richmond, Va.

The bout had a turbulent finish with Harry Ertle, the champion's hand-picked referee, rendering three separate decisions—draw, win for Stribling, draw again.

LOWELL MEN BACK FROM CONVENTION

Charles E. Anderson of this city, secretary of the local branch of the International Molders' union of America, has returned from the convention of the organization, which was held at Cleveland, O. This was the first convention of the union in five years and was attended by about 40 delegates from all over the country and Canada. During the convention Mr. Anderson reported on local conditions pertaining to the molders' strike at the Saco-Lowell and Kitson foundries and also made a general report of labor conditions in Lowell. The convention lasted three weeks. Mr. Anderson was the only Lowell delegate at the convention.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press) Controversial issues having been disposed of at the convention of the American Federation of Labor yesterday with decision against participation in a labor party and refusal to adopt a resolution favoring recognition of soviet Russia, the convention today began the work of cleaning its slate.

CHANGE IN MAIL DELIVERY ROUTES

A re-routing of all the Centralville mail delivery routes and several of the Pawtucketville routes, for the purpose of bringing to the residents of those sections better mail service, went into effect yesterday.

This re-routing was made possible by the opening of the Centralville postal station and means that the residents of these sections will get two complete deliveries every day.

Every carrier operating from the Centralville station has had a little new territory added to his route to take up the time formerly used in going from and to the main postoffice. By these little savings from each man, it has been possible for an additional delivery to be added to the two deliveries in the business section of Bridge street so that, beginning yesterday, three deliveries are made there: the first between the hours of 8 and 9, the second at noon, and the third and last late in the afternoon. This additional delivery puts the business houses in Centralville on the same footing as the business establishments in other parts of the city.

Under the new routing every street in Centralville where there are sidewalks, street lights and 50 per cent of the house lots occupied, as the post-office regulations state is necessary for delivery of mail, now receives two complete deliveries a day where formerly one delivery a day was all that was allowed.

In Pawtucketville the system of deliveries has been greatly improved. Varnum avenue is covered twice a day now to the city limits where formerly two deliveries were made to the Lowell General hospital and only one delivery made beyond that point. Draught street and Sixth avenue extension also receive two foot deliveries a day where formerly the district was covered once a day by an automobile delivery.

In this section there were also numerous families whose mail was delivered to stores at the end of the former route or at boxes situated some distance from their homes. All this is done away with under the new system and a foot carrier visits each street twice each day.

As before stated, a street, under postoffice regulations, must have a sidewalk, street lights, and 50 per cent of the house lots built up before becoming eligible for mail deliveries.

The work of re-arranging the routes in both Centralville and Pawtucketville was done by Albert Willis, assistant superintendent of mails, and George Hunt, foreman of carriers. Both of these men have been working on this proposition for several weeks and Postmaster Delisle gave them great credit for their efficient handling of the work.

The postmaster, in speaking of the changes today, said that under the new routes Centralville was profiting by the establishment of the new station and Pawtucketville was also coming in for a good deal of the profit. He explained this by saying that, insofar as the postoffice is concerned, these two districts are close together and a saving in one can easily be used to benefit of the other.

NATIONAL REFERENDUM
The members of the Lowell chamber of commerce are to be asked to ballot on a national referendum being taken in the matter of the national forestry policy. Eight specific recommendations are provided calling for both federal and state action in assuring the country a permanent future supply of timber. These recommendations call for the acquisition by the government of waste lands and the reclamation of the same in conjunction with the several states, insofar as is permitted by existing law. Such lands as cannot be acquired by the federal government shall be taken over by the various states or municipalities. Provisions are also made for congress to increase the appropriations for protection of timber land against fire, to provide for enlargement of federal research and experiment in forest products, and for a national survey and inventory of forest resources.

NOSE BLEEDING

The nose is perhaps more apt to get in trouble, and epistaxis result, because it protrudes from the general contour of your face into the world. The tender nasal bones are often subjected to painful fractures. Bleeding is usually the result with pain and discomfort.

Epistaxis may be the result of any one of many important disturbances. Its attack comes from within and not from contact or surface blows. Nose bleed calls for careful, expert treatment, where a loss of blood may mean days and even weeks of lost vitality. Frequent periods of epistaxis often come with a gush when least expected. The latest study and treatment of this trouble augurs some of the important causes as cerebral congestion, haemophilia (hereditary tendency to profuse bleeding or hemorrhage), sexual trouble particularly among young girls at the period of puberty, high blood pressure at middle age, kidney trouble of certain types and as a result of local disease or ulcer. To these may be added common nasal colds with the inflammation, congestion and rupture of the blood vessels in the mucous membranes of the olfactory system.

In many cases the bleeding will cease or control itself in a short time. But not the real epistaxis, and frequently heroic treatment has to be given to avoid exhaustion.

In the more severe attacks, adrenalin, which has come to be such an aid as a stimulant and haemostatic, may be used to check the flow. A little wad of absorbent cotton saturated with adrenalin and inserted rather tightly in the nose will usually prove effective.

Another good home treatment is to use a piece of lemon or a small soft cloth wrung out in vinegar, as an astringent. If these do not stop the bleeding the nose must be plugged and a physician called at once.

In milder cases try cold application to the outside of the nose or pressure on the nose or upper lip. Another convenient method is to place a roll of bandage (about one-fourth inch in diameter and one inch long) under the upper lip. This also gives the desired pressure.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF

The jury in the case of Sidney Bernstein vs. Sadie Hopper returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $384, in superior civil court in the Gorham street court house yesterday. Attorney E. J. Tierney was counsel for the plaintiff and Attorney Bennett Silverblatt for the defendant. The action was brought to recover for the loss of a horse which fell through a stable floor, which the plaintiff had rented from the defendant. The plaintiff claimed that the floor was defective. Shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon court adjourned until tomorrow morning as no cases were ready for trial.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 3

Jack looked around and saw a smiling little thin man sitting on the arm of a big chair. "Hurrah!" repeated this little man. "You have brought my balloon back, and for that I shall pay you well." "Who are you?" asked Jack. "Oh, ho!" came the reply. "Don't you know?"

And then the little thin man laughed long and heartily. "Why I am the man who makes King Gubba laugh. My name is Jingo and they call me the jester." And then Jingo stopped short, as a loud clanking sound was heard. "Hide under this chair," he shouted suddenly.

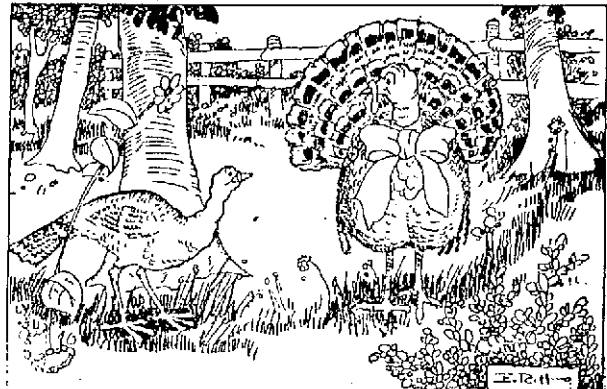

Jack crawled beneath the great chair that Jingo was perched upon. And he was none too quick for, in just a moment, a bent-shouldered old man, carrying a lantern and a bunch of keys, came into the room. Clank, clank, clank! That's how it sounded as the man walked. (Continued.)

"WHAT ON EARTH ARE YOU LOOKING AT?" ASKED MISTER GOBBLER, PEEVISHLY.

Very early in the morning Mister Gobbler opened his eyes. The sun wasn't up—but it was coming, for long fingers of light were snatching away the night mists. "Gobble, gobble, gobble!" said Mister Gobbler. "This is going to be a grand day. And I'm as hungry as a woodpecker, whatever that is. But I saw it advertised on a fence near the road and the man looked awfully hungry. Gobble, gobble, gobble! Get up, family! Don't forget the early bird gets the worm." "Yes, but what does the early worm get?" piped up Lanky Legs, the little turkey boy, opening one eye and then muttering it again. But when he opened it again, and then the other, he stared and stared and stared. "What on earth are you looking at?" asked Mister Gobbler peevishly. "One would think you'd been brought up on a desert island instead of a respectable wood-pile beside the barnyard. What are you staring at?" "I was thinking like eyes as hard as he could, but he didn't finish his sentence. 'Mother! Oh, mother!' he called. 'Wake up and look what's around Daddy's neck.'"

Mister Gobbler awakened with a start. She'd been dreaming something awful about an ax. She was glad to

MISS E. IRENE HOGAN
Committee Chairman

MISS MARY E. TOBIN
President

The members of Lowell Teachers' organization met last night in Liberty hall of the Memorial Auditorium and tendered a reception to Miss Maria W. Roberts and Miss Frances M. Webster, both of whom recently retired after nearly half a century of efficient service in the field of education, and also to the incoming and retiring officers of the organization.

The reception was held in place of the regular business meeting and nearly 300 teachers were present. In the receiving line, in addition to Miss Roberts and Miss Webster, were Mayor John J. Donovan, Supt. of Schools Hugh J. Melloy, Headmaster Henry H. Harris of the high school, Miss Mary E. Tobin, president, Charles E. Doherty and Miss Emma Graham, vice president; Miss Katherine Kelly, secretary; Miss Caroline A. Downey, retiring president; John G. Wolcott and Miss Fannie Murphy, retiring vice presidents.

The members of the organization marched into the hall to the strains of a selection played by the high school orchestra.

Following the reception a large group of teachers acted as ushers and escorted the members of the organization to their seats, while another group served refreshments.

Several piano numbers were played by Almonzo L. Dupuis, a member of the high school faculty. Miss Ruth Houlter, accompanied by Miss Gertrude F. O'Brien, entertained with several contralto solos. The entertainment program was brought to a close with several orchestral selections by the high school orchestra, under the direction of Fred O. Blunt.

Miss Mary E. Tobin, the new president of the organization, then mounted the platform and called the meeting to order. In a short address she outlined the reason of the reception and meeting, and announced that the executive council had prepared a motion, naming the two principal guests of the evening as honorary members. This motion was put and unanimously accepted. Then, in accordance with a custom of the organization, she asked the election of Miss Caroline A. Downey, retiring president, as an honorary member, and this was unanimously voted.

The hall was beautifully decorated with potted plants and salvia and the stage was banked with numbers of both. The meeting was an auspicious opening of the fall social season and the greatest credit for the success of the affair goes to the members of the reception committee, of which Miss E. Irene Hogan was chairman and the Misses Edith Brakins, Charlotte Walsh, Helene Abels and Gertrude Keith, members.

Retiring Teachers Schoolmates

Miss Roberts and Miss Webster were schoolmates. Both attended the Varum grammar school and the high school, Miss Webster being two years ahead of Miss Roberts and graduating from the high school in 1875. Miss Roberts graduated in 1875.

Upon leaving high school Miss Webster immediately entered the field of teaching, receiving an appointment as permanent teacher in the Mann school in 1875. For eight years she taught in the ninth grade of that school and was then transferred to the Butler school, ninth grade. She remained there for eight years and then went to the Elson school where she remained until she retired last June. Miss Webster is a sister of Mary Ann Webster, who is the oldest living teacher in the city and who retired as a teacher in the high school several years ago under the compulsory teachers retirement act.

Miss Roberts received a permanent teaching appointment in 1875, the September following her graduation from high school, and was sent to the Varum grammar school. For 23 years she taught at this school, being assigned to the 4th, 5th and 7th grades at various times. In 1898 she was transferred to the Bartlett grammar school and remained there until her retirement last June. She taught in both the 4th and 7th grades at the latter school and was one of the teachers assigned by the state to drill normal school girls in the art of teaching. Because of this latter position, she became acquainted with the majority of the girls who attended the Normal school and is thus very well known among the elementary teachers of the city.

Both of these retired teachers are in good health and it is the consensus of opinion among the teaching fraternity that neither would have retired last June but for the fact that it is compulsory now under state law for every teacher to be pensioned upon reaching the age of 70.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF
IN ACCIDENT CASE

A sealed verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1125, was reported by a jury before Judge Qua in superior court this morning in the case of Irving L. Wright vs. John M. Callego, both of Lowell.

The matter went to the jury only on the issue of assessment of damages, as the defendant had been defaulted. The plaintiff claimed he was injured in an auto accident in a collision with an auto owned by the defendant, that he lost 10 weeks' pay at the rate of $50 per week, and that hospital and doctors' bills amounted to $215.

Attorney J. J. Hennessy in presenting the case to the jury yesterday, argued that the plaintiff was not only entitled to expenses, but that he should further be recompensed for his pain and suffering.

In his charge to the jury Judge Qua instructed the panel that the issue was solely to fix the amount of damages to which the plaintiff was entitled, that the return on the writ has shown the defendant was personally served with notice of the suit, that he had not fled any answer, and was therefore defaulted.

A jury was then empaneled in the case of Stanley Urzinski vs. Eastern Mass. St. Rwy., in an action of tort for $500.

The plaintiff contended that while operating his automobile on Bridge street in Lowell on May 8, 1923, his auto was run into by an electric car, because of alleged negligence on the part of the operator of the electric car.

Attorney Francis C. Zacharer was counsel for the plaintiff and Attorney Fred Wier for the defendant.

NORMAL SCHOOL LECTURE

State Supervisor Talks on
"What Teaching Means to the State"

A lecture on the subject, "What Teaching Means to the State" was given to the students of the State Normal school yesterday afternoon by Burr F. Jones, state supervisor of elementary education. The speaker was introduced by Principal Clarence M. Wood of the Normal school.

Mr. Jones emphasized the fact that the necessity of normal schools was recognized first by Horace Mann, at that time serving in the senate. After an investigation by the first state board of education, which he headed, it was found that "training is a prerequisite to good teaching" and Edward Dwight became so interested in the matter that he offered Mr. Mann $10,000 for the training of teachers if he could secure twice that sum from the legislature. Mr. Mann went before the house with his campaign and on April 16, 1838, the measure was passed without a dissenting vote.

The inauspicious beginning in an old academy building at Lexington with three frightened pupils and the steady increase to ten schools with a total of 3000 pupils was described at some length. The number of teachers who are college or normal school graduates is steadily increasing and the time when they are 100 per cent that way will mark the period of greatest efficiency in our schools.

Speaking of the salary question, Mr. Jones said:

"In 1817 there were over 2000 teachers receiving less than $500. The state took to the need of remedying this situation and provided a law in which no town or city in the state no matter how small or poor, can employ a teacher at less than $700. This has been accepted by every municipal government until the average salary has grown to $1000 in towns of less than 5000 inhabitants. Throughout the state there is an average of good sized towns and cities of $1400 and in the large cities it is $1500."

The reason Massachusetts takes such an interest in her teachers and has protected them by tenure of office and retirement systems, Mr. Jones explained, is because not having any natural resources, our best efforts are put to educating the people for material prosperity and better citizenship. He cited the many prominent men of the nation who were born or educated in Massachusetts as a result of justifying this course.

Miss Katherine Butler thanked the speaker for his address, on behalf of the students.

Next week the students of the senior class will themselves discuss "What Teaching Means to the Pupils."

OFFICIAL SURVEY OF MERRIMACK RIVER

The third 24-hour survey of Merrimack river water for the purpose of testing its purity or impurity was begun on Tuesday by representatives of the state department of health. The first survey was made in July and the second on August 8 and 9.

These surveys are part of an official investigation with a view toward minimizing the pollution of the river water and the possible establishment of a trunk line sewer. All three surveys have been made in the basin just above Pawtucket dam and samples of water have been taken from the river at different times during a 24-hour period to obtain facts on all possible conditions.

JOHN E. HART
Retiring Grand Knight

FRANK A. GROVES
Grand Knight-Elect

Tonight's exercises in connection with the observance of Columbus day by the members of Lowell Council, 72, Knights of Columbus, will be featured by the retirement from office of Grand Knight John E. Hart and the installation of the newly-elected officers, headed by Grand Knight-elect Frank A. Groves.

The exercises will take place in the K. of C. hall in Dutton street, beginning at 8 o'clock. Vocal and instrumental entertainment will be furnished by James E. Donnelly, Francis A. Connor, Andrew A. McCarthy, Thomas Delmore, Jas. B. Coughlin and others. Announcements will also be made concerning the Columbus day program tomorrow. Several out-of-town guests will be present.

Grand Knight Hart, who has served the council faithfully and efficiently for the past two years, will make his farewell address tonight and hand over the reins to his successor. The new grand knight will make known his appointments for the ensuing year. He has already named Edward F. Stacey, Jr., as lecturer of the council, and the selection will be hailed with satisfaction.

A buffet lunch will be served after the meeting. The other officers to be installed are: John J. Flannery, deputy grand knight; James E. Coughlin, chancellor; Philip J. Brown, financial secretary; Patrick J. Sweeney, recording secretary; Frank J. Finnegan, warden; Thomas J. Fitzgerald, treasurer; Jas. J. Brown, advocate; Richard Costello, inside guard; John J. Lane, outside guard; Thomas A. Ginty, trustee for three years; John E. Hart, delegate to state convention; George F. Briggan, first alternate; Andrew Molloy, second alternate.

The following committee is in charge of the affair tonight: Frank J. Finnegan, Albert E. O'Reilly, Fred Stowell, Robert R. Thomas, Daniel J. Sullivan, Edward H. Hart, Frank Kelly, Edward P. Saunders, Frank A. Groves and the retiring lecturer of the council.

Insurance Exchange Engineer Finds Lowell Fire Department at Low Standard of Efficiency

Filed with the report of the special committee which investigated Lowell's water and fire department conditions, containing many recommendations for improved services and protection, is a report submitted by Engineer John S. Caldwell of the N. B. Insurance Exchange on results of inspections made to determine the efficiency of company units of the fire department in the use and handling of apparatus and equipment. It is dated August 15, 1923.

In conducting the inspection 13 evolutions were used designed to show how the men of the department acted in emergencies and in the usual conduct of fire fighting. The report is not satisfactory, except in spots, in fact it seriously criticizes the work of many of the engine, hose and ladder companies, officers and men alike. The main criticism was "slow time," although "lack of initiative" also was found in many instances, according to the report. The report makes also a specific instance that the men showed lack of familiarity with equipment. Praise is given where the inspector found it due and censure is administered just as freely.

Thirteen Evolutions
The 13 evolutions stipulated in the conduct of the tests were as follows:

1. Starting on signal make short run from station to selected hydrant, show water at nozzle attached to single line on hose 150 feet long.
2. Starting on signal make short run from station to selected hydrant, connect engine and show water at nozzle attached to single line 150 feet long under 100 pounds pump pressure.
3. With water under hydrant pressure flowing through line assure middle section as burst and replace with new section.
4. Hoseman and ladderman operating together. Ladder to be placed at selected building for use of hoseman to take line of hose over ladder on new section.

WOLSCHELDORF WOMAN'S HEAD THOUGHT FOUND IN THIRD SUITCASE IN RIVER

Lowell Man Found Third Suitcase in River and Turned it Over to Tyngsboro Chief—Believes it Contained Human Flesh—Nauseated by Odor on Opening Case He Turned it Over to Police After Closing it Without Looking at Contents

Has the head of Mrs. Alice Wolschendorf, whose limbs and torso were found floating in the Merrimack river near Tyngsboro three weeks ago, been found?

That is the question that is being asked by many who have followed the case closely and who are strongly inclined to believe the head has been found and turned over to District Attorney Reading.

The theory that the head has been found but no mention is being made by the state in order to spring a dramatic surprise in court when Dr. William M. Rehn and A. H. Swope are arraigned is gaining great credence.

It is known that a third suitcase has been found. The person, a Lowell man, who found a third suitcase near Tyngs Island, is known to The Sun.

The suitcase was turned over to Chief Pelletier of the Tyngsboro force, this man says. Since then nothing has been heard of it.

There was a decomposed, odorous substance within that suitcase. The man who found the suitcase thought at the time that it might be the head of the woman whose dismembered limbs were wrapped in one suitcase and whose torso, wrapped in another suitcase, were found after being hurled into the Merrimack.

This suitcase was held tightly together by a cheap brass lock and by two leather straps. The finder took

City Finances in Good Condition

If city departments during the next three months exercise the same care in the expenditure of funds as marked the nine-month period ending October 1 there is an excellent possibility of the creation of a surplus this year.

This assertion is based upon a nine-months' financial statement prepared by City Auditor Daniel F. Martin and today presented to Mayor John J. Donovan for his study and information.

On the whole the 1923 appropriations are enjoying good health, and it is believed every department, with the possible exception of one or two, will live within money provided the first of the year. All of the so-called big departments, such as ashes, street maintenance, sewer maintenance, police, fire, schools, buildings and health, seem well set for a successful year. Each should live within its appropriation.

Total Credits	Spent	Balance
ASHES.....$ 104,332	$ 73,601.81	$ 30,730.19
St. Maintenance..... 404,505	275,940.54	128,564.46
Sewer Maintenance..... 25,000	16,934.80	8,065.20
Police..... 336,030	247,474.18	88,555.82
Fire..... 402,107.50	294,132.10	107,975.40
Buildings..... 185,047.57	115,490.31	69,557.26
Schools (all)..... 1,291,973.63	917,614.18	374,359.45

These figures speak for themselves and show that it will not be difficult for the departments named to live within balances as now exist.

Only one department, the water works, seems to be in an insecure position. Out of total credits amounting to $345,285.57 there already has been spent $312,485.11, leaving a balance for three months of only $32,800.46. Based on these figures the department, unless it curtails to a great extent, will finish the year with a deficit of $70,000 or thereabouts. An actual deficit of $70,000 will obtain if expenditures for October, November and December are proportionally as great as during the first nine months.

URGES ANTI-KU KLUX KLAN LAW

Gov. Walton Calls Upon Oklahoma Legislature to Enact Law

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 11 (By the Associated Press).—Governor J. C. Walton called upon the Oklahoma legislature today to enact an anti-Ku Klux Klan law to save the state from the disaster he says it faces through existence of the secret organization.

In his address, opening an extraordinary session of the assembly, the executive charged the Klan with responsibility for hundreds of outrages and punctuated his remarks by laying before the lawmakers transcripts of all testimony adduced by military courts of inquiry which under his proclamation of martial law investigated mob violence and masked depredations in various parts of the state. He requested the solons to examine the record and then publish it.

"This all-powerful and most demoralizing 'super-government' is undermining the very corner stone and foundation of our government and sapping the lifeblood of our citizenship," Governor Walton declared. "It must either be killed or the government itself must finally give way to anarchy and revolution. There is no alternative or middle ground."

The governor viewed at length the chain of events which have kept the state in turmoil for a month and concluded his message with a plea that the legislature immediately pass a bill which he himself has prepared "that the people may be protected forever in their person, property and fundamental liberties."

The conflict between the visible and invisible government must be brought to a close with a complete victory for the visible government, or Oklahoma will face indefinite turmoil and strife, the results of which are bound to be disastrous," he said.

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 11.

(By the Associated Press).—Stunned into late sleeping, perhaps by the thrills of yesterday's epic game, which the ivy-draped Casey Stengel won for the New York Nationals with a ninth inning home run, Gotham's jaded baseball fans arrived slowly at the Polo grounds today, for the second encounter between the champions of the two major baseball leagues for the world's title.

The baseball bug who scots at the league games and bites only on world series bait, got a surprise when he came into the historic old arena, for, as the saying goes, "it ain't what it used to be."

Since last year the outfield bleachers have been wiped out almost completely and the double-decked grandstand extended until it forms almost a complete enclosure with a small horseshoe opening, broken in the center by the electric score board.

In this cheese box—or perhaps, it more resembles a canyon of Pittsburgh—5000 fans who had to get up early or watch the game down town on an electric score board, were patiently seated when the brass band, looking a bit heavy-eyed, trudged onto the field, dragging its heavy instruments. Those who didn't sleep last night, were kept awake and those who did were put to sleep with a soothing melody that sounded like distant cannonading.

The early fans filed into the park lazily and leisurely, dropping into convenient seats, drawing down their hats to keep out the half-light that seeped through the work under the shoulder of Coogan's Bluff.

There were occasional sounds of revelry when Nick Atkinson and Al Schacht, the buffoons of baseball, did their stuff. The comedians gave a new touch today, a double barreled argument with an imaginary umpire in the direction of whose phantom presence they threw clouds of dust and then imagined themselves chased from the park. A five-year-old boy aided the act.

Advance guards from the two teams came onto the field almost simultaneously but there was hardly a ripple from the crowd.

Looking jaunty and full of fight, it wouldn't have been guessed that the Yankees had lost the opening game yesterday.

Like Ruth, one of the first on the field, swung his trusty budgeon on the sidelines while Cozy Dan Dolan gave the giant recruits some batting practice on the diamond. When Casey Stengel came upon the diamond a great cheer went up.

The Giants were attired in their epic and spun white uniforms, while the Yankees had on their blue traveling costumes.

Underneath the grandstand, rival boards of strategy mapped out their plans of battle for the second test. McGraw intent upon taking the full advantage of the jump gained on the Yankees in the opener, while Huggins rallied his forces, determined to break through and even the score.

The batteries for today's game: McQuillan and Snyder for the Giants; Pennock and Schang for the Yankees.

Giants: Baneroff up. Scott threw out Baneroff. Pennock took Groh's smash and threw him out. Ward robbed Frisch of a hit with a one hand stop and a quick throw to first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Yankees: Groh threw out Pipp, making a nice play on Pipp's hot ground. Ward hit a home run into the upper left field stands. Schang lofted out to Snyder. Scott filed out to Meusel. One run, one hit, no errors.

Giants: Young popped to Dugan. Meusel hit a home run into the left field stand, tying the score. Cunningham filed out to Ruth. Kelly singled into right. Snyder sent up a high fly to Ward. One run, two hits, no errors.

Third Inning
Yankees: Frisch tossed out Pennock. Frisch also got Wirt at first. Dugan filed out to Meusel. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants: Dugan made a wonderful play on McQuillan's roller, and threw him out. Baneroff filed out to Meusel. Groh got a base on balls. Frisch singled into center field, Groh holding second. Young lined out to right. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Yankees: Ruth got a home run over the right field stands. Meusel fanned. Pipp singled into right. Ward popped to Kelly. Schang shot a hot single into left field. Pipp going to third. Young fanned. Pipp scored on Scott's single to center. Schang going to second. Meusel was yanked and Bentley went into the box. Pennock was hit by a pitched ball. He fell to the ground, his face was contorted with pain, and the players of both clubs gathered around him. The crowd cheered when he rose to his feet and limped to first base.

The bases were filled. Wirt filed out to Cunningham. Two runs, four hits, one error.

Giants: Ward threw out Meusel. Cunningham filed out to Ruth. Kelly whiffed. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning
Yankees: Baneroff got Dugan at first. Ruth got another home run into left field stands. Meusel got a single into right and when Young fanned the ball, he went to second. An error for Young. Pipp grounded out to Kelly. Meusel going to third. Ward fouled out to Kelly. One run, two hits, one error.

Giants: Snyder filed out to Meusel. Ward threw out Bentley. Scott threw out Baneroff. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning
Yankees: Baneroff got Schang at first. Scott got a single past Baneroff. Snyder almost caught Scott at first. Pennock hit into a double play. Baneroff to Frisch to Kelly. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Giants: Groh singled over the middle leg. Frisch got a near home run in the right field stand, the ball being foul by inches. Frisch singled into left. Groh going to third. Groh scored when Young singled into left. Frisch batted at second. Meusel forced Young. Scott to Ward. Frisch went to third. The Yankees claimed that Young interfered with Ward in making a double play. Empire Hart would not allow the claim. There was a long argument at second base. Cunningham hit into a double play. Scott to Ward, to Pipp. One run, three hits, no errors.

The crowd jeered Young as he walked into right field.

Seventh Inning
Yankees: Bentley took Wirt's hopper and tossed him out. Bentley also threw out Dugan. Ruth walked. Ruth was caught off first, the play being Snyder to Kelly to Baneroff to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants: Kelly fouled to Pipp. Snyder got a high fly out to Meusel. Bentley got a hit into left for two bases. Baneroff fouled out to Dugan. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Inning
Yankees: Meusel fouled out to Snyder. Pipp walked. Ward singled into center. Pipp stopping at second. Schang filed out to Meusel. Scott filed out to Meusel. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Giants: Dugan threw out Groh. Scott threw out Frisch. Young up. The crowd jeered while the giant rooters cheered. Young got a single into center. Meusel singled into left. Young going to third. Gowdy batted for Cunningham.

Gowdy filed out to Wirt. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning
Yankees: Stengel went into center field for the Giants. Baneroff threw out Pennock. Frisch threw out Wirt. Dugan got a two-base hit into left. Ruth sent a high fly out to Stengel. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Scott threw out Snyder. Jackson batted for Bentley. Jackson filed out to Meusel. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Final score: Yankees 4, Giants 2.

SAYS WILSON APPROVED SALE OF DYE PATENTS

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 11.—President Wilson, by a number of his acts, approved the sale of seized enemy dye and chemical patents to the Chemical Foundation, Inc., by the alien property custodian, counsel for the foundation, contended today in federal district court in concluding his argument in the government's suit to get aside the sale.

The president confirmed the transaction, Attorney Isidor J. Krasel said, by adopting the report of A. Mitchell Palmer as alien property custodian, in which the sale was reported in detail by sending that report to congress; by writing into the treaty of Versailles, a provision that Germany should indemnify its nationals for patents seized, and by his message to congress in May, 1919, urging tariff protection for the domestic dye and chemical industry.

Your Health

by Dr. C.C. Robinson

NOSE BLEEDING

The nose is perhaps more apt to get in trouble, and epistaxis result, because it protrudes from the general contour of your face into the world. The tender nasal bones are often subjected to painful fractures. Bleeding is usually the result with pain and discomfort.

Epistaxis may be the result of any one of many important disturbances. Its attack comes from within and not from contact or surface blows. Nose bleed calls for careful, expert treatment, where a loss of blood may mean days and even weeks of lost vitality. Frequent periods of epistaxis often come with a rush when least expected. The latest study and treatment of this trouble ascribes some of the important causes as cerebral congestion, haemophilia (hereditary tendency to profuse bleeding or hemorrhage), sexual trouble particularly among young girls at the period of puberty, high blood pressure at middle age, kidney trouble of certain types and as a result of local disease or ulcer. To these may be added common nasal colds with the inflammation, congestion and rupture of the blood vessels in the mucous membrane of the olfactory system.

In many cases the bleeding will cease or control itself in a short time. But not the real epistaxis, and frequently heroic treatment has to be given to avoid exhaustion.

In the more severe attacks, adrenalin, which has come to be such an aid as a stimulant and haemostatic may be used to check the flow. A little wad of absorbent cotton saturated with adrenalin and inserted rather tightly in the nose will usually prove effective.

Another good home treatment is to use a piece of lemon or a small soft cloth wrung out in vinegar, as an astringent. If these do not stop the bleeding the nose must be plugged and a physician called at once.

In milder cases try cold application to the outside of the nose or pressure on the nose or upper lip. Another convenient method is to insert a roll of bandage (about one-fourth inch in diameter and one inch long) under the upper lip. This also gives the desired pressure.

PURSE OF GOLD FOR RETIRING PASTOR

Rev. and Mrs. Henry K. Vye were tendered an informal reception at their home, 38 Oakland street last evening by a large number of friends.

Rev. Mr. Vye recently concluded his pastorate at the Calvary Baptist church and the affair last evening was attended by a large number including members of the congregation as well as friends throughout the city.

Refreshments were served and several musical selections, including baritone solos by Walter W. Colby, accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Clement Laverne, were features of the program. Rev. Mr. Vye was presented a large purse of gold by F. L. Flynn on behalf of those present.

The committee in charge of the affair was as follows: Mrs. Francis T. Fletcher, Mrs. John D. Tritter, Mrs. John Doherty, Mrs. Helen Clement, and Mrs. F. L. Flynn.

NATIONAL REFERENDUM

The members of the Lowell chamber of commerce are to be asked to ballot on a national referendum being taken in the matter of the national forestry policy. Eight specific recommendations are provided calling for both federal and state action in assuring the country a permanent future supply of timber. These recommendations call for the acquisition by the government of waste lands and the replanting of the same in conjunction with the several states insofar as is permitted by existing law. Such lands as cannot be acquired by the federal government shall be taken over by the various states or municipalities. Provisions are also made for congress to increase the appropriations for protection of timber land against fire, to provide for enlargement of federal forest land, experiment in forest products, and for a national survey and inventory of forest resources.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there is no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with a sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a remarkable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. Use two—Advise that the event will be attended by at

These assembled talemans represent the first mixed jury ever drawn in the United States. They were impaneled in October, 1867, to try Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, on an indictment charging treason. The trial was never held because of the writ of amnesty issued by President Johnson, which pardoned all participants in the rebellion. This rare print, one of the six permitted to be taken, was found between the leaves of an old book recently sold at auction in Richmond, Va.

SOLDIERS TOOK MIKE TO RING

This shows Mike McGue, light heavyweight champion, as he came to the ring, escorted by the military, to do battle against Young Stribling, 18-year-old Marion school boy, at Columbus, Ga., last week. The champion claims he was intimidated and fought against his wishes, having previously hurt his right hand. The bout had a turbulent finish with Harry Ertle, the champion's hand-picked referee, rendering three separate decisions—draw, win for Stribling, draw again.

LAST CALL FOR DINNER

This affectionate Jersey cow, hailing from San Angelo, Tex., lent a helping hand to the four orphans shown in the picture who are doing very well, thank you, but were too busy to watch the birdie when the photographer tried to gain their attention. Upon careful inspection you will see a goat, two lambs and a calf.

CHANGE IN MAIL DELIVERY ROUTES

A re-routing of all the Centralville mail delivery routes and several of the Pawtucketville routes, for the purpose of bringing to the residents of those sections better mail service, went into effect yesterday.

This re-routing was made possible by the opening of the Centralville postal station and means that the residents of these sections will get two complete deliveries every day.

Every carrier operating from the Centralville station has had a little new territory added to his route to take up the time formerly used in going from and to the main postoffice. By these little savings from each man, it has been possible for an additional delivery to be added to the two deliveries in the business section of Bridge street so that, beginning yesterday, three deliveries are made there; the first between the hours of 8 and 9, the second at noon, and the third and last late in the afternoon. This additional delivery puts the business houses in Centralville on the same footing as the business establishments in other parts of the city.

Under the new routing every street in Centralville where there are sidewalks, street lights and 50 per cent of the house lots occupied, as the postoffice regulations state is necessary for delivery of mail, now receives two complete deliveries a day, where formerly one delivery a day was all that was allowed.

In Pawtucketville the system of deliveries has been greatly improved. Varnum avenue is covered twice a day now to the city limits where formerly two deliveries were made to the Lowell General hospital and only one delivery made beyond that point. Dracut street and Sixth avenue extension also receive two full deliveries a day where formerly the district was covered once a day by an automobile delivery. In this section there were also numerous families whose mail was delivered to stores at the end of the former route or at boxes situated some distance from their homes. All this is done away with under the new system and a foot carrier visits each street twice each day.

As before stated, a street, under postoffice regulations, must have a sidewalk, street lights, and 50 per cent of the house lots built on before becoming eligible for mail deliveries.

The work of re-arranging the routes in both Centralville and Pawtucketville was done by Albert White, assistant superintendent of mails, and George Hunt, foreman of carriers. Both of these men have been working on this proposition for several weeks and Postmaster DeHate gave them great credit for their efficient handling of the work.

The postmaster, in speaking of the changes today, said that under the new routing Centralville was profiting by the establishment of the new station and Pawtucketville was also coming in for a good deal of the profit. He explained this by saying that, insofar as the postoffice is concerned, those two districts are close together and a saving in one can easily be used to benefit the other.

COLUMBUS NIGHT DANCE

Tomorrow night at the Highland club house there will be a social dancing party given by the Sar-Dem club. The officers of the club who hope to make this affair a success are Leo H. Demers, president; Walter J. Sargent, secretary and treasurer. Everyone around town is talking about this popular event. Music will be furnished by Ted Marshall's snappy five-piece orchestra.

Sailor Friedman Found in Pool of Blood

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 11.—Beaten into insensibility by three men who kidnapped him and forced him at the point of a pistol to enter an automobile, William M. (Sailor) Friedman, Chicago boxer, was found lying in a pool of blood at the corner of a deserted street at midnight. He was rushed to a hospital, where it was found he had been beaten and kicked severely. There were abrasions about the face, neck and chest, two large scalp wounds, which bled profusely, and injuries to his arms and body. Friedman was training for a bout with Pinky Mitchell, Milwaukee junior welterweight, tonight. The bout was called off because of the attack, and Joe Simonich substituted. Friedman recently was acquitted in Chicago when tried for the alleged murder of a man he said had insulted his sister.

HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAM

Columbus Day Exercises at

High School Had Many Pleasing Features

The Columbus day exercises at the high school today were featured by an address by Supt. of Schools Hugh J. Molloy and by the presentation of a one-act play entitled "Eyes of Faith," by students under the direction of Miss Mary A. Joyce, teacher of elocution.

In addition to celebrating in honor of the discoverer of America, the students of the school also rejoiced in the satisfactory completion of the drive for the raising of the indebtedness on Alumni Field which has been conducted by them since one week ago last Monday.

The exercises were held in the Cyrus W. Irish auditorium at 12.15 with the members of the three upper classes attending, the freshmen being dismissed at 12.15 because of the fact that the auditorium is not large enough to hold the whole body. A group of songs for semi-chorus, "The Song of the Air," was played by the high school orchestra under the direction of Fred O. Blunt, as the opening number of the program.

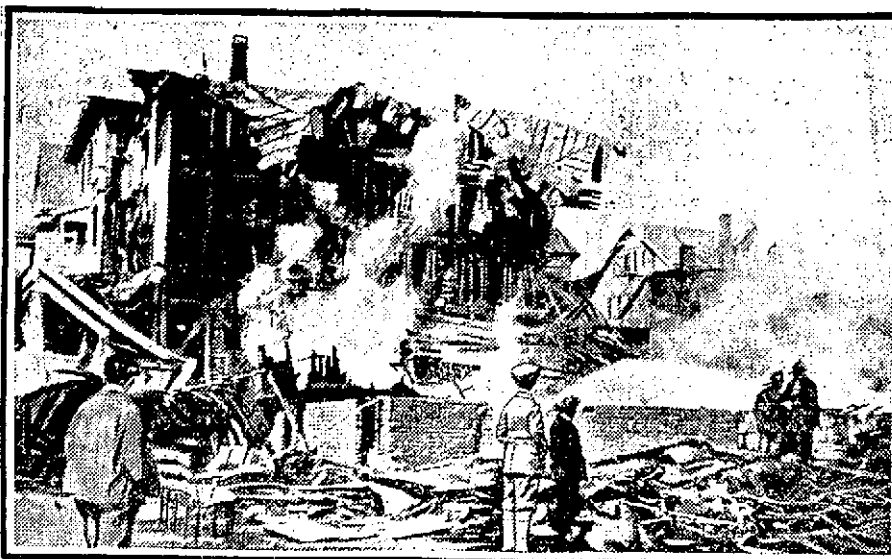

Headmaster Henry H. Harris then gave a short talk on the reasons for the assembly and announced that, in accordance with the notice published Monday, the total amount collected for Alumni Field up to this noon was $2050. Special mention was given by Mr. Harris to the employees of the lunchroom of the school who collected $104 for the fund and to Edward W. Trull, treasurer of the Alumni association, who collected $500 for the fund and had that amount credited to Miss Stokney's room.

To that latter room went the credit for collecting the greatest sum and a pupil in Miss Hutton's room, a boy named Wolf, was given credit for the largest collection, $102. The final results of the drive will not be known until the first of next week as considerable of the money has not yet been tabulated.

While the total collected was not quite the sum set, $2500, Mr. Harris

FUNERAL OF MRS.

JULIA A. CASHMAN

The funeral of Mrs. Julia A. (Casey) Cashman, wife of Patrick J. Cashman and a woman esteemed for her many fine qualities of heart and mind, took place this morning from her home, 50 Canton street, and was very largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends, including a number from out of town. A delegation from the League of Catholic Women, of which deceased was a member, was present in the church. The cortege proceeded to St. Margaret's church, where at 10 o'clock a solemn high funeral mass was sung by Rev. Thomas Frawley of St. Mary's of the Assumption church, Brookline, assisted by Rev. Francis L. Shea of St. Peter's church as deacon and Rev. Andrew F. O'Brien as sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Mr. Louis G. Gullbault rendered the Gregorian chant; at the offertory the "Memento Passions" was sung by Mr. Fred Cummings, who also rendered "The Profundus" at the conclusion of mass. The solos of the mass were sustained by Mr. C. F. Cahlan, Mr. Gullbault presiding at the organ.

The array of floral tributes was unusually large, filling the spacious drawing room of the home, also countless spiritual beauties and other evidences of the sincere sorrow for the departed and sympathy for the bereaved family. The flowers at the house and church were Paul L. Dineen, chief usher, assisted by John O'Neill, James Haley and Walter Shea. The bearers were Dr. P. J. McEgan, Dr. P. J. Bagley, John J. Sullivan, John J. Shea, Jr., John Curran, Frank H. Marren, Michael J. Sheehy and Michael Reay. At the grave Rev. Fr. O'Brien, assisted by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin of St. Patrick's church read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery under the direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons. Mrs. Cashman was a woman of many beautiful qualities, an ideal wife and mother, the mother of a home a sanctuary of domestic virtue.

FUNERALS

McDONALD—The funeral of Mr. Michael J. McDonald took place this morning from the chapel of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church, where at 9 o'clock, a mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson, rendered the Gregorian chant, the solos in the mass being sustained by Miss Frances Tighe and Mr. Fred Cummings. Mr. Johnson presided at the organ. The bearers were Messrs. James H. Gaffney, Owen Muldoon, James T. Muldoon, Philip J. Sullivan, John P. Murphy and John J. Brennan. The burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the committal prayers were read by Fr. Curtin. The funeral was under the direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

RILEY—The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Riley took place this morning at 9.15 o'clock from her late home, 42 Common street and was largely attended. A funeral high mass was celebrated in St. Patrick's church at 9.45 o'clock by Rev. Dr. John J. McGarry. The Gregorian chant was sung by the church choir, the soloists being Miss Frances Tighe and Mr. James E. Donnelly. Mr. M. J. Johnson was the organist. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Joseph Curtin read the burial services. The bearers were Messrs. Thos. Riley, Philip Riley, Edward Curran, Patrick McNiff, John Riley and Charles Riley. The funeral was in charge of Undertakers Charles H. Molloy's Sons.

DYKE—The funeral of John Dyke took place Wednesday afternoon from the chapel of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons, where services were held at 2 o'clock. Rev. Appleton Grannis, rector of St. Ann's church officiating. The bearers were Richard Campbell, Henry Bourassa, James Kane, Sr., George O'Connell, James Kane, Jr. and George W. Eastman. At the grave the committal prayers were read by Rev. Mr. Grannis and the burial was in the family lot in the Edison cemetery, under the direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

HARLOW—Funeral services for Levi F. Harlow were held at the funeral home, 236 Westford street, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. Edward Babcock, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated. Burial was in the family lot in the Oakdale cemetery at Middleton. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Henley.

DEATHS

DONOVAN—Edward J. Donovan, for the past 15 years a salesman for F. M. Bill & Co., died yesterday at his home, 67 Westford street. He was well and favorably known throughout the city and because of his sunny disposition and genial manner was a favorite wherever he was known. A typical home man, his only association, other than his family, was the Sons of Veterans, being the son of the late Thomas Donovan, who for many years was the color bearer whenever the S.V.A. was on parade. He leaves his wife, Grace E. (Lequin) Donovan; two sons, Raymond E. and Paul A.; one daughter, Florence M. Donovan; and one brother, Joseph Donovan of Farmington, N. H., and several nieces and nephews.

CORRIGAN—Mrs. Catherine Corrigan, a well known and highly respected resident of the Sacred Heart parish, died this morning at her late home, 13 Lundberg street. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, James P., three daughters, Mrs. James L. Kennedy, Mrs. William Murphy of this city and Mrs. Leo Reardon of Chelsea; three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth O'Brien of North Billerica, Mrs. William Hanlon and Mrs. Edward McDonald of this city; and one brother, Henry Mahony of North Billerica; and one grandchild, Leo Reardon. She was a prominent member of the Holy Rosary sodality of the Sacred Heart church.

MARDOCH—Mrs. Mary Mardoch, a well known and highly respected resident of this city, died yesterday at the Lowell isolation hospital, after a long illness, at the age of 23 years. She was the wife of George L. and Susan Douglas; three brothers, Chester W., Warren P. and George R. Douglas, and one sister, Lillian S. Douglas, all of this city. Mrs. Mardoch was a member of the Fifth Street Baptist church. Her home was at 5 Queen st. The body was removed to Saunders' funeral home, 217 Appleton street.

CURTIS—Mrs. Ida K. (Hendler) Curtis, a member of St. Patrick's church, died yesterday at the Lowell General Hospital. She leaves her husband, John J. Curtis, and one son, Lawrence R. Curtis of South Boston; three brothers, Frank Brunelle of Lowell, Fred Brunelle of Holyoke and Harry Brunelle of this city; and one sister, Mrs. William H. Stiles of Lowell. Mrs. Curtis was a member of the Fifth Street Baptist church. Her home was at 5 Queen st. The body will be taken to her late home, 13 Lundberg street, and will take place at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church. Friends are invited to attend. Burial will be in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery. Arrangements are in charge of Funeral Director Joseph Albert.

STILES—Harry S. Stiles, a well known resident of Westford for several years, died yesterday at his home in that town, aged 66 years. A month ago he was stricken with a paralytic stroke by occupation and had a wide circle of friends, all of whom will regret his passing. He leaves his wife, Ellen (Hart) Stiles; two daughters, Mrs. D. A. Barbour of Millers Falls, Mass., and Mrs. Benjamin Prescott of Westford; and one son, Joseph H. Stiles of Athol.

ANDROMEDAS—James Andromedas, well known in local athletic circles, died yesterday at the death of his father, P. N. Andromedas, at Greece, aged 55 years. He leaves his wife, six sons and one daughter. All of Greece with the exception of the Lowell team men remain to the home of a prosperous farmer in his native country for many years, but resided several years ago by reason of his advanced age. The Lowell man had not seen his father for almost a quarter of a century.

BRENNAN—Mrs. Annie Brennan, a former well known resident of this city, died this morning at the Holy Ghost hospital at 2 o'clock. She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters, Mrs. Arthur Paradis of Cambridge, Mrs. Robert H. Harkins of this city, and Ellen, who is employed in Washington, D. C. The remains were removed to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert H. Harkins, 31 Ellsworth street, by Undertakers O'Donnell & Fay.

SPALDING—Mrs. Bessie P. Spaulding, wife of Gardner E. Spaulding, died at her home, Andover road, Billerica Centre, yesterday, at the age of 71 years. She is survived by her husband and four sons, Frederick A., Chester G., Frank S. and Benjamin H. Spaulding.

ROURKE—Mrs. Katherine P. Rourke, a well known and highly respected resident of the Immaculate Conception parish, died last night at her home, 48 Pond street. Deceased was possessed of a most beautiful character and enjoyed the respect and esteem of all her neighbors and acquaintances. Besides her husband, John R. Rourke, she leaves a niece and a nephew.

ROUSSEAU—Alfred Gordon Rousseau, infant daughter of Edward and Eva (Burnham) Rousseau, died yesterday at the home of her parents, 177 Adams street, aged 8 months and 22 days.

NIEL—Henry Niel, a resident of this city for many years, died yesterday at the Chebford street hospital, aged 80 years. The body was removed to Saunders' funeral home 217 Appleton street.

MITCHELL—Mrs. Emma J. Mitchell, widow of James W. Mitchell, died early this morning at her home, 23 Mt. Washington street, aged 72 years, 3 months and 18 days. She is survived by one son, Francis H. Mitchell and two grand-children, of Lawrence, two brothers, Charles M. and George H. Grosfield of this city; one sister, Mrs. Lindsay Ingham of Lowell; and a number of nieces and nephews.

CLOUTIER—Clare Cloutier, daughter of Alfred and Gertrude (Latham) Cloutier, died this morning at the home of her parents, 21 Ward street, aged 1 year, 3 months and 1 day.

COUTURES—George Coutures, son of Napoleon and Cora (St. Amant) Coutures, died this morning at the home of his parents, 16 Ward street, aged 3 months and 19 days.

THOMAS J. GLASCOCK

Kansas Contractor Tells of Wonderful Results Obtained in Test of New Scientific Discovery

Thomas J. Glascock, 74, well known Kansas contractor, declares he has virtually been made young again by the recently discovered Kores compound, which is pronounced superior to "rejuvenation" as an invigorator and revitalizer.

"I feel like I did at 35," says Mr. Glascock, "and seem to be getting stronger every day. During my three weeks' use of the new discovery, pains and weaknesses of many years' standing disappeared almost magically. The day I am as vigorous and supple as I was in the prime of life. Furthermore, when I began using the compound, my memory was virtually gone and I was almost blind. Now my mind is clear and active and I can read the finest print without difficulty."

In order to find out whether the results were lasting, Mr. Glascock waited six months before reporting on the results of the discovery. On this point he says:

"Every passing day strengthens my conviction that my restoration is not only complete but permanent. I can't express the happiness this great discovery has brought to me. It has made me 'young' again."

Similar reports are being made almost daily. For instance, Dr. W. Wood of New Orleans, past 60 years of age, says: "The compound has brought me back to as good, healthy physical condition as I enjoyed at 35. I am apparently as supple as at 25 and my eyesight is better than for years. I would not take $5000 for what the discovery has done for me."

The compound is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless, yet rated as the quickest and most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on lower spinal nerve centers and certain glands and blood vessels, it often brings amazing benefits in 21 to 35 hours, according to thousands who have tested it.

"It is wonderful," writes a resident of Hollister, Cal., "in less than 24 hours you can feel it does the work. It makes one feel young as a young man. I am more than happy and glad I tried it." Another Californian says: "The compound is a world's wonder. I feel like I was about 25 and here I am nearly 60!"

The compound has been tested in all parts of the country and has won the praise of thousands who suffered from nerve weakness, lost or depleted vigor, neurasthenia, premature age, impaired glandular activity and lack of animation and vital force. Its effects seem to be virtually the same on both young and old. Physicians say the principal active ingredient of the compound gives speedy satisfaction in obnoxious cases that defy all other treatments. Elderly people pronounce the discovery a real "fountain of youth."

Realizing that thousands of enfeebled half-alive folk may consider such news "too good to be true," the American distributors have agreed to supply a double-strength treatment of the discovery as a guaranteed trial basis to everyone in need of such a preparation. If you wish to test the compound under a money-back guarantee, write in strict confidence to the Melton Laboratories, 3733 Melton Building, Kansas City, Mo., for a two-dollar treatment of a Kores compound, mailed in a plain sealed wrapper. You may enclose two dollars, or simply send your name, without money, and pay two dollars and postage on delivery, as you prefer. In either case, however, if you report within ten days that you are not satisfied, the laboratories will refund the purchase price upon request. These laboratories are nationally known and thoroughly reliable, so nobody need hesitate about accepting their guaranteed offer.—Adv.

NEW McDONOUGH FUNERAL HOME IS OPENED BY MORTICIANS TO PUBLIC INSPECTION

Interior of Stately Old Mansion Opposite South Common Transformed By Artisans and Decorators—Possible to Conduct Three Separate Funerals Simultaneously Without Confusion

The consummation of a cherished ambition is realized with the opening today of the beautiful new funeral home of M. H. McDonough Sons, Undertakers, at 14 Highland street, opposite the South common, a few steps from Gorton street, and the public is cordially invited to inspect the home at any time.

A fine old stately mansion is converted by the artisans and decorators into one of the finest funeral homes in this part of the state, providing, as it does, up to the minute facilities, in a homelike and cozy environment, not surpassed by any other building of its kind.

In connection with the opening one cannot repress the opportunity to marvel at the progress the firm of M. H. McDonough Sons has made in 17 years.

less than two decades, and to congratulate its members on the enterprise and forethought which has made out of one of Lowell's imposing mansions a creditable, essential and utilitarian addition to Lowell's business places, accessible to car lines and handy to the depot.

A brief history of the building will not be amiss. It was built by the late Benjamin Webster, and is of solid construction throughout. In fact one can see in some of the timbers the old fashioned wooden pegs, a relic of substantial carpentry of other days. Much of the original fresco work of the house aside from painting has been left untouched. The embellishment of the interior has been carried out with a view to preserving much of its original spacious layout and hence, one is

ST. COLUMBA'S MISSION GREAT SUCCESS

St. Columba's church again witnessed an overflow attendance last evening, the fourth evening of the women's mission being conducted this week by the Dominicans. Morning and evening services to date have been attended by capacity congregations, larger than any gatherings in the history of the parish, and a source of great satisfaction to the presiding priests, Rev. Edmund A. Baxter, O.P. and Rev. Louis L. Farrell, O.P.

The recitation of the rosary and instructions on the mysteries of the rosary by Rev. Fr. Baxter last night, were followed by an eloquent and forceful sermon on "Courtship and Marriage," by Rev. Fr. Farrell.

Confessions are being heard daily and hundreds of communicants have been going to the altar rail since the start of the mission last Sunday. The men's mission will open next Sunday evening and continue with the usual devotion until Oct. 21.

DUO-ART WEEK AT STEINERT'S

This week in being observed as "Duo-Art week" with M. Steinert & Sons, who have invited the public to visit their Duo-Art Salon to hear the playing of the great masters of the piano on the Duo-Art. Monday was observed as "Paderewski day," Tuesday as "Franz Liszt day," Wednesday as "Chopin day," and Thursday as "Debussy day." Today is "Shura Cherkassky day," and tomorrow "Popper Music day." Shura Cherkassky is the phenomenal eleven-year-old boy pianist. Other artists such as Percy Grainger, Rudolph Ganz, Alfred Cortot, and Frank Banta the exponent of popular music on the piano, who record exclusively for the Duo-Art, may be heard.

Paderewski, the master pianist, says: "In its broadest aspect, the Duo-Art will exert a far-reaching influence on musical taste. Children in the home possessing the Duo-Art piano, must naturally and unconsciously become discriminating listeners. Hearing frequent repetitions of the great masterpieces as played by skilled performers, the foundation is laid for musical enlightenment, which means enjoyment and gratification in later life. Whatever musical talent a child may possess, is stimulated in such an atmosphere, and when lessons begin, the instructor finds a willing and apt pupil. Instead of one whose view of music is entirely confined to unimpaired exercises and practice."

The management of the Steinert house desires that the public will feel free to drop in anytime to hear the playing of these artists, and also see what artistic music rooms are maintained in this city.

MATRIMONIAL

The wedding of Miss Annette V. Foster, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Foster of Lowell, and Mr. Frederick F. Graham was held at 5 o'clock last night in St. Louis church with Rev. J. B. Labossiere officiating. The bridesmaid was Miss Helen M. Brennan and Mr. J. R. Graham, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride wore a dress of white tulle and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, and her bridesmaid wore a dress of gray tulle and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. A reception and wedding supper were held at the home of the bride's mother, 478 Bridge street, immediately following the ceremony. The house was charmingly decorated with autumn leaves and apple blossoms with white-green. The ushers were Mr. Herbert Foster and Mr. Ernest L. Clark. The happy couple left on an extended wedding trip and will be at home to friends after Nov. 1, at 42 Union street, New Britain, Conn., where Mr. Graham is the sales representative of Snyder, Inc., of Boston.

Wayne—Wilson
At 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Miss Katherine Wilson and Mr. George Leo Wayne were united in the bonds of matrimony by Rev. John C. Duffy, O.M.I., at the Immaculate Conception rectory. The bride wore a blue suit with picture hat to match and carried white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Richter, wore a dark blue suit and hat, and carried pink roses. Mr. Henry J. St. John acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Henry St. John, Thomas Wayne and Henry Richter. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 823 East Merrimack street, following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne will make their home at 823 East Merrimack street after Oct. 12.

Kelley—Hurt
An interesting wedding took place last evening when Miss Helen Kelley, a promising business man of Boston, and Miss Margaret S. Hart, daughter of Mrs. Mary Ann Hart of Suffolk street and well known member of St. Patrick's parish, were united in marriage by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin. They were attended by Miss Catherine O'Neill as bridesmaid and Mr. Francis O'Neill as best man. The bride was attired in a gown of sky blue crepe de chine trimmed with charming lace and wore a picture hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid wore a taupe colored gown and carried a bouquet of carnations and red roses. Miss Margaret O'Neill, the flower girl, was dressed in white. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Suffolk street, following the ceremony. A wedding supper was served and a fine program of musical selections was given by those present. Mr. Michael Bourke rendered several violin selections and provided the music for the dancing which was taken up the latter part of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley left during the course of the evening on

Now Restored to Perfect Health

Read What J. C. Jones, of Winchester, Ky., Has To Say About ALLENRHU, the Sure Conqueror of Rheumatism

For years I was a sufferer from the torture of rheumatism. My limbs (feet and hands) would swell to almost double their normal size. I suffered intense pain day and night so that I could hardly eat or sleep. I had very little hope of ever recovering from this most dreadful and painful disease. A friend of mine seeing how despondent I was over my hopeless condition advised me to try ALLENRHU. I went immediately to the George Drug Company in Winchester and got a bottle of the internal treatment and a bottle of the Liniment to use externally. For the sake of other sufferers I wish to say that the results were simply marvellous. After beginning the combined treatment the swelling began to reduce and the pain left me entirely. I continued the treatment until I had taken only two bottles which effected a complete cure. Today I positively feel better than ever before in my life. I feel that I am very fortunate in finding a remedy that has relieved me of the distress and the almost unbearable pains from which I suffered. For the last five weeks I have been working 12 hours a day and haven't even a symptom of rheumatism or ache or pain. Signed, James C. Jones.

ALLENRHU has been tried and tested for years, and really marvellous results have been accomplished even in the most severe cases where the suffering and agonies was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless. You are sure to get it at A. W. Dows and all druggists.—ADV.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discovered the disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicine and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Blaufrat Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer trouble them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Blaufrat Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest harm or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Blaufrat Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—ADV.

Flanagan—Larkin
A pretty October wedding took place at high noon in the rectory of St. Patrick's church, yesterday, when Mr. William J. Flanagan, a popular employee of the Courier-Citizen composing room staff, and a well known Belvidere resident, and Miss Ella L. Larkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Larkin of Mt. Vernon street, were united in the bonds of matrimony by the pastor, Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.I. Mrs. Henry Sullivan, bridesmaid, and Mr. John V. Flanagan attended the couple. The bride wore a brown, marvellous suit trimmed with black fox fur, while the bridesmaid wore a taupe tulle suit trimmed with red fox fur. The bride carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley and the bridesmaid Ophelia roses. The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was a platinum wrist watch and that of the bridegroom to his best man a green gold watch. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 173 Mt. Vernon street. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. Mr. and Mrs. Flanagan, who were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, left early in the afternoon on an extended wedding trip. Upon their return Nov. 1 they will reside at 173 Mt. Vernon street.

Faye—Sullivan
A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Michael's rectory when Miss Mary F. Sullivan, popular telephone operator at the Lawrence exchange, and daughter of Mrs. Catherine Sullivan of Jewett street, and Mr. Walter J. Faye, well known local young man, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw. The couple were attended by Miss Helena T. Sullivan, sister of the bride, and Mr. Raymond Faye, brother of the bridegroom, who acted as best man.

STREET DEPARTMENT BEHIND SCHEDULE

The street department is behind its schedule of work in granite block, reinforced concrete and asphaltic paving, according to figures compiled for the week ending Oct. 6.

Against a schedule calling for 16,633 square yards of granite block paving by that date the department actually had laid 15,571 square yards, against a reinforced concrete schedule of 10,059 square yards, 9911 square yards have been laid, and against a schedule for asphalt of 22,843 square yards, 25,153 yards have been laid.

New McDonough*Funeral Home

impressed indeed with the cozy, homelike atmosphere within. Benjamin Webber, who built the home, was associated with Buttrick & Co., grocers in Market street, where Ervin Smith's store is now located. Subsequently the home passed into the hands of Harlan P. Goodell and later to William Wood. Edison school boys and girls will remember that familiar sign on the old fire box at which read "Keys at N. N. Webber's." The exterior of the home has been left as before with the addition of the ornamental lights on either side of the doorway and a sign reading "M. H. McDonough Sons, Funeral Home." With these two features added, the original stately entrance is retained, and the exterior painted white presents a striking appearance. As one enters the main door, and enters into a hallway, a spacious parlor 14x30 feet on the east side of the building meets your eye. Leading off this room is a ladies' rest room, lavatory, etc. On the west side of this floor are two rooms each 15x15 feet, with a door connecting. These two rooms can be used in conjunction with the larger parlor on the other side of the hall or can be used separately if the occasion arises. It is possible with the layout of these three rooms and the method of entrance into the hallway and then into the funeral parlors to conduct three distinct funerals at the same time without the slightest confusion. In the present headquarters of the firm the need of such an arrangement was made manifest and the McDonough firm has solved the problem satisfactorily. Proceeding along the hallway, next comes the display room, 20x30 feet where caskets and funeral paraphernalia will be on exhibition. Then comes the work or trimming room, 18x15 feet, where caskets can be fitted up. Leading off this room is a morgue which is equipped with a karbolite sanitary floor with the walls and ceiling done in white enamel. Ample window space affords floods of natural light, contributing one of the finest and brightest rooms of its kind in the state. Artificial light will not be required and the McDonough firm is pardonably proud of this feature. Still further comes the last unit of the first floor organization, a garage 20x33 feet, so situated that bodies can be placed in the morgue from the garage, without being in full view of passers-by. Access from and to the garage can be had into either the morgue or the work room or both. A driveway from Highland street extending up and around the garage adds to the convenience of the vehicles at funerals. The furnishings of the rooms on the first floor, particularly that part of which is to be utilized at funerals, are in keeping with a finely kept home. Everything conducive to comfort and rest has been thought out with a view to producing a funeral home creditable to the city and in keeping with the surroundings. On the second floor there is a splendid six room apartment where Mr. John L. McDonough now resides with his family. Apart from the six room suite is a splendid chamber which can be utilized by persons who desire to remain in the home with the bodies of their friends or relatives. The office of the firm is located on the second floor and is phone calls 906-W and 907 day and night will be promptly attended to with efficiency and dispatch. The opening of the new funeral home of this well known undertaking firm marks a milestone in its career. Founded in 1906, by the late Michael H. McDonough, 25 years with James H. McDermott, it has grown to be one of the largest and best known firms of its kind in these parts. Mr. McDonough died in 1909 and the business has been and is carried on by the three sons, John L., Edward F., and George M. McDonough, all registered embalmers. These young men have achieved a fine reputation for competent, courteous service, particular attention to every detail, and their success is attributed to the prompt and intelligent response to all demands. In its 17 years of life in this city, it has conducted several thousand funerals, not only in Lowell and its environs, but sending and receiving bodies to and from all parts of the United States and Canada and European countries. Mr. John L. McDonough of the firm was recently appointed a member of the executive committee of the Mass. Undertakers' association. With a modern and up to date funeral home, imposing in appearance and practicable and homelike, the firm of M. H. McDonough Sons, has given to the undertaking profession hereabouts an institution of which they might well feel proud.

DO YOU CATCH COLD EASILY?

Beware of Stubborn Summer
Colds That Become More Persistent With Cold Weather

When a cold stubbornly resists the ordinary methods of treatment, and one cold rapidly succeeds another after each change of temperature, it is time to take a tonic that will strengthen the blood and give it the qualities necessary to fight off disease. There is such a tonic, as is shown by the experience of Mr. Joseph L. Pullen of No. 67 Ontario street, Oswego, N. Y., who says:

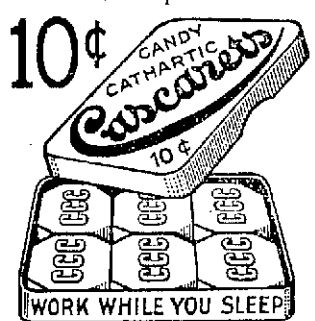

"About a year ago I found that my system was so badly run down that I was seldom without a cold. In my work as a carpenter I was exposed to severe weather and every little change brought on a cold. Colds were rapidly absorbing my strength. I was tired all the time and lacking in ambition and energy. I had very little appetite and what I ate didn't seem to help me. I suffered from heartburn and indigestion and had a pain in my back.

"My father had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they had helped him so much that I decided to give the remedy a trial. I felt some relief after the first box and continued the treatment. In a few weeks I felt more active and energetic and soon my strength returned. I have a good appetite now and no longer have indigestion. The pain in my back is gone. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills built me up so that I no longer catch cold easily. The remedy is an excellent tonic and I do not hesitate to recommend it."

Replacing Burst Hose Line

Assume middle section of pipe line as burst and replace it with new section.

Engine 1—Two men at nozzle. Officer alone laid spare length and obtained hose clamp and was alone for one minute before a man was called for assistance. Other man remained at hose. Time very slow.
Engine 2—Replacing burst length good. Time good.
Engine 3—Promptly done in quick

time except hose clamp not used, the captain electing to close pump discharge gate instead.

Engine 4—Officer did most of actual work and was slow in calling on men to assist. Men showed little initiative. Operator shut down line at engine discharge gate and removed it from outlet, then re-connected. Hose clamp not used. Time slow.

Engine 5—Hose clamp applied too close to coupling. Man at pipe remained there and man who went for extra hose stood with coupling in hand apparently not knowing where to take it. After officer applied clamp he called for the hose and directed the placing of it in line, attached it to the length next to the hydrant, then moved pipe back to new length, leaving the line but 100 feet in length. Company indicated confusion. Elapsed time very slow.

Engine 6—Hoseman got clamp and shut off water at middle of length of hose assumed as burst. Pineman not prompt in assisting officer, who evidently depended on their initiative as few orders were given. After officer had broken line beyond clamp he discovered location of shut off and ordered it put in proper place. Elapsed time very slow.

Engine 7—Clamp put on properly by officer but action slow, officer doing most of work, pipeman looking on. No specific or prompt orders given. One man good and took hold of work without orders; pipeman indifferent. Time slow.

Hose 8—Hose well applied. Good initiative on part of men and good judgment by officer. Elapsed time fair.

Hose 9—Officer and one man did work, driver at horses. Officer ordered pipe open to bleed line before hose clamp put on. Good initiative but slow time.

Hose 10—Driver on seat holding horses; three men for work. Officer personally got clamp and applied it. Men not hose from wagon, but did not know what to do with it and one man remained at pipe. Officer finally ordered these men to work and change was made. Elapsed time very slow.

Hose 11—Hose clamp properly attached. Some delay in getting spare hose and poor supervision by officer. Time very slow.

Hose 12—Water shut off by means of hose clamp well placed. Spare length brought up with wrong end to connect, then reversed on order from officer. Slow time.

Hose 13—Captain ordered pipe open and got clamp which he attached himself. Man with extra hose bundled it over shoulder and carried it all to coupling which had been disconnected; then hose had to be straightened out and captain ordered burst length added and when water was again let on the burst length was still in line which was now 150 feet long. Elapsed time slow.

Use of Appliances

Demonstrate operation of Detroit type of door opener, hose shut-off clamp or double male and female hose connections.

Engine 1—Use of appliances poor. Men did not know which end of door opener to use.

Engine 2 and Ladder 2—Use of hose and ladder appliances fair to good.

Engine 3 and Ladder 3 and Protective 1—Appliances not properly used. Not one man of eight tested.

How To Keep A Child Healthy

A GENERATION ago parents thought that sickness was a part of a child's life, but we know better now. The secret is in the food the mother allows the child to eat, and in watching that elimination occurs regularly two or three times a day. Mrs. J. Russell of 19,141 Havana Ave., Detroit, Mich., keeps her family of two young children in perfect health with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and Mrs. R. L. Smith of 519 Maple Ave., East Pittsburg, Pa., says her family of three children have never been sick a day since giving them Syrup Pepsin.

"Magic" in a Teaspoonful

Every store that sells medicines sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. Give half a teaspoonful to any ailing baby or child at night when you put it to bed and you will find a happy, laughing youngster in the morning. Take Syrup Pepsin yourself when constipated, and give it to any member of the family young or old, for any ailment due to constipation, such as biliousness, headache, lack of appetite, sleeplessness, bad breath, croup, fever sores, indigestion, and to break up fevers and colds. Stop that first sneeze or snuffle and you will have a healthy victim.

A Substitute for Physics

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a scientific compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and soluble aromatics. The formula is on every package. You will find you do not have to force children to take it, and it is much better for them than castor oil, calomel or other drugs like phenolphthalein even if covered with sugar or chocolate. Syrup Pepsin is mild and gentle in action and your child will have an easy passage without griping or strain. It does not contain narcotics, and you can give it with absolute safety to an infant at the breast.

GAS LIGHTING IS GAINING RAPIDLY

LOWELL TRUST COMPANY USING GAS VERY LARGELY

During the past six months there has been a real revolution in Lowell, and in fact in all New England Cities—in the use of Gas for lighting in homes, mercantile establishments and factories.

There are many reasons for this change of heart, notably among them being the invention of better and more efficient Gas Mantles, Shades and Lamps, giving a more even and better light than has heretofore been produced.

This has been noticeably so in the case of the Radio, No. 30, the Reflex, the C. E. Z., and the Reflexolite. Along Merrimack Street, most of the stores are now fully equipped with a Gas Lighting System that is giving genuine satisfaction. Among these we might mention the Fildor's Boston Ladies Outfitters, Pollard's, Gagnon's and MacIntyre's. Two banks have also been fully equipped with the latest type Gas Lighting. The Middlesex National Bank and the Lowell Trust Company.

GARAGES BEING HEATED BY GAS

With the cold weather now almost upon us automobile owners are giving attention to the proposition of garage heating.

During past winters frozen radiators, frozen pumps, cracked motors and other troubles due to cold weather have been a source of great inconvenience and expense to automobile owners.

This can be eliminated to your home garage with the installation of a Scientific Garage Heater, which can be easily installed and which can be operated for a very reasonable sum during the cold months. With proper use the up-keep of a garage heater is not so great that it cannot be readily afforded by most people having private garages.

There is no reason why a garage heater should be used when the machine is not in the garage. Turned off during the day, to be turned on again when the car is brought back to the garage for the night.

With the Thermostat set at 40 degrees and the garage heater used properly the gas bill can be kept at a figure that will be within the reach of the average person.

One of these garage heaters can be seen at the Gas Appliance Store, 73 Merrimack St., at any time. There are a number already in use in Lowell.

LARGE STOCK OF GAS FLOOR LAMPS

To meet the increased demand for Gas Floor Lamps the Lowell Gas Light Company is carrying this year a larger stock than at any time in its history.

The markets were searched for the finest lamps obtainable and the designs being made are indeed beautiful and quite inexpensive.

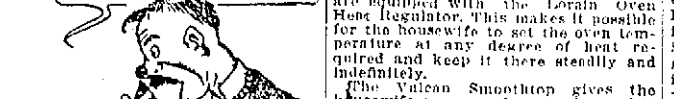

There is one lot of lamps with mahogany posts and the newest style silk shades being sold connected in the home at $21.48 each.

Already a number of these lamps have been taken and there is no doubt that the present stock will soon be depleted.

NATIONAL CANDY DAY

Saturday, October 13, will be National Candy Day. From noon until 9 p. m. the Lowell Gas Light Co. will have a window demonstration showing how candy can best be made by the use of gas.

SILICA GLOBE THAT WILL NOT BREAK

New Invention Will Save Money For Those Who Use Gas For Lighting

A representative of a New York Importing House, with officials of the Lowell Gas Light Company, Wednesday, Oct. 3, in the interest of a new "Silica Globe" which has recently been invented.

This Silica Globe is so constructed that it is almost unbreakable and will when perfected greatly reduce the expense placed upon the ordinary householder in replacing globes that have been broken through one reason or another.

This company is interested in anything that will tend to make the use of gas or its appliances less expensive to its thousands of customers.

While the new Silica Globe must of a necessity sell at a higher price than the globes now being sold throughout the country, it will undoubtedly save a great deal of money and inconvenience in the long run.

These globes will be on display and for sale in the Lowell Gas Light Appliance Store, 73 Merrimack St., just as quickly as the importers can furnish a supply.

FREE SERVICE ON GAS LIGHTS

The Lowell Gas Light Company has a crew of five men known as the maintenance crew, who spend all their time giving a free service to the thousands of Lowell people who use gas for home lighting.

If your lights are out of order or are not giving you real satisfaction we would be pleased if you would call us on the phone. One of these men will be immediately sent to put them in first class condition, no charge will be made for the labor, and only nominal charge for the parts used.

HEAT WATER BY THE VULCAN METHOD

For the person of ordinary means the most convenient method of assuring a supply of hot water when needed is through the installation of a Vulcan Water Heater.

The Vulcan is inexpensive and can be set up in any home on short notice. It comes in black and in gray enamel. It takes but little room and is a big consumer of gas when properly used.

There are thousands of Vulcan Water Heaters in Lowell homes.

7000 TONS OF LOWELL COKE READY FOR QUICK DELIVERY

Lowell Gas Light Company Is Turning Out More Than 85 Tons of Coke Daily—Price Less Than Last Winter

With a shortage of coal and record-high prices for anthracite almost a certainty New England people are more and more confining their house heating problems to the exclusive use of coke or gas.

In preparing for such an emergency as exists at the present time the Lowell Gas Light Company has for some months past been manufacturing more than 85 per cent Coal Gas, giving it a supply of approximately 55 tons of coke per day.

It is hard to remember happenings of the past, but the illustration on this

page will show more clearly than any words, conditions as they existed in Lowell last winter. The photo was taken at the School Street Plant of the Lowell Gas Light Company at 6 o'clock in the morning with the thermometer 8 degrees below zero. The boys and girls in the photograph were waiting in line for the coke to come from the munds for its high grade Coke. At the present time there are more than 7000 tons of coke stored in the yard waiting the demand that is sure to come upon the arrival of the first cold spell.

The price of coke this winter is to be kept at not higher than $14.50 per ton which is 50 per cent less than the price that prevailed last winter. In addition to the lower price a higher grade of coke is being made and 50 bushels are being delivered for each ton ordered.

Extra trucks and wagons have been put into commission, more men have been engaged and all is in readiness to meet a demand for Lowell Coke which we feel will be unprecedented in the history of the Lowell Gas Light Company.

The company has retained the services of two experts who will visit the homes of Lowell customers, demonstrating the proper method of burning coke

Gas, A Healthy Illuminant

We quote from two eminent English professors, who have made a study of gas and its relation to health, both of whom look upon Gas as the best and most efficient form of home lighting.

Dr. Allan Wilson, of London, has issued a Bulletin in which he avers that the new type gas lights are less injurious to the eyes, and cause far less eye strain than other modern form of house lighting.

Dr. F. S. Tongood, Medical Supt. of Lewisham Infirmary, reported as follows in the Medical Journal on Gas Lighting: "In both large and small apartments which have normal means of ventilation, gas consumed in modern incandescent burners when used for lighting assists ventilation by the increased circulation of air. Its advantages in the sick room in respect to its reliability, avoidance of noise, freedom from dust-producing properties, and saving in both work and anxiety—are obvious to every professional man and woman."

These globes will be on display and for sale in the Lowell Gas Light Appliance Store, 73 Merrimack St., just as quickly as the importers can furnish a supply.

CLOTHES DRIED IN THE KITCHEN

During the months of November, December, January, February, March and April Wash day is perhaps the most dreaded day in the average home.

With the rain, snow and hail storms which come with regularity in New England States it is impossible at times to dry the clothes out of doors.

While there have been numerous appliances sold in the past the Gas-Electric Drying Machine which has been recently perfected is indeed a boon to the housewife. The Drying Machine can be set in the kitchen or in the basement taking up a space 2 feet x 4 feet. With the Drying Machine a basket of clothes can be dried in from 15 to 20 minutes.

This saving of time will be appreciated by the housewife as one of the greatest aids brought out in recent years.

The Lowell Gas Light has just taken over the agency of the Drying Machine and a demonstration will be cheerfully given at our Appliance store at 73 Merrimack Street.

AUTOMATIC STORAGE OF HOT WATER

High School Annex Equipped With New System—Many in Home Use

A contract was signed three days ago through the plumbing house of J. E. Drury & Co. to install a 300 gal. Raud Gas Automatic Storage System to furnish hot water for the shower baths and basins in the high school annex.

This contract will give the Annex one of the most up-to-date and efficient water heating systems in the City of Lowell.

The Lowell Gas Light Company is also installing a number of Raud Gas Automatic Storage Systems in the homes of some of Lowell's wealthiest people, those who want an unlimited amount of hot water at any time of the day or night.

These storage systems are what might be called the last word in water heating appliances. They provide an unlimited supply of hot water at all times. They are automatically controlled by thermostat, making them the most useful acquisitions in any home. They can be operated at a cost that is indeed low when the readiness for use and efficiency is taken into consideration.

GAS BEING USED MORE IN INDUSTRY

The Lowell Gas Light Company has recently organized an Industrial Gas Department to call the attention of Lowell manufacturers, bakers, restaurateurs, hotel men, etc., to the modern gas appliances that have been perfected in their respective fields.

The rapidly growing use of gas for heating and cooking has led to the use of gas for industrial purposes. The Lowell Gas Light Company is now equipped with a large stock of industrial gas appliances, including gas engines, gas pumps, gas hoists, etc.

There is no doubt that gas is the finest fuel obtainable for heating and manufacturing purposes. It is clean, efficient, and economical. The Lowell Gas Light Company is now equipped with a large stock of industrial gas appliances, including gas engines, gas pumps, gas hoists, etc.

RADIANTFIRE IN A THOUSAND HOMES

HIGH PRICE OF COAL IS MAKING GAS POPULAR

Of all the inventions of recent years none is more important perhaps than the Humphrey Radiantfire, which is being used in thousands of Lowell homes as the most modern method of room heating.

With one or more of these Radiantfires in the home there is no need of lighting the furnace or until the real cold weather arrives.

Radiantfires are made in a number of different styles and sizes and are being sold at prices that will fit most any purse.

The demand for this form of room heating is greater this year than ever before, necessitating intensive efforts on the part of the Lowell Gas Light Company to keep up with the demand.

In order to reach those living in the store, North Chelmsford. This will be followed by demonstrations at the following places, Brown's Market, Dracut, Small's Store, Tewksbury Center, and the Post Office in Chelmsford Center. Arrangements have been made this year to make all connections free of charge.

There are now some 7,000,000 gas cooking appliances in use, and nearly 5,000,000 gas water and room heaters while more than half of the 325 billion cubic feet of gas consumed in the United States in 1921 was used for cooking and heating.

The first elaborate display of gas stoves was made at the Chicago World's Fair, in 1893. In 1901 the first all-steel gas stove was put on the market. In 1910 began the use of white porcelain enamel that has made the gas stove of today a thing of cleanliness and beauty.

CASES HEARD IN THE DISTRICT COURT

On a finding of guilty to illegally keeping alleged intoxicating liquor, George Labrie, proprietor of a cigar store in Chelmsford street, was sentenced to one month in the house of correction, and fined $100, by Judge Wright in district court this morning. An appeal was taken.

As the result of a raid at 230 Cheever street by Sgt. Winn, Officers Moran and McElroy, last night, Alfred Heland appeared in court today and pleaded guilty to illegal keeping. The officers testified that they found 11 gallons of distilled spirits on the premises, and that they had been watching the place for a long time. Heland paid a fine of $150.

The third illegal keeping case on the docket this morning concerned Sophie Strachan, who was continued until Oct. 20.

Frank Balch was arraigned on three violations of the automobile laws and drunkenness. For operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, he was fined $100, and for driving without license or registration, a fine of $10 on each charge, was imposed. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file.

Dominick Bandzevich of Providence, R. I., was ordered to pay a fine of $100 for carrying a pistol without a license. He said he came to this city last Sunday and went to the home of a friend in Fayette street, where he purchased the firearm for $7. He then got drunk and fell into the hands of the law.

To give him a chance to sober off, Felix Poudrier was committed to the house of correction for 20 days.

Edward J. Chaput, who was arrested in Central street by Traffic Officer John Whelan yesterday afternoon, paid a fine of $100, for driving under the influence of liquor. Before imposing sentence, the court remarked that he may hereafter follow the custom of Judge Crosby of Worcester in imposing a two months' house of correction sentence for offenses of this nature.

TO WOMEN WHO OVERDO

Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty. In order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. Soon a weak head or displacement is brought on and they suffer in silence, going along from bad to worse. For 40 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved a boon and a blessing to women in this condition, by restoring their systems to a normal healthy condition. Why don't you try it?—Adv.

Great for Eczema and Old Sores

"I Guarantee My Ointment," Says Peterson—Every Box of It

"If you are responsible for the health of your family," says Peterson, of Buffalo, "I want you to get a large 25-cent box of Peterson's Ointment today."

"Remember, I stand back of every box. Every druggist guarantees to refund the purchase price if Peterson's Ointment doesn't do all I claim."

"I guarantee it for eczema, old sores, running sores, salt rheum, ulcers, sore nipples, broken breasts, itching skin, skin diseases, blind, bleeding and itching piles as well as for sore feet, chafing, burns, scalds, cuts, bruises and sunburn."

"Gentlemen: I had a running sore on my leg for 5 years, tried all kinds of salves, had several doctors treat it—even had to cut to the bone and scraped—nothing did any good. I was told to try Peterson's Ointment; used three boxes and my leg is entirely healed and smooth as my other leg. Thanking you very much for what it has done for me. Yours respectfully, S. H. ## Third Suitcase Found

Off the straps and the lock easily snapped open. Overcome by the stench, he says, he quickly clamped the lid of the suitcase shut and notified Chief Pelletier of his gruesome find. He did not look at the contents of the suitcase, he says, but is confident that the odor was that of dead human flesh.

Chief Pelletier called for the suitcase and without opening it or looking at it at the time, took it away with him. No words passed between the Lowell man and the Tyngsboro chief at the time as to the probability of the case containing the woman's head. The man who was on a camping and fishing trip went on about his recreation.

The chief of police of Tyngsboro, he says, made it a point to seek him out the next day. The suitcase was hardly mentioned, he says, but the chief laconically and in a meaning manner mentioned, in a far from casual way, that the search for the head of the woman was still continuing in the vicinity of Dr. Robb's camp.

"I sort of took it as a tip to keep my mouth shut and said nothing at the time," the man said. Since then he has become curious and has spent several sleepless nights wondering about the value of his find. Finally, overcome by the desire to "tell somebody," he made known the story to a few intimate friends.

Chief Pelletier of Tyngsboro and District Attorney Heading will not say the head has been found. There is believed to be a strong possibility however that the head was contained in the suitcase found by the Lowell man and turned over to the Tyngsboro chief.

Has District Attorney Heading, whose case against Doctors Robb and Swope has been characterized as woefully weak in points, an "ace in the hole" in the nature of the missing parts of the dead woman's person? That

Y. W. C. A. DIRECTORS

Reports of International Institute, Health and Girl Reserve Departments Read

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Y.W.C.A. was held Wednesday afternoon in the Association building at 3 o'clock.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Nathan Pulsifer, second vice president. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Louis Olney. The following is from the report of the International Institute read by Miss Fern Graden, executive: Statistical report; individual service rendered for the month of September, 221 contacts made; type of contacts, visits to clients, 55; reference visits, 80; interviews, 91; making a total of 236. The kinds of service rendered: Recruiting and follow-up, 14; interpreting and translating, 114; friendly, 44; medical, 41; legal, 39; employment, 32; domestic adjustment, 24. Total, 311. Cases carried with agencies in community. 52; the board of health, charities department, district court, doctors, hospitals, lawyers, Lowell Guild, Lowell Social Service league, mills, police-women, probation officer and schools. The group service, clubs; total attendance, 185, with five organized clubs for the month. Also the visitors who came to the Institute during the month numbered 43. In closing Miss Graden said: "The outstanding feature in the Institute this month has been our club enrolment. Miss Dorothy Beck has been secured to give several lessons to the Martha Washington club composed of younger Greek girls, on ways to help in the kitchen, taking up such things as the care of milk and milk bottles, setting the table, cooking, etc. Miss Natalia Marshall and Thomas S. Matte have consented to give courses in dietetics and interior decorating to the Educational club comprised of young Greek women."

Excerpts from the Girl Reserve report follow: As September is the month of beginnings, our big rally came September the 21st, the first meeting of the fall and winter season, when the three high school clubs, the Tri-High, Tip-toe, and the Highlands, met in Kilton hall for a party and "echoes from Maqu." The girls who had represented the three clubs of the Girl Reserve department at the Camp Maquus convention related various incidents of the trip and the convention. Gretta McPherson, Annette Pease, Marion Fletcher and Dorothy Mignault gave the reports.

The two clubs who really got started this month were the White Eagle club (Greek girls) and the Athens club (Greek girls). A club has been formed from the vocational school, also a Junior High School club, which promise to be two very fine groups. An international club, made up of foreign children, meets every Saturday morning for games and story telling. Recreation, which is the fourth part of our program, is being emphasized more this year and is already proving to be very popular with the girls. Especially the basketball; each club hopes to have a basketball team and have the inter-club games.

The schedule of the health education department was read and plans for opening the center given. The schedule has been arranged as follows: One night is to be given over wholly to girls from the Institute in a cosmopolitan gymnasium class followed by a Greek girls' basketball team. Monday evening classes for adults; Tuesday evening given over to health examinations, followed by basketball practice. Thursday and Friday nights are the sports nights when basketball, bowling and shooting will be taught. Classes for the younger girls are planned for every afternoon in the week. Two committee meetings were held during the month and were well attended.

The report of the cafeteria showed a gain for the month of September in increased meal service, 6,384 meals being the total.

The Home department's report showed that 85 transients had stayed at the Y.W.C.A. during the month; that 17 new girls had found homes in the building, and that "all night service," accommodating girls who had missed train connections, was heavy. Several cases were handled in co-operation with the Lowell Social Service league and the Institute.

From the desk report the number of people listing rooms to rent was 33; the number asking for living accommodations outside the building was 33. Number of persons seeking employment 27; number of employers listing positions, 16.

After the reports were read and approved the meeting was turned over to Miss Kathleen Knight, campaign director for the coming finance effort, which will start Oct. 22, with Mrs. Louis Olney captain of teams. Mrs. Nathan Pulsifer on publicity gave report. The campaign organization is progressing quickly and a general rounding up of captains and workers is in progress. The meeting closed informally.

The worst cases of overcrowding in London on record are two cases of 13 persons in a single room.

SHOT TO DEATH WHILE RIDING

Woman Was Shot While Riding With Post in Lonely Crossroads Section

JEFFERSON, Me., Oct. 11.—Fred L. Post, a marine engineer at New London, Conn., will be arraigned here on the charge of murder this afternoon before Recorder George W. Singer of the Lincoln municipal court.

He was alleged to have killed Mrs. Sybil Estelle Hamilton of Rockland, who was shot yesterday while riding with him in a lonely crossroads section known as Planders' Corner, between Waldoboro and Jefferson.

It was at first supposed she was shot by a stray bullet, in accordance with the story told by her companion, but an investigation resulted in the discovery of powder marks on her clothing. It was alleged, indicating that the shot was fired at close range. The arrest of Post this morning followed.

Post, who had been living at New London a number of years, returned a week ago to Rockland, where he formerly lived and where a score of years ago he was employed as a special policeman. He boarded at that time at Park-Main hotel, formerly kept by Mrs. Hamilton and her husband, Clinton J. Hamilton, who died two years ago.

Mrs. Hamilton was 33 and leaves a daughter, aged 12. Post is about 45.

Post appeared shortly after 2 o'clock at the home of Charles Planders and said Mrs. Hamilton had been shot. The latter accompanied him to the scene and saw her body beside the road.

He said Post told him he heard a shot and noticed she was steering wildly. He spoke to her and she said she felt dizzy. Then she slumped over the side of the automobile. Post said he took her out of the car, then went for help.

"I didn't have time to bake today" worries many a mother, for the promise to have cake at supper or dinner, must be broken; the kid dies and Mama has not kept her promise; they are disappointed—why should they take it so hard? Drake's Cake can be bought fresh at the nearest delicatessen or grocery—and promises at home can be kept.

TO DISSOLVE THE REICHSTAG

Dissolution of Government's Authorization Bill Fails to Pass

BERLIN, Oct. 11. (By the Associated Press.)—President Ebert this afternoon invested Chancellor Stresemann with authority to dissolve the reichstag in the event that the government's authorization bill, giving the chancellor wide authority in dictation of measures for economic rehabilitation, fails to command the necessary two-thirds majority in that body.

The chancellor immediately informed the coalition party leaders of the alternative confronting the government parties. The socialists thereupon immediately called a caucus with the idea of uniting the party in support of the authorization law.

A minority detection in the ranks of socialists was the threat which hung over the measure, giving rise to fears that it would be defeated when it came up for a final vote, which was expected this afternoon. The socialists went into caucus about 1:30 p. m. and the majority members began a course of persuasion upon the minority element which threatened to abstain from voting. Such an act, it was feared, would prevent the government's obtaining the two-thirds majority required.

WHISTLER'S LOWELL SUBJECT OF PAPER

A discussion of the preservation of old houses in Lowell featured the autumn meeting of the Historical society in Memorial hall last evening, presided over by Alfred P. Sawyer, president.

A paper on "Whistler's Lowell," descriptive of the residence of the family of Major George W. Whistler at the house in Worthen street, which now is the property of the Historical society, was read by Frederick W. Coburn.

"The Lowell of the artist's infancy," he said, "though it had borne that name but a short time, was far from being the squalid settlement in a wilderness portrayed by some of Whistler's biographers. Georgian doorways, collections of the arts and crafts of colonial and post-revolutionary decades, still tell of resident families among whom the amenities of civilization were traditional. White men and women of good stock had been living during 150 years in East Chelmsford, West Dracut, Middlesex Village and the northern part of Tewksbury, now consolidated within municipal Lowell."

The carelessness of some of Whistler's most noted biographers as regards the Lowell period of his life was cited in the following paragraph: "In 1827 other engagements took Mrs. Whistler back to Stonington, Conn., and his family soon followed him. There, in 1838, was born another son who was named 'Kirk Boott.' In referring to this brother of James McNeill Whistler, who died in childhood, the omniscient Whistler biographers, Mr. and Mrs. Pennell, make a quite usual error; they call him 'Kirk Boott,' Mr. Eddy, another biographer, calls him 'Kirk,' without giving his middle name. These are minor errors, but they attest the lack of thoroughness with which the first years of Whistler's life and his background have been studied."

MISS MADORE IS TENDERED SHOWER

A shower was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wallace in Westford street in honor of Miss Florence Madore who is to become the bride of Anthony V. Wallace. Miss Madore was presented a beautiful floor lamp with shades of blue and rose. There were 40 of her girl friends present. The decorations were pretty. Miss Madore was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. A mock marriage was performed with Miss Pauline Wallace as the bride, Miss Irene Bernier as the bridegroom, Miss Olive Secord as the best man and Miss Dorothy Ward as the minister. Miss Helen Waytower played the wedding march. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable entertainment was provided.

THE LAW OF RHODES

Some able propagandists who favor cancellation of the inter-allied war debts, have brought up the "Law of Rhodes" as a principle of international law that in their opinion might be applied to the question of reparations from Germany and the war loans from the United States.

This principle is brought down through the ages from the days of ancient Rome and is said to have appeared in the Pandects of Justinian, the Napoleonic code, and even in the more modern application of international law. It is exemplified by this example: "If in order to buy up a ship, merchandise is thrown overboard, the sacrifice made in everybody's interest must be compensated through everybody's contribution."

Various judges are quoted as showing the application of the law in case of voluntary sacrifice made in the general interest, but providing that said sacrifice was made in the proper manner. It has frequently been applied in maritime cases, and now, some European statesmen think that it would be a fine thing if the old law were applied in the cancellation of debts incurred during the war, some of which the allies claim were in the common interests of civilization. The European propagandists are beginning to shout from the housetops that "the sacrifice made in everybody's interest must be compensated through everybody's contribution." Translated into another form, they say: "The more you stood to lose and the more you shall pay; the more you have lost and the more you shall receive."

American jurists are asked to take up this principle and give an opinion on its bearing on the problem of reparations and inter-allied debts. Despite the fact that we have recently arranged a plan of refunding the war loans to the allies, it appears that the question of cancellation is still being agitated in a manner that indicates a conviction abroad that they will never be paid.

The reference to the "Law of Rhodes" implies that in fighting the Central powers, the allies were fighting our battles as well as their own; and they tell us what a terrible calamity it would have been if the enemy had won; but these writers do not seem to acknowledge that the allies would have been beaten but for the assistance of the United States. Was it not enough to save them from subjugation without having to pay them for what they did to save themselves from impending defeat?

ABOLISH CHILD SLAVERY

Publicity given the evils of child labor in various parts of the country will bring forcibly to the attention of the people throughout the United States the necessity of a national child labor law. The textile industry of the south is not the only one against which the charge of exploiting child labor is made. An equally great offender in this respect is the beet sugar industry which is highly protected by the Fordney-McCumber tariff law. It is reported that there has been a great increase in the number of boys and girls employed in this industry this season.

The national child labor committee of New York and the Children's bureau of the U. S. department of labor recently investigated the employment of children in the beet sugar industry and reported serious conditions. Thousands of children, fully a fourth of them under ten years of age, were found toiling in the fields from nine to eleven hours a day. Not only were these children deprived of an opportunity to attend school in the spring and autumn, but they were in many instances contracting physical deformities by reason of their labor and hardship.

Speaking of the inquiry that was made in Utah, the "American Child," a magazine published by the national child labor committee, said: "We found that some rural schools were closed on account of beet field needs." Miss Alice K. McFarland, chief of the welfare division of the Kansas industrial court, made a survey of conditions in the beet fields of that state and called them "deplorable." "It is a common thing to see little tots with long, sharp knives cutting tops from beets," she said. "In many cases they work from 8 o'clock in the morning until nearly dark, with only a short stop for lunch."

It is to put a stop to this form of child slavery that we have an anti-child labor campaign in progress during the present week. Conditions demand a prompt remedy, and congress is expected to pass the necessary legislation at the short session in December. If such an amendment is proposed by a two-thirds vote of both houses of congress, then it will go to the states for ratification, and when ratified by three-fourths of the states it will become effective. That was the course adopted in passing the prohibition amendment and we believe the child labor amendment will be ready adopted. Child slavery must be abolished.

AN ALARMING CRIME EPIDEMIC

New York city is now in the grip of what the newspapers designate as the worst robbery epidemic in the city's history. The records of burglary insurance companies as well as those of the police department bear out this statement. It seems that New York is infested by gangs of professional bandits who carefully plan the time, place and manner of every robbery, they intend to make. They are well armed and usually overawe the occupants, if any, of the places they rob. In many instances they get away with burgeries of banks and stores, under the shadow of police stations, often carrying off loot that amounts to many thousands of dollars.

The question arises, as to how this epidemic is to be met. The police seem to be helpless to stamp it out and the men engaged in it are evidently not under the influence of religion so that they might be restrained by any appeal of that kind. In spite of the fact that in some quarters where a different policy might be expected to prevail, there is a plea for greater freedom for young people in following their own inclinations in matters of faith and morals and consequently also in the action resulting from their convictions in regard to both subjects. Apparently the laws of the land are scoffed at by many of the young people of today and it is hardly to be expected that more freedom will increase their respect for law and order, nor to speak of their attitude toward the deologic which too many regard as obsolete.

If each generation adopts a new religious belief according to its lights,

Was Too Clever
"Boys," said teacher, addressing the fifth grade, "If I stand with my back to the sun at midday what have I on my right hand?" James, from a far corner of the classroom, answered "Fingers!" and yet he got into trouble over it.

Very Thoughtful Man
"You should take a vacation, old man," said Jackson. "You're working too hard and it's water nonsense. Why, you have all the money you need and more." "I know that," assented Johnson, "but I've got to provide for my children's lawyers somehow."

Working It Out
"Why don't you discharge your present doctor and see if somebody else can't help you? Here he's had you in bed for three weeks now and you seem to be getting worse all the time." "I would make a change, but this fellow owes me $50 and his bill books up only $40 to date. I've got to work it out of him somehow."

Happy Water
Ole came into a Minnesota village one day and inquired of the restaurant proprietor: "Got any squirrel whiskey?" "No," said the restaurant man, "but I can slip you a little Old Crow." "Aye, don't want to try," said Ole. "Aye, just want to yump around a little," Minneapolis Tribune.

According to Orders
A Bremer's boy hailed a vessel in dock at Liverpool. The mate gruffly asked him what he wanted. "I've got some vegetables for the ship," was the reply. "All right, you needn't come aboard. Throw them up, one at a time," called the mate, and then stood ready to receive the expected packages. "Aye, there, look out!" shouted the lad as he threw a dried pea at the mate. "I've got a sack of these," Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

No Lady Trumps
"We don't see any lady trumps," remarked the flier. The philosopher, as usual, was ready to discuss any proposition that came up. "That is easily explained," he began. "Shoot," assented the other. "A trump depends on castoff clothing," the philosopher continued. "Well, do you suppose a woman is going around in castoff short skirts when other women are wearing long ones? You'll never see any lady trumps."

Lucky Wasn't Lucky
Lucky, a Boston bull pup owned by M. W. Messing of Graceland, Md., was the wealthiest dog in the world until Dr. J. W. Corrick performed an operation on him and removed $2000 worth of diamond rings and 36 cents in small change from the dog's stomach. At first the rings were believed to be stolen, but Mrs. Messing remembered putting them in an apron pocket while working in the kitchen. Lucky had been playing with the apron and suspicion fell upon the dog. Mrs. Messing placed several cheap rings in Lucky's accustomed corner and spied on the pup from the kitchen window. Lucky sniffed the rings and unceremoniously lapped them up. An X-ray examination and the operation soon followed.

Very Mean Lord
Cortland Barker said at a broker's banquet at Coney Island: "We hear a lot about the tricks the broker plays on the poor public, but what of the tricks that the great money kings play on the poor broker? The average money king treats his broker as Lord Eldon treated Betty. Lord Eldon, you know, was entertaining a few friends at a dinner in a tavern, and he dropped a guinea on the floor while making up the cash for the bill. Well, he couldn't find the guinea, so he said to Betty, the maid, when she came in: 'Betty, I've dropped two guineas. See if you can retrieve them for me.' Betty soon found one guinea and Lord Eldon slipped it in his pocket and rose with his friends to go. 'When you find that other guinea, Betty,' he said, 'keep it for your tip.'"

The English
The English are a curious folk. They say they are not a language. They yet so seldom do. I changed to meet with Jones Saver.

A Lecherer, one day while waiting for the city train All down Redwood way.

I said, "Come take a stroll with me." "The car is late," the train said he. "And if you'll wait an instant by the check my bag," your wife said I.

A service station first passed we. "Osgood," I remarked, "betray," said he. A daffyman went lumbering by. "A van," said he, "a truck," said I.

I stumbled over what had been a salmon can he said, "a tin." Then when I offered clearance, he said he, "a tin," said I.

"Have you an extra match?" I said. He chuckled "No!" Instead. Then paused to flick some ash from me. "My pants," I said, "trousers," said he.

The English are a curious race. I'll say they are, won't you. Suppose to speak our language. They yet so seldom do.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Speaking about plants, a friend of mine tried an experiment the other day which he says proved its worth. In a vase with some fresh cut flowers he placed an aspirin tablet, and the life of the flowers was preserved for several days longer than they would ordinarily. This does not prove that aspirin is an elixir of life.

Add to the names of those eligible to compete for the rating of best man in town that of Secretary Walls of the chamber of commerce. Since his assistant, Mr. Gallagher, resigned a fortnight ago the genial secretary has been gracefully carrying a double burden. "You never know your capabilities until you have to use them," he smilingly remarked when asked if the added load was not irksome.

The Union Pacific railroad system has issued a booklet, entitled "At Grade Crossings—He Who Hestitates Is Safe." The following information is given in the booklet and is of interest to all: In the last five years, 2101 persons (almost twice as many as were killed at the Battle of Gettysburg) have sacrificed their lives at grade crossings in the United States through failure to stop, look and listen. The final paragraph in the booklet is as follows: "Grade crossing accidents would absolutely cease if every driver would stop, look and listen at every grade crossing—wouldn't you do it?"

They tell me the boys of Centralville tendered Walter Foye, well known baseball player, a wonderful reception last Monday night on the eve of his entry into the matrimonial ranks. Mr. Foye is deserving of the many congratulations extended him by his friends. A lover of clean sport, he made many friends by his ability on the ball diamond, and also by his gentlemanly conduct off the field. He is a member of an athletic family, as his brothers, Raymond and Arthur, scintillated on the ball grounds within recent memory. It is a foregone conclusion that Walter will make a "hit" in the Nuptial league.

Headmaster Henry H. Harrell of the high school rightfully takes exception to the propaganda going around to the effect that the High School Alumni association is opposed to Sunday football at Alumni field. A president of the association, Mr. Harrell wishes to correct this prevalent misunderstanding. The alumni of the high school, he says, are strongly in favor of Sunday outdoor recreation, but there is a statute in the laws of the commonwealth which prohibits the Sunday playing of football and other games, to which association is opposed to Sunday football at Alumni field. If neglected, it is charged, to allow the use of Alumni field in violation of this statute, the high school alumni would make itself liable to court action.

Francis Hoven, president of the local branch of the Assyrian Mar Yacoub society, has received from Assyria a Tiger House plant similar to those that grew in the hanging gardens of Babylon. These plants are woody and their stems are covered with a network of branching, in the least, the sun falls to affect them, the cold likewise, and some of them have been known to go several weeks without water. Many people have called at Mr. Hoven's home on Westford street to see the plant and, as he realizes it is a novelty locally, he extends an invitation to the curious to visit his home any Sunday and he will gladly show the plant and give any information concerning it that he can.

"Notice many changes?" a man standing in the square who hadn't been in Lowell for ten years was asked by a friend this noon.

"I should say so, quite a few," said the visitor. "Most of them are for the better, I think. That Fletcher street line, however, is as dead as ever, I see. Been waiting here 20 minutes for a car and one hasn't shown up yet."

"Told the line had been discontinued for to these many years, the visitor said. "Well, then, I can savvy what changes are for the better. I thought I had noticed one that was for the worse."

WOMAN INJURED

BY AUTOMOBILE

Margaret Healey, a resident of St. Patrick's home on Cross street, was painfully injured early last night when she was struck and knocked down by an automobile operated and owned by Joseph P. Lawrence of 107 Crosby St. She was taken to St. John's hospital, where it was found that she suffered from several abrasions, a laceration of the head, and a possible fracture of the shoulder. At the hospital this afternoon it was stated that she was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

NOT CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Thomas R. Higgins, local attorney whose candidacy for school committee was announced yesterday by some of his friends, today denied he had authorized the statement and added that he has no intention of seeking public office.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem The Mechanic Speaks

Maybe I'm "gross, material and blind,"
Maybe my soul's become "commercialized,"
But I'll admit, somehow, I cannot find
What evil lurks in being "standardized."
Standardized tools make work a simpler thing,
Standardized roads and railways give to man
Broader horizons, greater scope and bring
New wonders for his seeking eyes to scan.

"Standardization" gives a million men
What once a thousand, at the most, might own.
It multiplies again and yet again
Comforts that would be otherwise unknown.
Lightens the load of weariness and toil,
Makes steel the beast of burden, and redeems
The plowman from his bondage to the soil.

It does not lie men to material things,
But makes them serve him in a better way;
Give toilers leisure for the thoughts of kings,
For books and music, laughter, love and play.
"Standardized thought?" Ah yes, I've heard the phrase,
It sounds like something ominous, in sooth;
Yet since the first beginning of his days
Man's thought has struggled for a standard—Truth!
It adds new speed to thought, new breadth to dreams,

FIRE PREVENTION DRIVE CONTINUES UNABATED

Today marks the entering of the last half of Fire Prevention week and the enthusiasm of those behind the drive in Lowell is not abated. Plundered by the success met earlier in the week in driving home to the school children of Lowell the need for precautionary measures against fire the crusaders have commenced to preach the same gospel to adults.

Carelessness is the main cause of all fires and by constantly guarding against thoughtless actions we have the greatest of all insurance against the depredations of fire.

Fire losses cannot be eliminated but we have learned that they can be greatly reduced. Statistics for last year from cities of over 200,000 population where fire prevention committees of chambers of commerce functioned throughout the year indicate an average per capita loss of $3.27. This figure is 30% lower than the average of the entire nation and 10% lower than the average of all cities with more than 20,000 and less than 200,000 inhabitants, we are informed by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Encouraged by this record, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has launched a fire waste contest among local chambers of commerce and civic organizations numbered in its membership. The plan and details have been worked out in conjunction with the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Fire Underwriters and the National Fire Waste Council. One of the purposes of the competition is to give recognition and credit to the chambers which are conducting continuous fire prevention campaigns. It is felt that these efforts are producing results and therefore should be stimulated in a manner which will encourage other chambers to appoint committees to carry on the work in their communities.

In order that cities of approximately the same size will be competing, they will be divided into four classes according to population. Grading will be based on the yearly accomplishments in actual reduction of fire losses, education of the general public, and permanent structural and protective improvements.

Although this is the first attempt to apply the competitive idea to the fire waste problem nationally, similar plans have been successfully used to stimulate interest and arouse support in conservation projects when conducted on a smaller scale. That this contest has great possibilities is evinced by the support and co-operation of the leaders in the fire prevention movement who have approved the general plan.

Creston Libranis of Cedar Court, a ten-year-old boy, was struck by a truck owned by the West End Spring Bed Co. and driven by Peter H. Champagne of 582 Gorham street, on Gorham street near Keene, early last evening. The boy was taken to St. John's hospital and it was reported this afternoon that his injuries are not very serious and that he is resting comfortably.

CONDITION IMPROVED
The condition of Bertman Childs, the 11-year-old Littleton boy who was seriously injured in an automobile accident in Littleton last Sunday, is reported today at the Lowell General hospital to be greatly improved. It was thought at first that his recovery was very doubtful, but it is now believed that he is well on the road to recovery.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly
The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good. Pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COMMENCE CLASSES IN CITIZENSHIP

The first session of the classes in civics, government and English were held at the Y.M.C.A. last evening. About 65 men and women who are on the road to citizenship and have applied for either first or second papers have enrolled in these classes.

H. T. Tenney of the Lowell high school is the instructor of the course in civics and government, and Robert L. Trilker is teaching the course in English. These classes are open to any one who is interested in these two subjects, there being no charge for enrollment or registration.

ADJUDICATING FOREIGN MISSIONS

The first meeting of the "We Will Help" society for the aid of foreign missions was held at the auditorium of the Notre Dame academy yesterday. The entertainment program consisted of a short playlet, followed by the singing of appropriate selections, by the graduates. This is the second year of the society which is comprised of about 225 senior members of the academy. The society did good work last year, sending aid to the foreign missions in various ways, and it is expected that this year will prove equally successful.

THE EVERLASTING CLUB

The first meeting of the Everlasting club was held at the home of Miss Mildred B. Coleman, 44 Agawam street, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 9. There was a short business meeting, with the election of officers resulting in the choice of Miss Margaret Foley as president and Miss Agnes Hunt as secretary and treasurer. A social hour followed the business session, with refreshments served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 16, at the home of Miss Michel Kavanagh, 95 Stratham street, in Wiggintonville.

The Best of All Medicines, Says Lowell Man

Draco Relieves Kidney and Liver Trouble—Driving Away Gastritis and Constipation

It is strange that people will disregard the early symptoms of stomach trouble and wait till they are down sick, unable to attend to their duties. Stomach disorders lead to a long train of other troubles. The liver, kidneys and bowels are closely allied with the stomach and soon become affected.

Mr. Albert Wheeler well known in Lowell and vicinity, says:

"My stomach was in bad shape. Gas would form, souring the food I ate and causing belching and suffering. I felt bloated and acid rising from my stomach made me feel terrible."

"My liver and kidneys became affected, my system being clogged by the poisonous backwash of constipation. Each day I felt worse. The suffering was unbearable; then I started taking Draco."

This wonderful medicine improved my condition. And after the third bottle all trace of my troubles disappeared. I feel clean and healthy inside. My stomach digests everything I eat without gas forming and causing suffering. My kidneys and liver are in fine shape.

"I'll tell you Draco has made a new man out of me, and what it has done for me it can do for everyone else."

The proper medicine for such a run-down condition is not harsh mineral drugs and chemicals. Not only science, but sound common sense points instead to those good old-fashioned remedies of the vegetable kingdom, herbs, barks, roots and leaves such as grandmother herself used to brew and use in the days when doctors were few and hard to reach and before new fangled drugs and diseases became the fashion.

Draco is being specially introduced by Green's Drug Store and sold by druggists everywhere.

Important To All Mothers

YOUR children can always be charmingly dressed if you will starch their wash clothes with Linit—the remarkable starch discovery.

Even ordinary cotton goods, napkins, table-cloths, curtains, etc., have a cool, soft, pliable finish, like expensive linen, when starched with Linit.

A New Starch Discovery

LINIT is a scientific starch discovery—distinctly different from ordinary starches. After Linit is thoroughly dissolved, according to directions and is ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING LIKE

WATER—with a "milky" appearance.

Be sure to use Linit according to directions, and unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is why Linit goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches, and is much easier to iron with.

Linit penetrates the fabric, helps prevent wear, and prolongs the life of the material.

You will be interested to know that Linit was originally developed for the use of the great Fabric Makers to give that smartly fashionable finish now so much in vogue.

With Linit you can have your shirt waists look like new. The children can have their garments finished in the daintiest style, equal to the most beautiful French finish.

Linit is sold by all grocers, 10c

—Perfection in starching is guaranteed or your money refunded.

Linit is made by the Corn Products Refining Company—makers of the famous Argo Starch—Karo Syrup and Mazola Salad and Cooking Oil.

Her Neighbor's Advice Helped Mrs. Frick

MRS. ADA FRICK
PERRYBURG, OHIO

"YOU can be just as healthy, strong and happy as I am," said one woman to her neighbor after listening to the description of her ailments. "If you will take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My condition was very similar to yours, I suffered from those awful bearing down pains, weakness, backache, nervousness and headaches until I could hardly drag around. Today I am strong, well and happy because I followed the advice of a friend who had been greatly benefited by this old-fashioned root and herb medicine."

Nearly fifty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. prepared from medicinal roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its fame has spread from shore to shore. You will now find in every community or neighborhood some woman who has been restored to health by its use, or has some friend who has. Therefore ask your neighbor.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials such as the following are on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and prove the merit of this medicine. Therefore no woman should continue to suffer from such ailments.

Mrs. Frick Tells of Her Experience

PERRYBURG, OHIO—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my sides all the time. I can't remember just how long I suffered but it was for some time. One day I was talking with a neighbor and I told her how I was feeling and she said she had been just like I was with pains and nervous troubles and she took the Vegetable Compound and it helped her. So then I went and got some and I certainly recommend it for it is good. Whenever I see a woman who is sick I try to get her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. ADA FRICK, R. # VETERAN "CASEY" STENGEL ENTERS BASEBALL'S HALL OF FAME

THERE IS JOY AGAIN IN MUDVILLE AS MIGHTY CASEY SWATS THE BALL

Immortal Casey Who Brought Tears to Eyes of Mudville Fans by Striking Out, Made Good Yesterday Through His 1923 Incarnation, Charles "Casey" Stengel, Who Belted Blow That Broke Tie and Brought Victory to Giants in First Game of World Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(By the Associated Press.) The immortal, mighty Casey who brought tears to the eyes of Mudville fans by striking out made good yesterday through his 1923 incarnation, Charles "Casey" Stengel, who belted the blow that broke the tie that brought victory to the New York Giants and defeat to the Yankees in the opening game of the world's series. The score, thanks to Casey's powerful punch that sent the ball to the left-center field fence, was five to four.

There must be joy today in Kansas City, for that is Casey's home town. At any rate there is joy in Casey's heart, for he has been dreaming of being a world's series hero ever since 1910, when the manager of the Kansas City club told him he couldn't hit and farmed him out to Kankakee. In those days Casey was but a raw recruit, a lumbering, walking and talking Missouri boy, though he was some. When Casey told him that Kansas City manager told him he wasn't a hard enough hitter for the league, Casey spoke right up.

"Some of these head days you all gonna be sorry you let me go," and now Casey's judgment in himself has been vindicated.

Knee-Knocking Excitement

It was the same sort of situation that the original Casey faced that Stengel bumped into yesterday as knee-knocking excitement producer as ever was played in a baseball park. The score was tied, four and four, two Giants had hit the dust, and the count upon Casey was three and two.

Thousands of spectators, seated in the broad sweep of the stands and bleachers, waited breathlessly for that next ball to come from the fist of "Bullet Joe" Bush, the Yankee finger. Bush wound up; his arm came sailing around; the infielders, their feet set on their toes, Bush loosed the ball. Straight as a rifle bullet it came down toward the plate, and Casey Stengel's bat swung back behind his hip, then came forward again, met the ball on the nose as they say, and sailed away up, over the heads of the infield, past the left and center fielders. Fifteen yards beyond them it struck earth and bounded on toward the fence of the bleachers, under the very nose of the wildly shouting fans crowded there.

Around the bases sailed Casey, to first, then second. It seemed he would never get around. Then he passed third and the encouraging voice of old Hughie Jennings, the coach, pounded into his ear.

Stengel Scores in Crowd Roars

"Gwan Casey! Gwan, boy!" it said.

HOLIDAY PROGRAM BY CHINESE STUDENTS

China's "Double Ten" twelfth anniversary of the republic was celebrated in Lowell yesterday by the Chinese students at the Lowell Textile school. Several instructors at the school and the secretarial staff of the Y.M.C.A. were guests at the program conducted in the Y.M.C.A. hall.

The Chinese Students' club had as additional guests a number of the Chinese residents of the city. A banquet was held in Chin Lee's restaurant at 6 o'clock and followed by games and entertainments at the "Y" until nearly midnight.

Club members participating were W. P. Chen, Hawkins, Nish, K. C. Lee, Clarence Wu, E. L. Kuo, C. K. Kuo, Chester Lin, and T. C. Wu.

EXPECT GREAT CROWD AT MURPHY-MANTY BOUT

A large delegation, including many of the fair sex, is coming to Lowell from New Bedford tomorrow to attend the Charley Manty-Billy Murphy bout at the Crescent rink and cheer for the winner.

Manty is one of the most popular boxers ever developed in New Bedford, home of many prominent pugilists, and whenever he fights in or out of town he always proves a magnet in drawing fans to the ring. His aggressive and dazzling style appeals to the majority of fight fans. He can give it and he can take it, a combination of which is a highly favorable factor among those who enjoy pugilistic endeavors.

Whenever Manty appears at a show in his home town a packed house usually turns out. In Boston, Fall River, New Bedford and other places where he has performed he has also been greeted by large crowds. In Lowell on former appearances he likewise found few empty seats. Confronting him when he stepped into the ring.

Murphy, the local star, is also a boy who can be counted upon to fill the house. He is a Lowell native, and to New Bedford. Along with being a pleasing boxer, one who tosses a thrill into every round, he also has a personality that attracts and keeps friends. Through the years for a few years, he has created an interest in his career that spreads beyond the confines of a single city. He brings new fans from all over the state. In his previous out-of-town engagements he has never found a "slump" gathering.

MITCHELL BOYS' DEFEAT HOWE HIGH

In their first game of the season against Howe high school yesterday, the Mitchell Boys' school triumphed by the score of 12 to 0 in the Mitchell school grounds in North Andover. The Mitchell boys were superior in every period of play and had the lead repeatedly in enemy territory.

The first touchdown was scored by McGrath after a series of passes and runs. A forward pass, McGrath to Mitchell, netted the second and final score in the last quarter.

The lineup:

In 1922 there were 26,700 convictions for drunkenness in London, 6419 of these being against women.

GOLF ATTRACTIONS AT LOCAL CLUBS WILL APPEAL TO SCORES OF CLUB SWINGERS TOMORROW

Columbus day offers several stellar attractions for Lowell golfers, principally at Longmeadow and at the Vesper Country club.

At Vesper M. W. Forrest and Walter Clarkson meet in the final match for the club championship and it has all the earmarks of a battle royal. While many are inclined to believe that Forrest is too brilliant for his older opponent, others who have watched Clarkson recently in practice rounds know his game is sound and will take a lot of punishment.

At Longmeadow on the holiday there will be a medal handicap tournament with three gross, three net and one special prize. On Saturday and Sunday there will be prizes offered for the best 36 hole card turned in. The player who scores the best 18 holes for the three days will receive a golf bag and complete set of clubs.

BROTHER AND SISTER HOLD TWO GOLF TITLES

By N.Y.A. Service
 CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—For the first time in the history of golf in America two national titles are held by members of the same family.

In mid summer Dexter Cummings, shooting a brand of golf that would have been hard to match in any kind of tournament, surprised the smartest by stepping out and winning the national intercollegiate championship, defeating among others Rudy Knepper, Iowa star, who had starred at Brookline in the 1922 national amateur.

Last week Dexter Cummings, not to be outdone by her younger brother, wrote another surprising chapter to the history of the golfing year by winning the women's national championship.

EDITH CUMMINGS

Remarkable Play by Frisch

McGraw at Yesterday's Game

McGraw surprised everybody by starting John Watson in the pitcher's box when the choice was understood to have been the other. So what McGraw will do today is a matter of conjecture. "I've got lots of good pitchers," he said, "can't tell until the last minute which one I'll use."

And so it might be. He might be John Scott, the surprise of last year's series, or it might be Jack Bentley or someone else.

Hughes still has Pennock, Jones and Shawkey ready. Pennock probably will be called upon. Shawkey was sent out to the bullpen to warm up yesterday. Then Bush needed a rest and Jones seems to be the next in line after Pennock.

Today's game will be played in the Polo grounds. It is expected that the attendance will be close to that of the opening game, when 55,307 fans paid their way into the park.

LOWELL TEXTILE AT HARTFORD TOMORROW

It will be "On to Hartford" for the members of the Lowell Textile school, football squad tomorrow morning when they leave for Hartford, Conn., for its game with Trinity in the Connecticut city. Besides the coaches and the squad of 20 men, the team will be accompanied by a large crowd of relatives and friends, and members of the faculty. Assistant Coach John Dunaway was an interested spectator at the Worcester Tech-Trinity game in Saturday and came back to Lowell with considerably information on Trinity plays.

Market tolls in Covent Garden, London's fruit and vegetable market, have not been raised since 1922.

FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Cadets and Butlers Clash on Gridiron Tomorrow — Lineups Are Posted

The stage is all set for the Cadet-Butler imbroglio at Alumni field tomorrow afternoon when all roads will lead to the scene of the much-discussed clash for the amateur football championship of the city. The grand finale in practice sessions for both teams was held last night and only a light signal drill will be indulged in tonight. Profound secrecy has pervaded the doings in the rival camps since the announcement of the contest, which leads the fans to suspect that several surprises will be offered on the afternoon of the game.

Captains Sam O'Connor and Irving Loucraft, representing the Cadets and the Butlers, respectively, this morning presented their lineups for publication that their followers might get an inkling as to their strength. New faces are mingled with the old familiar ones in the following:

BUTLER A.A.

O.M.I. CADETS
 re, Dostaler, Neilkan, g; ... D. O'Connor, ... lb, J. O'Connor, ... lb, Murphy, ... Troville, Neary, ... Rogers, ...

The game will start promptly at 3 o'clock with competent and disinterested officials in charge of the contest. The stands along the sidelines, which were used to good advantage by the high school students last Saturday, will be available tomorrow, affording the spectators the best possible view of the gridiron. Special car service to and from the grounds will be provided by the street railway company, while the city police will be on hand to enforce the world series returns between the periods.

Butlers' Practice

An important practice session will be held by the Butlers tonight at 7 o'clock. All players must be on hand as final instructions, etc. for the championship game tomorrow will be given.

Cup For Winner

To the winner of the Butler-Cadet game will go the coveted trophy, emblematic of the city football championship. Its donor, Frank Ricard, will be at the game ready to present the cup to the captain of the winning team. The trophy is a handsome silver cup, later will be suitably inscribed by Mr. Ricard.

Belvidere in Field

The Belvidere A.A., under the managerial rein of Maurice Conroy, will get into action for the first time this afternoon when they play the strong Tremonts of Lawrenceville. The Belvidere will have one of the strongest and fastest teams in the city when they take the field. Their lineup following is confident of soon seeing them perform against the Cadets or Butlers. The Belvidere firmly believe that they are entitled to a crack at the city championship and already they have challenged the winner of the Cadet-Butler game. Last year they defeated the Cadets in a well played game at Alumni field.

The team will enter the Tremont game with a lineup of veterans, including Jackson Palmer, John Locke, Charles H. Hume, ... Adams, Gallagher and Fred Desmond. They boast of one of the heaviest lines in the city, and a backfield capable of gaining much ground. It is expected that the Belvidere will accompany the team to Lawrenceville.

Ponies and Oakleaves Sunday

Paramount among the activities "across the bridge" next Sunday is the scheduled conflict between the Ponies and the Oakleaves, two leading teams of Centralville, who will try to clinch the championship of that section of the city. Both teams are light, but fast and aggressive, and will enter the game with a right-to-win attitude. Coaches Bill Crossland and Tucker Spence of the Ponies have been drilling their charges nightly on the Lakewood avenue grounds and have developed several new players. The Oakleaves have been strengthened with the signing of new players, including George Knute, who started for the team against the Wanderers, a couple of weeks ago. Others in the lineup are McGrath, Sullivan, Connors, Irwin, Leclair, who will be opposed on the other side of the fence by McGowan, McCabe, Crabtree, MacDonald, Clancy, Millar, Leavitt, Riley and other pony mainstays.

Farm Prices Trend Upward

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Farm prices trended upward during September and on Oct. 1, the index figure of prices paid to producers for the principal farm crops was 27.3 per cent higher than a year ago, 25.6 per cent than two years ago, but 11.3 per cent lower than the average of the last ten years on Oct. 1. These statistics were announced today by the department of agriculture which said the price level increased about 2.2 per cent during September, while the level for the last 10 years decreased about 4.2 per cent during that month.

LOWELL HIGH WILL MEET MANCHESTER

The high school football team yesterday engaged in its last strenuous practice session in preparation for the Manchester high game on the holiday. Only a light workout was programmed for this afternoon.

Confident because of their well-earned victory against Concord high last Saturday, the members of the team will go in against Manchester tomorrow with a determination to annex a second consecutive victory over a New Hampshire rival. The up-river team is much heavier than the locals, but as speed has come to be recognized as an essential attribute on the gridiron (Kenzie Ruck's Notre Dame outfit, for instance, the Lisbon coach eleven is no worrier).

Practically the same lineup that started against Concord last week will face Manchester at the opening whistle, and if their recent performance can be taken as a criterion of their ability, Manchester will have a tough proposition on her hands.

REMARKABLE PICTURES OF THRILLING FEATURES OF FIRST SERIES GAME

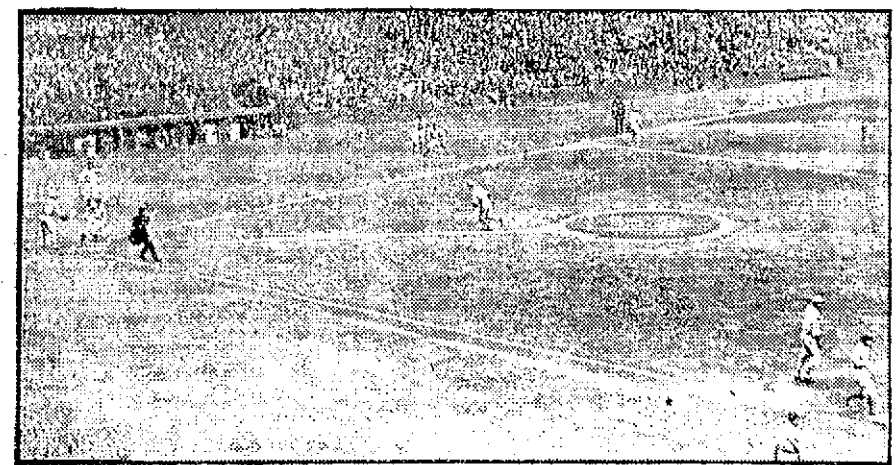

STENGEL'S HOMER FINISHES IT

In the last inning, Casey Stengel, centerfielder, and veteran of many a hard-fought campaign, poled a mighty home run to deep center. The camera caught him coming into the plate, bringing home the run that meant a Giant victory.

THE MIGHTY BABE OUT AT HOME

This shows how Babe Ruth lost a big chance to score what would have been a valuable run for the Yankees by failing to slide into the plate in the fifth. After tripping he tried to score on Bob Meusel's fly of which Frisch made an astounding catch in short center. A great peg by Frisch to Snyder doubled Ruth. Billy Evans is the umpire.

WHEN YANKEE ROOTERS WENT WILD

WRESTLING CARNIVAL AT BUNTING PARK

An open-air wrestling carnival with four well matched sets of grapplers listed to perform is the attraction arranged by Battery B for the holiday afternoon at Bunting park. Last season the battery staged a number of indoor matches and they were among the most interesting seen here in some time. Bob Johnson, the well known Billerica wrestler, who was forced to lay off because of a fractured arm received in an accident while at work, had charge of the free class cards, and he is the "man behind" the program announced for tomorrow. Johnson knows the game from every angle, and hence his knowledge of the game enables him to put up satisfactory matches. For his main event tomorrow, he has hooked up Charles Marshall, known as the "bull dog of Maine" who will tackle Prof. Arthur Davis, instructor at Tufts college. In a bout for the New England light heavyweight championship.

Bill Rudy, of Boston, and Kid Roberts of Lowell are down to clash in the semi final for the middleweight title. Tiger Penhall, of the Battery and Charlie Zavall, Haverhill champ will hook up in one preliminary, while Kid Fourader of the battery and Jim Donnelly of this city will perform in the opening. The first bout will go on at 2 o'clock.

To Mike Menosky, outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, goes a new and unique distinction. Coming to the bat with the bases filled, Mike worked the pitcher for a base on balls. That base on balls indirectly cleared the bases, scored three runs, how come? Well, listen and you will be convinced that almost anything can happen in the very uncertain game of baseball. In the first game of the final series of the season between Boston and Washington, Menosky came to the bat with two down and the bases filled. He worked the pitcher until the count stood three balls and two strikes. Then he fouled off a half dozen pitches. On each pitch the base runners were off with the all very, in order to advance the most valuable bases in case Menosky hit. Sixty pitches Zimmerman of Washington finally pitched one that was wide of the plate, making the fourth ball, entitling the batsman to first and all runners to advance one base.

A long line of fans waited patiently for hours outside the Yankee Stadium before the first battle between the Yankees and Giants for the world's baseball supremacy. Many remained in line all night, keeping the light of their baseball enthusiasm glowing with "hot-dog" sandwiches and peanuts. Not all had to stand in line, however. Many had reserved seats, but arrived at the park early anyway. Among those who came a long ways to see the games were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Eldredge of Raton, New Mexico. They are shown inset.

At the time Menosky received the base on balls, Shortstop Mitchell was on third base. Catcher Walters was on second and George Burns on first. All runners were going at full speed on the fourth ball pitched to Menosky. Burns, going from first to second, rounded that base at least 30 feet in the direction of third. Catcher Ruel of the Washington club took in the situation at a glance and snapped a hurried throw to second that should have caught Burns at least 20 feet from the bag.

Burns, realizing that he would be an easy out if the peg was accurate, stood flat-footed. Fortunately for Burns the ball struck just in front of Pockinpaugh who was handling the throw, bounding into centerfield. As a result all three runners scored on Menosky's base on balls aided by Ruel's bad throw. Had not the throw been bad, the inning would have closed in a most unusual manner. It would have been necessary for the umpire to permit a run to score after the side had been retired. I happened to be the umpire.

"One Eye" Connolly Among the Notables Present—
"Blindman" Also on Hand

Stengel Needed Crowd to Be at Best—Venders Sold 57 Miles of "Dogs"

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—One of the prominent "gate crushers" to exhibit himself yesterday was "Tammany" Young, the terror of ticket takers. "Tammany" won't tell how he got in for nothing, as at least three more games are to be played.

"One Eye" Connolly, who boasts that he couldn't be kept out of jail if a big sporting event was on there, got in, but kept hidden.

Day before yesterday when the Giants were at practice in the Polo grounds, "Casey" Stengel was being joshed by his mates for his inability to hit the offerings of the rookie pitchers. Casey tried time and again, but couldn't for the life of him hit one on the nose.

"What's the matter, Casey?" asked George Kelly.

"Aw, I can't do nothing 'till I get a crowd around," Casey replied.

And when Casey got his home run in the ninth yesterday and the 55,000 fans cheered, Kelly remembering said: "I do declare Casey sure knows his stuff."

One of the most interested fans at the game sat in a box just behind home plate. He was all dressed to kill and beside him sat a fair fan. He was recognized as the same pitiful figure who sits on a Broadway corner at night with a sign on his chest: "Please help the blind."

The vendors of fan foods had a profitable day. The vendor-in-chief, estimating a frankfurter to be five inches in length and a small paper bag to hold 25 peanuts, said he had sold 57 miles of sausage and a half a million of the pods from the fabaceous plants that grow in the southland.

Pitcher John Scott's 11-year-old father came all the way from down south to see the series, sat alongside Kenosaw Mountain Landis, baseball's commissioner general.

Old Amos Rustie, a Giant of years gone by, had to stay at the Polo Grounds all day but heard the result over the telephone. Rustie is day watchman at the Giants' grounds.

Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indianapolis American Association club, who has watched every world series since Christy Mathewson was a rookie, declared it was the most thrilling game he had ever seen.

"Economy" is Tydol's middle name.

Tydol is the economy standard for thousands of critical motorists who are beating the high cost of driving with the low cost of Tydol operation.

Tydol's lean 15 to 1 mixture does it. You burn more air, which is free, and less gas, which is a pleasure. Result—Tydol Economy. More miles per gallon at less cost per mile. You use less oil, have less carbon and develop more power.

Just say the word and all this Tydol Economy is yours—at the Tydol pumps everywhere along the road.

Faccenda Held as Murder Suspect

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—A charge of suspicion of murder was lodged against Ernst Faccenda, early today, by detectives investigating his alleged admission that he saw Emma Dickson, 15-year-old Millville, N. J., high school girl, slain in the swamps along the Port Elizabeth highway, near her home at Bricksboro. Faccenda was held in jail yesterday as a material witness. It was after the return of Peter Sheller, a member of the "murder squad" of this city, from the scene of the crime that the more serious charge was lodged against the prisoner. Faccenda, who is 19 years old and lives in this city, admitted, according to the authorities, that he was a witness to the killing, but declined to supply additional details. He declared that he did not know the identity of the slayer. The detectives plan to question him further today.

Second Fire Prevention Week Blaze

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 11.—The second big fire in Hudson county to occur in fire prevention week, destroyed the Spencer Iron foundry early today, with an estimated loss of more than $100,000. Eight fire companies labored for more than two hours to prevent the flames spanning the street in the National Chemical Products Co. plant. Where thousands of tons of inflammable material are said to be stored.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Stock prices fluctuated within narrow and irregular limits at the opening of today's stock market. Selling pressure was again in evidence in a number of the steel, oil and railroad shares. Sears Roebuck advanced 1/4 point, and Southern Railway moved 1/2 point in anticipation of favorable developments at today's dividend meeting.

The speculative pendulum swung definitely downward again before noon, increasing heaviness of the oil and copper shares being communicated to the general list. Losses in most of the pivotal issues were held to fractions. Additional new low reports for the year were established by Pacific Johnson, Central Leather, preferred, Magna Copper, Calumet & Hecla, Kellogg, Springfield, Pierce Oil preferred and Payson Brothers preferred. Losses of 2 to 3 points were registered by American Beet Sugar preferred, Houston Oil and Famous Players. Southern Railway was the only conspicuous strong spot, moving up 1/2 point to 33 1/2.

Attorney for Saco-Lowell

Sue City

BIDDEFORD, Me., Oct. 11.—Efforts to apprehend the person who shot Herman Steinback, a replacement moulder in the Saco-Lowell foundry, Tuesday night, have not been successful. It is believed he will recover. The Saco-Lowell company has offered $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the assailant.

Judge George L. Emery, attorney for the Saco-Lowell mills, said last night that unless replacement moulders are permitted to go to and from their work unmolested he may bring suit against the city of Biddeford for $100,000 and against the Moulders' union for conspiring to interfere with the business of the company.

He notified Chief of Police Robbins last night that unless he preserved law and order a request would be forwarded to Gov. Baxter to send militia here to afford protection to the replacement men. County Attorney E. B. Titcomb and Sheriff H. A. Roberts of Sanford are here to investigate the shooting.

MATRIMONIAL

A charming October wedding was held in the rectory of St. Michael's church yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock when Miss Margaret K. Tobin and Mr. Michael J. Rogers were united in marriage by Rev. James P. Lynch. Miss Wilfred C. Mullin was the maid of honor and Mr. John T. Rogers acted as best man. The flower girl was little Alma Margaret Tobin of Bayonne, N. J. The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of light blue crepe de chine and veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bride is a popular employee of the Day State mills where she is the secretary of the Day State Social club, and was a member of the 101st auxiliary during the war. The groom is a World war veteran and is employed as a meter inspector by the Lowell water works. The bride's present to the bride was a yellow sapphire ring and to her flower girl she gave a silver mesh bag. The groom's present to his best man was a gold watch chain. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 17 Third street. The ushers were Francis P. Rogers, James A. Rogers, John R. Doyle, Joseph Tobin, T. James Tobin of Bayonne, N. J., and Arthur Brown of Adams, Mass. Entertainment was furnished by the Dion sisters, Raymond Kelly, John Doyle, Sadie Sheehan, Margaret Planagan and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rogers. The bridesmaids were Misses Anna Tobin, Mary Carmody and Claire Rogers danced for the gathering and Mr. Charles Nichols played for all to join in the singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers left at 8.45 for an extended wedding tour to include New York and Philadelphia, and after their return about Nov. 1, will be at home to friends at 11 Third street.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 3

Jack looked around and saw a smiling little thin man sitting on the arm of a big chair. "Lurrah!" repeated this little man. "You have brought my balloon back, and for that I shall pay you well." "Who are you?" asked Jack. "Oh, ha!" came the reply. "Don't you know?"

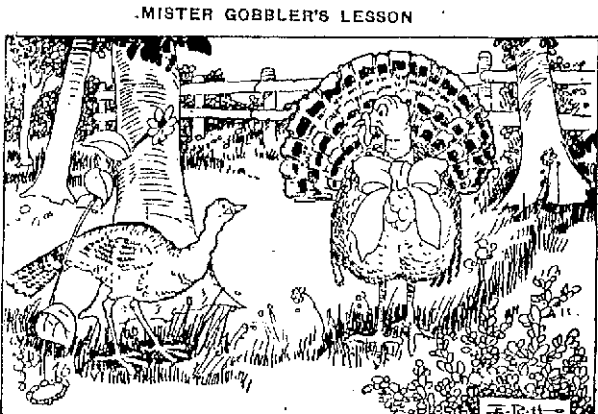

And then the little thin man laughed long and heartily. "Why I am the man who makes King Bugaboo laugh. My name is Jingo and they call me the jester." And then Jingo stopped short, as a loud clanking sound was heard. "Hide under this chair," he shouted suddenly.

MISTER GOBBLER'S LESSON

Very early in the morning Mister Gobbler opened his eyes. The sun wasn't up—but it was coming, for long fingers of light were snatching away the night mists. "Gobbie, gobbie, gobbie!" said Mister Gobbler, "this is going to be a grand day! And I'm as hungry as a sword-swallower, whatever that is. But I saw it advertised on a fence near the road and the man looked awfully hungry. Gobbie, gobbie, gobbie! Get up, family! Don't forget, the early bird gets the worm." "Yes, but what does the early worm get?" piped up Lanky Legs, the little turkey boy, opening one eye and then shutting it again. But like a shot he opened it again, and then the other, and he stared and stared and stared. "What on earth are you looking at?" asked Mister Gobbler peevishly. "One would think you'd been brought up on a desert island instead of a respectable wood pile beside the barnyard. What are you staring at?" "I was thinking," said Lanky Legs, blinking his eyes as hard as he could, but he didn't finish his sentence. "Mother! Oh, mother!" he called. "Wake up and look what's around Daddy's neck!" Mister Gobbler awakened with a start. He'd been dreaming something awful about an ax. She was glad to

EXHIBITION DANCING AT THE KASINO

Tomorrow night, Jimmie Ballo and Leahy Fontaine, Lowell's favorite ballroom dancers, will give a new and original exhibition in the Casino dance pavilion. As the couple has received an enticing offer to go on the stage during the coming winter, tomorrow night will positively mark their last appearance in this city this season. Consequently, they have prepared a series of their latest interpretations, many of which they will employ before the footlights, for presentation to Casino patrons tomorrow night. General dancing will also be in order. Campbell's orchestra furnishing the music.

On Saturday evening, another of the celebrated "Chocolate" parties will be held. Those who were fortunate enough to be "in" on previous affairs of this nature are loud in their praise of them. A new assortment of sweets arrived fresh from a well known factory this morning and will be freely distributed to the lucky individuals Saturday evening.

HORSE INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

A horse belonging to C. Pickard of 324 Moody street, was painfully injured near the Alken street bridge about 8 o'clock last night when struck by an automobile, the driver of which is unknown. Agent Richardson of the humane society was summoned and upon viewing the wounds, sent a call for a veterinary surgeon. The accident occurred when the horse became frightened at the approach of the oncoming machine, and became unmanageable.

I'll stay right at home until this horrid thing comes off.
And so he did. And all the turkeys stared, for he was the leader, and where he went, they followed.
So Farmer Smith's luck went was saved, and Nancy and Nick and Mister Dodger had many a good laugh at Mister Gobbler's plight.
But it did him good and taught him a lesson.

Reception to Retiring Teachers

MISS E. IRENE HOGAN
Committee Chairman

MISS MARY E. TOBIN
President

The members of Lowell Teachers' organization met last night in Liberty hall of the Memorial Auditorium and tendered a reception to Miss Maria W. Roberts and Miss Frances M. Webster, both of whom recently retired after nearly half a century of efficient endeavor in the field of education, and also to the incoming and retiring officers of the organization.

The reception was held in place of the regular business meeting and nearly 300 teachers were present. In the receiving line, in addition to Miss Roberts and Miss Webster, were Mayor John J. Donohue, Sup. of Schools Hugh J. Molloy, Boardmaster Henry H. Harris of the high school, Miss Mary E. Tobin, president; Charles E. Deane and Miss Emma Graham, vice presidents; Miss Katherine Kelly, secretary; Miss Katherine Usher, treasurer; Miss Caroline A. Downey, retiring president; John G. Wolcott and Miss Fannie Murphy, retiring vice presidents.

The members of the organization marched into the hall to the strains of a selection played by the high school orchestra.

Following the reception a large group of teachers acted as ushers and escorted the members of the organization to their seats, while another group served refreshments.

Several piano numbers were played by Almonzor L. Dupuis, a member of the high school faculty. Miss Ruth Boucher, accompanied by Miss Gertrude P. O'Brien, entertained with several contralto solos. The entertainment program was brought to a close with several orchestral selections by the high school orchestra, under the direction of Fred C. Plant.

Miss Mary E. Tobin, the new president of the organization, then mounted the platform and called the meeting to order. In a short address she outlined the reason of the reception and meeting, and announced that the executive council had prepared a motion, naming the two principal guests of the evening as honorary members. This motion was put and unanimously accepted. Then, in accordance with a custom of the organization, she asked the election of Miss Caroline A. Downey, retiring president, as an honorary member, and this was unanimously voted.

The hall was beautifully decorated with potted plants and palms and the stage was banked with numbers of both. The meeting was an auspicious opening of the fall social season and the greatest credit for the success of the affair goes to the members of the reception committee, of which Miss E. Irene Hogan was chairman and the Misses Edith Erskine, Charlotte Walsh, Helen Abels and Georgiana Keith, members.

Retiring Teachers Schoolmates

Miss Roberts and Miss Webster were schoolmates. Both attended the Varum grammar school and the high school, Miss Webster being two years ahead of Miss Roberts and graduating from the high school in 1873. Miss Roberts graduating in 1875.

Upon leaving high school Miss Webster immediately entered the field of teaching, receiving an appointment as permanent teacher in the Mann school in 1873. For eight years she taught in the fourth grade of that school and was then transferred to the Butler school, ninth grade. She remained there for eight years and then went to the Edison school where she remained until she retired last June. Miss Webster is a sister of Mary Ann Webster, who is the oldest living teacher in the city and who retired as a teacher in the high school several years ago under the compulsory teachers retirement act.

Miss Roberts received a permanent teaching appointment in 1873, the September following her graduation from high school, and was sent to the Varum grammar school. For 23 years she taught at this school, being assigned to the 4th, 5th and 7th grades at various times. In 1898 she was transferred to the Bartlett grammar school and remained there until her retirement last June. She taught in both the 5th and 7th grades at the latter school and was one of the teachers assigned by the state to drill Normal school girls in the art of teaching. Because of this latter position, she became acquainted with the majority of the girls who attended the Normal school and in this way well known among the elementary teachers of the city.

Both of these retired teachers are in good health and it is the consensus of opinion among the teaching fraternity that neither would have retired last June but for the fact that it is compulsory law under state law for every teacher to be pensioned upon reaching the age of 70.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF
IN ACCIDENT CASE

A sealed verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1125, was reported by a jury before Judge Qua in superior court this morning in the case of trying L. Wright vs. John M. Collette, both of Lowell.

The matter went to the jury only on the issue of assessment of damages, as the defendant had been defaulted. The plaintiff claimed he was injured in an auto accident in a collision with an auto owned by the defendant, that he lost 12 weeks' pay at the rate of $34 per week, and that hospital and doctors' bills amounted to $216.

Attorney J. J. Hennessy in presenting the case to the jury yesterday, argued that the plaintiff was not only entitled to expenses, but that he should further be recompensed for his pain and suffering.

In his charge to the jury Judge Qua instructed the panel that the issue was solely to fix the amount of damages to which the plaintiff was entitled, that the return on the writ has shown the defendant was personally served with notice of the suit, that he had not filed any answer, and was therefore defaulted.

A jury was then empaneled in the case of Stanley Urbanowski vs. Eastern Mass. St. Ry., in an action of tort for $500.

The plaintiff contended that while operating his automobile on Bridge street in Lowell on May 8, 1923, his auto was run into by an electric car, because of alleged negligence on the part of the operator of the electric car.

Attorney Francis C. Zacharar was counsel for the plaintiff and Attorney Fred Wier for the defendant.

NORMAL SCHOOL LECTURE

Slate Supervisor Talks on
"What Teaching Means to the State"

A lecture on the subject, "What Teaching Means to the State" was given to the students of the State Normal school yesterday afternoon by Burr F. Jones, state supervisor of elementary education. The speaker was introduced by Principal Clarence M. Wood of the Normal school.

Mr. Jones emphasized the fact that the necessity of normal schools was recognized first by Horace Mann, at that time serving in the senate. After an investigation by the first state board of education, which he headed, it was found that "training is a prerequisite to good teaching" and Edward Dwight became so interested in the matter that he offered Mr. Mann $10,000 for the training of teachers if he could secure twice that sum from the legislature. Mr. Mann went before the house with his campaign and on April 19, 1838, the measure was passed with a dissenting vote.

The inauspicious beginning in an old academy building at Lexington with three frightened pupils and the steady increase to ten schools with a total of 3000 pupils was achieved at some length. The number of teachers who are college or normal school graduates is steadily increasing and the time when they are 100 per cent that way will mark the period of greatest efficiency in our schools.

Speaking of the salary question, Mr. Jones said:

"In 1817 there were over 2000 teachers receiving less than $300. The state sought to the need of remedying this situation and provided a law in which no town or city in the state, no matter how small or poor, can employ a teacher at less than $700. This has been accepted by every municipal government until the average salary has grown to $1000 in towns of less than 5000 inhabitants. Throughout the state there is an average of good sized towns and cities of $1400 and in the large cities it is $1500."

The reason Massachusetts takes such an interest in her teachers and has protected them by tenure of office and retirement systems, Mr. Jones explained, is because not having any natural resources, our best efforts are put to educating the people for material prosperity and better citizenship. He cited the many prominent men of the nation today who were born or educated in Massachusetts as a result of justifying this course.

Miss Katherine Butler thanked the speaker for his address, on behalf of the students.

Next week the students of the senior class will themselves discuss "What Teaching Means to the People."

13 Killed on R. R. Crossings

Pennsylvania railroad, struck a horse-drawn school bus on a grade crossing one-half mile north of Rootstown, in Portage county.

One girl and four boys, passengers in the bus, escaped uninjured. County and school officials are at a loss to explain how the accident happened. The crossing where the crash occurred affords a clear view of the track for 60 rods, it is said. The bus was nearly across the track when struck, the horses escaping uninjured as the vehicle was torn away behind them.

Five Die in Crash

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 11.—Five persons lost their lives and five others were injured at Hepburnville, near here today, when a Pennsylvania railroad train struck the Williamsport Trout Run bus. Two were killed outright and three others died in a hospital. The dead are:

George D. Ault, 65, South Williamsport; Sarah Hall, 63, South Williamsport; Mrs. W. C. Anderson, Williamsport; Harry C. Schickel, 41, Philadelphia; unidentified elderly man.

OFFICIAL SURVEY OF MERRIMACK RIVER

The third 24-hour survey of Merrimack river water for the purpose of testing its purity or impurity was begun on Tuesday by representatives of the state department of health. The first survey was made in July and the second on August 8 and 9.

These surveys are part of an official investigation with a view toward minimizing the pollution of the river water and the possible establishment of a trunk line sewer. All three surveys have been made in the basin just above Pawtucket dam and samples of water have been taken from the river at different times during a 24-hour period to obtain facts on all possible conditions.

JOHN E. HART
Retiring Grand Knight

FRANK A. GROVES
Grand Knight-Elect

Tonight's exercises in connection with the observance of Columbus day by the members of Lowell Council, 72, Knights of Columbus, will be featured by the retirement from office of Grand Knight John E. Hart and the installation of the newly-elected officers, headed by Grand Knight-elect Frank A. Groves.

The exercises will take place in the K. of C. hall in Dutton street, beginning at 8 o'clock. Vocal and instrumental entertainment will be furnished by James E. Donnelly, Francis A. Connor, Andrew A. McCarthy, Thomas J. Brann, and others.

Announcements will also be made concerning the Columbus day program tomorrow. Several out-of-town guests will be present.

Grand Knight Hart, who has served the council faithfully and efficiently for the past two years, will make his farewell address tonight and hand over the reins to his successor. The new grand knight will make known his appointments for the ensuing year. He has already named Edward F. Statery, Jr., as lecturer of the council, and the selection will be hailed with satisfaction.

A buffet lunch will be served after the meeting.

The other officers to be installed are: John J. Flannery, deputy grand knight; James B. Coughlin, chancellor; Philip J. Green, financial secretary; Patrick J. Sweney, recording secretary; Frank J. Finnegan, warden; Thomas J. Fitzgerald, treasurer; Jan. J. Brann, advocate; Richard Costello, inside guard; John J. Lane, outside guard; Thomas A. Ginty, trustee for three years; John E. Hart, delegate to state convention; George F. Brigan, first alternate; Andrew Molloy, second alternate.

The following committee is in charge of the affair tonight: Frank J. Finnegan, Albert B. O'Hair, Fred Stowell, Robert B. Thomas, Daniel J. Sullivan, Edward B. Hart, Frank Kelly, Edward F. Saunders, Frank A. Groves and the retiring lecturer of the council.

Insurance Exchange Engineer Finds Lowell Fire Department at Low Standard of Efficiency

Filed with the report of the special committee which investigated Lowell's water and fire department conditions, containing many recommendations for improved service and protection, is a report submitted by Engineer John B. Caldwell of the N. E. Insurance Exchange on results of inspections made to determine the efficiency of company units of the fire department in the use and handling of apparatus and equipment. It is dated August 16, 1923.

In conducting the inspection 13 evolutions were used designed to show how the men of the department acted in emergencies and in the usual conduct of fire fighting. The report is not satisfactory, except in spots, in fact it seriously criticizes the work of many of the engine, hose and ladder companies, officers and men alike.

The main criticism was "slow time," although "lack of initiative" also was found in many instances, according to the report. The report states also in specific instances that the men showed lack of familiarity with equipment. Praise is given where the inspector found it due and censure is administered just as freely.

Thirteen Evolutions
The 13 evolutions stipulated in the conduct of the tests were as follows:

1. Starting on signal make short run from station to selected hydrant, show water at nozzle attached to single line on hose 100 feet long.
2. Starting on signal make short run from station to selected hydrant, connect engine and show water at nozzle attached to single line 150 feet long under 100 pounds pump pressure.
3. With water under hydrant pressure flowing through line assure middle section as burst and replace with new section.
4. Hoseman and ladderman operating together. Ladder to be placed at selected building for use of hoseman to take line of hose over ladder on.

WOLSCHEIDT WOMAN'S HEAD THOUGHT FOUND IN THIRD SUITCASE IN RIVER

Lowell Man Found Third Suitcase in River and Turned it Over to Tyngsboro Chief—Believes it Contained Human Flesh—Nauseated by Odor on Opening Case He Turned it Over to Police After Closing it Without Looking at Contents

Has the head of Mrs. Alice Wolscheidt, whose limbs and torso were found floating in the Merrimack river near Tyngsboro three weeks ago, been found?

That is the question that is being asked by many who have followed the case closely and who are strongly inclined to believe the head has been found and turned over to District Attorney Reading.

The theory that the head has been found but no mention is being made by the state in order to spring a dramatic surprise in court when Mrs. William M. Robb and A. H. Swone are arraigned is gaining great credence.

It is known that a third suitcase has been found. The person, a Lowell man, who found a third suitcase near Tyngs Island, is known to The Sun.

The suitcase was turned over to Chief Pelletier of the Tyngsboro force, this man says. Since then nothing has been heard of it.

There was a decomposed, odorous substance within that suitcase. The man who found the suitcase thought at the time that it might be the head of the woman whose dismembered limbs were wrapped in one suitcase and whose torso, wrapped in another suitcase, were found after being buried into the Merrimack.

"This suitcase was held tightly together by a cheap brass lock and by two leather straps. The finder took

STOLE $125,000 WORTH OF FURS

Selected Choicest Furs, Lowered Them by Elevator, and Loaded Trucks

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Six thieves early today trucked $125,000 worth of baled furs from the warehouse of Frederick Huth & Co., on West 38th street.

While one robber stood over the night watchman with a pistol, his companions leisurely went through several floors of the warehouse, selecting the choicest furs in the stock and lowering them to the street entrance by elevator.

Three truckloads of the furs were removed. The watchman was sitting smoking his pipe on a loading platform of the warehouse at 10 o'clock last night, he told police, when two men approached, covered him with pistols and said:

"Remember that Rotterdam store hold up yesterday where two guys got bumped off? Well, if you make a peep you'll go the same route."

"They referred to a $15,000 daylight robbery in which a messenger and a bandit were killed."

The watchman then was locked into a clerk's office, where he could hear the truck arriving and departing with the loot as the elevator was driven from floor to floor to be loaded. The bandits made their selection of furs from a stock which filled seven floors of the building.

URGES ANTI-KU KLUX KLAN LAW

Gov. Walton Calls Upon Oklahoma Legislature to Enact Law

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 11 (By the Associated Press).—Governor J. C. Walton called upon the Oklahoma legislature today to enact an anti-Ku Klux Klan law to save the state from the disaster he says it faces through existence of the secret organization.

In his address, opening an extraordinary session of the assembly, the executive charged the Klan with responsibility for hundreds of outrages and threatened his remarks by laying before the lawmakers transcripts of all testimony adduced by military courts of inquiry, which under his proclamation of martial law investigated mob violence and masked depredations in various parts of the state.

He requested the solons to examine the record and then publish it.

"This all-powerful and most demoralizing 'super-government' in undermining the very corner stone and foundation of our government and sapping the lifeblood of our citizenship," Governor Walton declared, "it must either be killed or the government itself must finally give way to anarchy and revolution. There is no alternative or middle ground."

The governor evoked at length the chain of events which have kept the state in turmoil for a month and concluded his message with a plea that the legislature immediately pass a bill which he himself has prepared "that the people may be protected forever in their person, property and fundamental liberties."

"The conflict between the visible and invisible government must be brought to a close with a complete victory for the visible government, or Oklahoma will face indefinite turmoil and strife, the results of which are bound to be disastrous," he said.

Ruth's Two Home Runs, With One Circuit Smash by Ward and Pen-nock's Fine Pitching, Big Factors in Bringing Victory to Yankees by Score of 4 to 2

POLO GROUNDS, N. Y., Oct. 11. (By the Associated Press).—"Duke" Ruth came to the surface of the world's series today and snouted. He banged two home runs into the left field stands and that, with two other runs, one a circuit drive by the black haired Ward, was enough to slank the Giants by the score of 4 to 2.

Harb Penneck with his southpaw slants, opened the seams of the Giant craft and they took water in every inning except the second and the sixth. The baseball bug who scoffs at the league games and bites only on world series ball, got a surprise when he came into the historic old arena, for, as the saying goes, "It ain't what it used to be."

Since last year the outfield bleachers have been wiped out almost completely and the double-decked grandstand enclosed until it forms almost a complete enclosure with a small horseshoe opening broken in the center by the electric score board.

In this cheese box—or perhaps, it more resembles a curtain of Pittsburgh stables—5000 fans who had to get up early or watch the game down town on an electric score board, were impatiently seated when the brass band, looking a bit like a band of the past, took the field, dragging its heavy instruments. Those who didn't sleep last night, were kept awake and those who did were not to sleep with a soothing melody that sounded like distant cannonading.

The early fans filed into the park lazily and leisurely, dropped into convenient seats, drawing down their hats to keep out the half-light that seeped through the mark under the shoulder of Hogan's Bluff.

There were occasional sounds of revelry when Nick Altrock and Al Schacht, the buffoons of baseball, did their stuff. The comedians gave a new touch today, a double barreled argument with an imaginary umpire in the direction of whose phantom presence they threw clouds of dust and then imagined themselves chased from the park. A five-year-old boy aided the act.

Advance guards from the two teams came onto the field almost simultaneously but there was hardly a ripple from the crowd.

Looking jaunty and full of fight, it wouldn't have been guessed that the Yankees had lost the opening game yesterday.

Into Ruth, one of the first on the field, swung his trusty buntrod on the sidelines while Coz Dan Dolan gave the Giant recruits some batting practice on the diamond. When Casey Stengel came upon the diamond a great cheer went up.

The Giants were attired in their spid and span white uniforms, while the Yankees had on their blue traveling costumes.

First Inning
Yankees: Witt up. There was a delay until the photographers could be cleared from the bleachers. Frisch tossed out Witt. Dugan walked on four straight balls. Ruth walked, and the crowd howled. Meusel hit into a double play Bancroft to Frisch to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants: Bancroft up. Scott threw out Bancroft. Penneck took Groh's smash and threw him out. Ward robbed Frisch of a hit with a one hand stop and a quick throw to first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Yankees: Groh threw out Pipp, making a nice play on Pipp's hot grounder. Ward hit a home run into the up-

Giants: Groh singled over the middle bag. Frisch got a near home run in the right field stand, the ball being foul by inches. Frisch singled into left. Groh going to third. Groh scored when Young singled into left. Frisch halted at second. Meusel forced Young. Scott to Ward. Frisch went to third. The Yankees claimed that Young interfered with Ward in making a double play. Umpire Hart would not allow the claim. There was a long argument at second base. Cunningham hit into a double play, Scott to Ward, to Pipp. One run, three hits, no errors.

The crowd jeered Young as he walked into right field.

Seventh Inning
Yankees: Bentley took Witt's hopper and tossed him out. Bentley also threw out Dugan. Ruth walked. Ruth was caught off first, the play being Snyder to Kelly to Bancroft to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants: Kelly fouled to Pipp. Snyder sent a high fly out to Meusel. Bentley got a hit into left for two bases. Bancroft fouled out to Dugan. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Inning
Yankees: Meusel fouled out to Snyder. Pipp singled into center. Pipp stopping at second. Schang fled out to Meusel. Scott fled out to Meusel. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Giants: Dugan threw out Groh. Scott threw out Frisch. Young up. The crowd jeered while the Giant rosters cheered. Young got a single into center. Meusel singled into left. Young going to third. Gowdy battled for Cunningham.

Gowdy fled out to Witt. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning
Yankees: Stengel went into center field for the Giants. Bancroft threw out Penneck. Frisch threw out Witt. Dugan got a two-base hit into left. Ruth sent a high fly out to Stengel. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Giants: Dugan threw out Kelly, another sparkling play by Dugan.

Scott threw out Snyder.

Jackson batted for Bentley.

Jackson fled out to Meusel. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Final score: Yankees 4, Giants 2.

NATIONAL PARTY LEAVES REICHSTAG

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—(By the Associated Press) The Reichstag this afternoon voted the first paragraph of the government's authorization bill by 253 to 97.

The second paragraph also was voted, but when the bill as a whole came up for a final vote the entire nationalist party left the Reichstag chamber.

This left the body without a quorum, and the Reichstag adjourned until Saturday when a final vote on the bill is expected.

NOSE BLEEDING

The nose is perhaps more apt to get in trouble, and epistaxis result, because it protrudes from the general contour of your face into the world. The tender nasal bones are often subjected to painful fractures. Bleeding is usually the result with pain and discomfort.

Epistaxis may be the result of any one of many important disturbances. Its attack comes from within and not from contact or surface blows. Nose bleed calls for serious expert treatment, where a loss of blood may mean days and even weeks of lost vitality. Frequent periods of epistaxis often come with a rush when least expected. The latest study and treatment of this trouble ascribes some of the important causes as cerebral congestion, haemophilia, tendency to bleed (in profuse bleeding or hemorrhage), sexual trouble particularly among young girls at the period of puberty, high blood pressure at middle age, kidney trouble of certain types and as a result of local disease or ulcer. To these may be added common nasal snafus with the inflammation, congestion and rupture of the blood vessels in the mucous membranes of the olfactory system.

In many cases the bleeding will cease or control itself in a short time. But not the real epistaxis, and frequently heroic treatment has to be given to avoid exhaustion.

In the more severe attacks, adrenalin, which has come to be such an aid as a stimulant and haemostatic, may be used to check the flow. A little wad of absorbent cotton saturated with adrenalin and inserted rather tightly in the nose will usually prove effective.

Another good home treatment is to use a piece of lemon or a small soft cloth wrung out in vinegar, as an astringent. If these do not stop the bleeding the patient must be plugged and a physician called at once.

In milder cases try cold application to the outside of the nose or pressure on the nose or upper lip. Another convenient method is to place a roll of bandage (about one-fourth inch in diameter and one long) under the upper lip. This also gives the desired pressure.

PURSE OF GOLD FOR RETIRING PASTOR

Rev. and Mrs. Henry K. Vye were tendered an informal reception at their home, 33 Oakland street last evening by a large number of friends.

Rev. Mr. Vye recently concluded his pastorate at the Calvary Baptist church and the affair last evening was attended by a large number including members of the congregation as well as friends throughout the city.

Refreshments were served and several musical selections, including baritone solos by Walter W. Colby, accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Clement Lavergne, were features of the program. Rev. Mr. Vye was presented a large purse of gold by F. L. Flynn on behalf of those present.

The committee in charge of the affair was as follows: Mrs. Francis T. Fletcher, Mrs. John D. Tritea, Mrs. John Dobson, Mrs. Helen Clement, and Mrs. F. L. Flynn.

NATIONAL REFERENDUM

The members of the Lowell chamber of commerce are to be asked to ballot on a national referendum being taken in the matter of the national forestry policy. Eight specific recommendations are provided calling for both federal and state action in assuring the country a permanent future supply of timber. These recommendations call for the acquisition by the government of waste lands and the replanting of the same in conjunction with the several states, insofar as is permitted by existing law. Such lands as cannot be acquired by the federal government shall be taken over by the various states or municipalities. Provisions are also made for Congress to increase the appropriations for protection of timber land against fire, to provide for enlargement of federal research and experiment in forest products, and for a national survey and inventory of forest resources.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pinpoint, bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, 15c and 50c. Advise that the event will be attended by at

ECHO FROM THE CIVIL WAR

These assembled talesemen represent the first mixed jury ever drawn in the United States. They were impaneled in October, 1867, to try Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, on an indictment charging treason. The trial was never held because of the writ of amnesty issued by President Johnson, which pardoned all participants in the rebellion. This rare print, one of the six permitted to be taken, was found between the leaves of an old book recently sold at auction in Richmond, Va.

SOLDIERS TOOK MIKE TO RING

This shows Mike McGigue, light heavyweight champion, as he came to the ring, escorted by the military, to do battle against Young Stribling, 18-year-old Macon school boy, at Columbus, Ga., last week. The champion claims he was intimidated and fought against his wishes, having previously hurt his right hand. The bout had a turbulent finish with Harry Erle, the champion's hand-picked referee, rendering three separate decisions—draw, win for Stribling, draw again.

LAST CALL FOR DINNER

This affectionate Jersey cow, hailing from San Angelo, Tex., lent a helping hand to the four orphans shown in the picture who are doing very well, thank you, but were too busy to watch the birdie when the photographer tried to gain their attention. Upon careful inspection you will see a goat, two lambs and a calf.

CHANGE IN MAIL DELIVERY ROUTES

A re-routing of all the Centralville mail delivery routes and several of the Pawtucketville routes, for the purpose of bringing to the residents of those sections better mail service, went into effect yesterday.

This re-routing was made possible by the opening of the Centralville postal station and means that the residents of these sections will get two complete deliveries every day.

Every carrier operating from the Centralville station has had a little new territory added to his route to take up the time formerly used in going from and to the main postoffice. By these little savings from each man, it has been possible for an additional delivery to be added to the two deliveries in the business section of Bridge street so that, beginning yesterday, three deliveries are made there; the first between the hours of 8 and 9, the second at noon, and the third and last late in the afternoon. This additional delivery puts the business houses in Centralville on the same footing as the business establishments in other parts of the city.

Under the new routing every street in Centralville where there are sidewalks, street lights and 50 per cent of the houses lots occupied, as the post-office regulations state is necessary for delivery of mail, now receives two complete deliveries a day where formerly one delivery a day was all that was allowed.

In Pawtucketville the system of deliveries has been greatly improved. Varnum avenue is covered twice a day now to the city limits where formerly two deliveries were made to the Lowell General hospital and only one delivery made beyond that point. Draught street and Sixth avenue extension also receive two foot deliveries a day where formerly the district was covered once a day by an automobile delivery. In this section there were also numerous families whose mail was delivered to stores at the end of the former route or at boxes situated some distance from their homes. All this is done away with under the new system and a foot carrier visits each street twice each day.

As before stated, a street, under postoffice regulations, must have a sidewalk, street lights, and 50 per cent of the houses lots built on before becoming eligible for mail deliveries.

The work of re-arranging the routes in both Centralville and Pawtucketville was done by Albert Willis, assistant superintendent of mails, and George Hunt, foreman of carriers. Both of these men have been working on this proposition for several weeks and Postmaster Daisie gave them great credit for their efficient handling of the work.

The postmaster, in speaking of the changes today, said that under the new routes Centralville was profiting by the establishment of the new station and Pawtucketville was also coming in for a good deal of the profit. He explained this by saying that, insofar as the postoffice is concerned, these two districts are close together and a saving in one can usually be used to benefit of the other.

COLUMBUS NIGHT DANCING

Tomorrow night at the Highland club house there will be a social dancing party given by the Sar-Dom club. The officers of the club who hope to make this affair a success are Leo H. Demers, president; Walter J. Sargent, secretary and treasurer. Everyone around town is talking about this popular event. Music will be furnished by Ted Marshall's snappy five-piece orchestra.

NEW McDONOUGH FUNERAL HOME IS OPENED BY MORTICIANS TO PUBLIC INSPECTION

Interior of Stately Old Mansion Opposite South Common Transformed By Artisans and Decorators—Possible to Conduct Three Separate Funerals Simultaneously Without Confusion

The consummation of a cherished ambition is realized with the opening today of the beautiful new funeral home of M. H. McDonough Sons, Undertakers, at 14 Highland street, opposite the South common, a few steps from Gosham street, and the public is cordially invited to inspect the home at any time.

A fine old stately mansion is converted by the artisans and decorators into one of the finest funeral homes in this part of the state, providing, as it does, up to the minute facilities, in a homelike and cozy environment, not surpassed by any other building of its kind.

In connection with the opening one cannot express the opportunity to marvel at the progress the firm of M. H. McDonough Sons has made in 17 years, less than two decades, and to congratulate its members on the enterprising and forethought which has made out of one of Lowell's imposing mansions a creditable, essential and utilitarian addition to Lowell's business places, accessible to car lines and handy to the depot.

A brief history of the building will not be amiss. It was built by the late Benjamin Webster, and is of solid construction throughout. In fact one can see in some of the timbers the old fashioned wooden pegs, a relic of substantial carpentry of other days. Much of the original fresco work of the house and from painting has been left untouched. The embellishment of the interior has been carried out with a view to preserving much of its original capacity layout and hence, one is

ST. COLUMBA'S MISSION GREAT SUCCESS

St. Columba's church again witnessed an overflow attendance last evening, the fourth evening of the women's mission being conducted this week by the Dominicans. Morning and evening services to date have been attended by capacity congregations, larger than any gatherings in the history of the parish, and a source of great satisfaction to the presiding priests, Rev. Edmund A. Baxter, O.P. and Rev. Louis L. Farrell, O.P.

The recitation of the rosary and instructions on the mysteries of the rosary by Rev. Fr. Baxter last night, were followed by an eloquent and forceful sermon on "Courtship and Marriage," by Rev. Fr. Farrell.

Confessions are being heard daily and hundreds of communicants have been going to the altar since the start of the mission last Sunday. The men's mission will open next Sunday evening and continue with the usual devotions until Oct. 21.

DUO-ART WEEK AT STEINERT'S

This week is being observed as "Duo-Art week" with M. Steinert & Sons, who have invited the public to visit their Duo-Art Salon to hear the playing of the great masters of the piano on the Duo-Art. Monday was observed as "Paderewski day," Tuesday as "Josef Hoffmann day," Wednesday as "Harold Bauer day," today is "Shura Cherkassky day," and Saturday "Popular Music day." Shura Cherkassky, the phenomenal eleven-year-old boy pianist. Other artists such as Percy Grainger, Rudolph Ganz, Alfred Cortot, and Frank Banta the exponent of popular music on the piano, who record exclusively for the Duo-Art may be heard.

Paderewski, the master pianist, says: "In its broadest aspect, the Duo-Art will exert a far reaching influence on musical taste. The influence in the home possessing the Duo-Art piano, must naturally and unconsciously become discriminating listeners. Hearing frequent repetitions of the great masterpieces as played by skilled performers, the foundation is laid for musical enlightenment, which brings enjoyment and gratification in later life. Whoever musical talent a child may possess, is so moulded in such an atmosphere, and when lessons begin, the instructor finds a willing and apt pupil instead of one whose view of music is entirely confined to uninspiring exercises and practice."

The management of the Steinert house desire in the interest of the public that the public will feel free to drop in anytime to hear the playing of these artists, and also see what artistic music rooms are maintained in this city.

MATRIMONIAL

The wedding of Miss Annette Y. Foster, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Foster of Lowell, and Mr. Frederick F. Graham was held at 5 o'clock last night in St. Louis church with Rev. J. B. Labrosse officiating. The bridesmaid was Miss Jeanne Brennan and Mr. J. R. Graham, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride wore a dress of white tulle and carried a dress of white tulle and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, and her bridesmaid wore a dress of gray tulle and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. A reception and wedding supper were held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Bridge street, immediately following the ceremony. The house was charmingly decorated with autumn leaves and apple blossoms with wintergreen. The ushers were Mr. Herbert Foster and Mr. Ernest Le Clair. The happy couple left on an extended wedding trip and will be at home to friends after Nov. 1, at 42 Union street, New Britain, Conn. Where Mr. Graham is the sales representative of Snyder, Inc., of Boston.

Wayne-Wilson

At 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Miss Catherine Wilson and Mr. George Lee Wayne were united in the bonds of matrimony by Rev. John C. Duffy, O.S.B., at the Immaculate Conception rectory. The bride wore a blue suit with picture hat to match and carried white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Richter, wore a dark brown suit and hat, and carried pink roses. Mr. Henry J. St. John acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. Henry St. John, Thomas Wayne and Henry Richter. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 625 East Merrimack street, following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne will make their home at 625 East Merrimack street after Oct. 14.

Kelley-Hart
An interesting wedding took place last evening, when Mr. Richard Kelley, a prominent business man of Boston, and Miss Margaret N. Hart, daughter of Mrs. Mary Ann Hart of Suffolk street, and well known member of St. Patrick's church, were united in marriage by Rev. Joseph A. Curran. They were attended by Miss Catherine O'Neill as bridesmaid and Mr. Francis O'Neill as best man. The bride was attired in a gown of sky blue crepe de chine trimmed with chintilly lace and wore a picture hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid wore a tulle, colored gown and carried a bouquet of carnations and red roses. Miss Margaret O'Neill, the flower girl, was dressed in white. A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother in Suffolk street, following the ceremony. A wedding supper was served and a fine program of musical selections was given by the present. Mr. Michael Rourke rendered several violin selections and provided the music for the dancing, which was taken up the latter part of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley left during the course of the evening on

"Suffered Rheumatic Torture for Years"
Now Restored to Perfect Health
Read What J. C. Jones, of Winchester, Ky., Has To Say About ALLENRUH, the Sure Conqueror of Rheumatism

For years I was a sufferer from the torture of rheumatism. My limbs (feet and hands) would swell to almost double their normal size. I suffered intense pain day and night so that I could hardly eat or sleep. I had very little hope of ever recovering from this most dreadful and painful disease. A friend of mine seeing how despondent I was over my hopeless condition advised me to try ALLENRUH. I went immediately to the George Drug Company in Winchester and got a bottle of the internal treatment and a bottle of the Liniment to use externally. For the sake of other sufferers I wish to say that the results were simply marvelous. After having used the combined treatment the swelling began to reduce and the pain left me entirely. I continued the treatment until I had taken only two bottles which effected a complete cure. Today I positively feel better than ever before in my life. I feel that I am very fortunate in finding a remedy that has relieved me of the distress and the almost unbearable pains from which I suffered. For the past five weeks I have been working 12 hours a day and haven't even a symptom of the rheumatism or ache or pain. Signed, James C. Jones.

ALLENRUH has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished even in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless. You are sure to get it at A. W. Dows and all druggists.—Adv.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicine and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs are no longer troubled, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.—Adv.

An extended wedding trip to New York city and Washington, D. C., and upon their return Nov. 1 will reside at 318 Suffolk street.

Flanagan—Larkin

A pretty October wedding took place at high noon in the rectory of St. Patrick's church, yesterday, when Mr. William J. Flanagan, a popular employee of the Courier-Citizen composing room staff, and a well known Belvidere resident, and Miss Ella L. Larkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Larkin of Mt. Vernon street, were united in the bonds of matrimony, by the pastor, Rev. John J. McGarry, D.C.L. Mrs. Henry Sullivan, bridesmaid, and Mr. John V. Flanagan attended the couple. The bride wore a brown marvellous suit trimmed with black fox fur, while the bridesmaid wore a taupe tulle suit trimmed with red fox fur. The bride carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley and the bridesmaid carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. A reception and wedding supper were held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Bridge street, immediately following the ceremony. The house was charmingly decorated with autumn leaves and apple blossoms with wintergreen. The ushers were Mr. Herbert Foster and Mr. Ernest Le Clair. The happy couple left on an extended wedding trip and will be at home to friends after Nov. 1, at 42 Union street, New Britain, Conn. Where Mr. Graham is the sales representative of Snyder, Inc., of Boston.

Foye—Sullivan
A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Michael's rectory when Miss Mary F. Sullivan, popular telephone operator at the Lawrence exchange, and daughter of Mrs. Catherine Sullivan of Jewett street, and Mr. Walter J. Foye, well known local young man, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. John J. Shaw. The couple were attended by Miss Helena T. Sullivan, sister of the bride, and Mr. Raymond Foye, brother of the bridegroom, who acted as best man.

DO YOU CATCH COLD EASILY?

Beware of Stubborn Summer Colds That Become More Per- sistent With Cold Weather

When a cold stubbornly resists the ordinary methods of treatment, and one cold rapidly succeeds another after each change of temperature, it is time to take a tonic that will strengthen the blood and give it the qualities necessary to fight off disease. There is such a tonic, as is shown by the experience of Mr. Joseph L. Pullen of No. 67 Ontario street, Oswego, N. Y., who says:

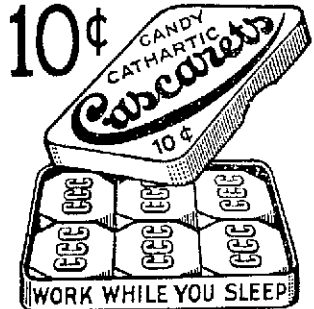

"About a year ago I found that my system was so badly run down that I was seldom without a cold. In my work as a carpenter I was exposed to severe weather and every little change brought on a cold. Colds were rapidly absorbing my strength. I was tired all the time and lacking in ambition and energy. I had very little appetite and what I ate didn't seem to help me. I suffered from heartburn and indigestion and had a pain in my back.

"My father had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they had helped him so much that I decided to give the remedy a trial. I felt some relief after the first box and continued the treatment. In a few weeks I felt more active and energetic and soon my strength returned. I have a good appetite now and no longer have indigestion. The pain in my back is gone. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills built me up so that I no longer catch cold easily. The remedy is an excellent tonic and I do not hesitate to recommend it."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, sixty cents a box. Send for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."—Adv.

11. Demonstrate operation of Detroit type of door opener, hose shut-off clamp or double male and female hose connections.

12. Demonstrate proper method of holding life net.
13. Assume fire in selected building. Apparatus to start on signal from designated point, make run and receive location and character of fire from observer near building. Proceed as for actual fire except no water to be used.

Space forbids the reproduction of the report in full, but the findings and comments made upon two of the evolutions, numbers 3 and 11, are given herewith to show the character of the criticism and praise.

Replacing Burst Hose Line
Assume middle section of pipe line as burst and replace it with new section.

Engine 1—Two men at nozzle. Officer alone laid spare length and obtained hose clamp and was alone for one minute before a man was called for assistance. Other man remained at pipe. Time very slow.

Engine 2—Replacing burst length good. Time good.

Engine 3—Promptly done in quick

time except hose clamp not used, the captain electing to close pump discharge gate instead.

Engine 4—Officer did most of actual work and was slow in calling on men to assist. Men showed little initiative. Operator shut down line at engine discharge gate and removed it from outlet, then re-connected. Hose clamp not used. Time slow.

Engine 5—Hose clamp applied too close to coupling. Man at pipe remained there and man who went for extra hose stood with coupling in hand apparently not knowing where to take it. After officer applied clamp he called for the hose and directed the placing of it in line, attached it to the length next to the hydrant, then moved pipe back to new length, leaving the line but 100 feet in length. Company indicated confusion. Elapsed time very slow.

Engine 6—Hoseman got clamp and shut off water at middle of length of hose assumed as burst. Pipe man not prompt in assisting officer, who evidently depended on their initiative as few orders were given. After officer had broken line beyond clamp he discovered location of shut off and ordered it put in proper place. Elapsed time very slow.

Engine 7—Clamp put on properly by officer but action slow, officer doing most of work, pipeman looking on. No specific or prompt orders given. One man good and took hold of work without orders; pipeman indifferent. Time slow.

Hose 8—Hose well applied. Good initiative on part of men and good judgment by officer. Elapsed time fair.

Hose 9—Officer and one man did work, driver at horses. Officer ordered pipe open to bleed line before hose clamp put on. Good initiative but slow time.

Hose 10—Driver on seat holding horses; three men for work. Officer personally got clamp and applied it. Man got hose from wagon, but did not know what to do with it and one man remained at pipe. Officer finally ordered these men to work and change was made. Elapsed time very slow.

Hose 11—Hose clamp properly attached. Some delay in getting spare hose and poor supervision by officer. Time very slow.

Hose 12—Water shut off by means of hose clamp well placed. Spare length brought up with wrong end to connect, then reversed on order from officer. Slow time.

Hose 13—Captain ordered pipe open and got clamp which he attached himself. Man with extra hose bundled it over shoulder and carried it all to coupling which had been disconnected; then hose had to be straightened out and captain ordered burst length added and when water was again let on the burst length was still in line which was now 150 feet long. Elapsed time slow.

Use of Appliances
Demonstrate operation of Detroit type of door opener, hose shut-off clamp or double male and female hose connections.

Engine 1—Use of appliances poor. Men did not know which end of door opener to use.

Engine 2 and Ladder 2—Use of hose and ladder appliances fair to good.

Engine 3 and Ladder 3 and Protective 1—Appliances not properly used. Not one man of eight tested.

Engine 11 and Ladder 1—Use of door opener by ladderman fair, by hose-man poor.

Hose 10 and Ladder 4—Use of appliances fair to poor. Door opener apparently not much used and men untrained in its use and advantages.

Hose 13—On operation of door opener one man fair, another poor. Officer claimed he had no door opener when it was in plain sight on running board.

Liver 4—Use of door opener and clamp very poor. Men not familiar with equipment. Officer said appli-

LOWELL TRUST COMPANY USING GAS VERY LARGELY

During the past six months there has been a real reawakening in Lowell and in fact in all New England cities in the use of Gas for lighting in homes, mercantile establishments and factories.

change of heart, notably among them being the invention of better and more efficient Gas Mantles, Shades and Lamps, giving a more even and better light than has heretofore been produced.

This has been noticeably so in the case of the Radio, No. 30, the Reflex, the C. E. Z., and the Reflexor.

Boulevard Lighting: In the city of Boston and in many Western and Middle Western Cities boulevard lighting is now being done almost exclusively with the new Weirbach White Way Lights.

Along Merrimack Street, most of the stores are now fully equipped with a gas lighting system that is giving genuine satisfaction. Among these we might mention the Fidelity Boston Ladies' Outfitters, Bulfinch's, Gagnon's and Macomber's. Two banks have also been fully equipped with the latest type Gas Lighting. The Middlesex National Bank and the Lowell Trust Company.

We look forward to the time when Lowell will adopt these Weirbach White Way Street Lights on some of the downtown streets.

GARAGES BEING HEATED BY GAS

With the cold weather now almost upon us automobile owners are giving attention to the proposition of garage heating.

During past Winters frozen radiators, frozen pumps, cracked motors and other troubles due to cold weather have been a source of great inconvenience and expense to automobile owners.

This can be eliminated in your home garage by the installation of a Scientific Garage Heater, which can be easily installed and which can be operated for a very reasonable sum during the cold months. With proper use the key of a garage heater is not so great that it cannot be readily afforded by most people having private garages.

There is no reason why a garage heater should be used when the machine is not in the garage.

The Gas Heater can be turned off during the day, to be turned on again when the car is brought back to the garage for the night.

With the thermostat set at 40 degrees and the garage heater used properly the gas bill can be kept at a figure that will be within the reach of the average person.

One of these garage heaters can be seen at the Gas Appliance Store, 72 Merrimack St., at any time. There are a number already in use in Lowell.

LARGE STOCK OF GAS FLOOR LAMPS

To meet the increased demand for Gas Floor Lamps the Lowell Gas Light Company is carrying this year a larger stock than at any time in its history.

The markets were secured for the finest gas lamps obtainable and the designs being made are indeed beautiful and quite extensive.

There is one lot of Lamps with mahogany posts and the newest style silk shades being sold connected in the home at $21.48 each.

Already a number of these lamps have been taken and there is no doubt that the present stock will soon be depleted.

NATIONAL CANDY DAY
Saturday, October 13, will be National Candy Day. From noon until 9 p. m. the Lowell Gas Light Co. will have a window demonstration showing how candy can best be made by the use of gas.

SILICA GLOBE THAT WILL NOT BREAK

New Invention Will Save Money For Those Who Use Gas For Lighting

A representative of a New York Importing House conferred with officials of the Lowell Gas Light Company, Wednesday, Oct. 3, in the interest of a new "Silica Globe" which has recently been invented.

This Silica Globe is so constructed that it is almost unbreakable and will when perfected greatly reduce the expense placed upon the ordinary household in replacing globes that have been broken through one reason or another.

This company is interested in anything that will tend to make the use of gas or its appliances less expensive to its thousands of customers.

While the new Silica Globe must of necessity sell at a higher price than the globes now being sold throughout the country, it will undoubtedly save a great deal of money and inconvenience in the long run.

These globes will be on display and for sale in the Lowell Gas Light Appliance Store, 72 Merrimack St., just as quickly as the importers can furnish a supply.

FREE SERVICE ON GAS LIGHTS

The Lowell Gas Light Company has a crew of five men known as the maintenance crew, who spend all their time giving a free service to the thousands of Lowell people who use gas for home lighting.

If your lights are out of order or are not giving you real satisfaction we would be pleased if you would call us on the phone. One of these men will be immediately sent to put them in first class condition, no charge will be made for the labor, and only nominal charge for the parts used.

HEAT WATER BY THE VULCAN METHOD

For the person of ordinary means the most convenient method of assuring a supply of hot water when needed is through the installation of a Vulcan Water Heater.

The Vulcan is inexpensive and can be set up in any home on short notice. It comes in black and in gray enamel. It takes but little room and is not a big consumer of gas when properly used.

Gas, A Healthy Illuminant

We quote from two eminent English professors, who have made a study of gas and its relation to health, both of whom look upon Gas as the best and most efficient form of home lighting.

Dr. Allan Wilson, of London, has issued a Bulletin in which he avers that the new type gas lights are less injurious to the eyes, and cause far less eye strain than other modern forms of home lighting.

Dr. F. S. Thornd, Medical Superintendent of the London Infirmary, reported as follows in the Medical Journal on Gas Lighting: "In both large and small apartments which have normal means of ventilation, gas consumed when used for lighting creates a better atmosphere than the increased circulation of air. Its advantages in the sick room in respect to its reliability, avoidance of noise, freedom from dust-producing propensities, and saving in both work and anxiety—are obvious to every professional man and woman."

AUTOMATIC STORAGE OF HOT WATER

High School Annex Equipped With New System—Many in Home Use

A contract was signed three days ago through the plumbing house of J. B. Drury & Co. to install a 300 gal. Ruud Gas Automatic Storage System to furnish hot water for the shower baths and basins in the high school annex.

This contract will give the Annex one of the most up-to-date and efficient water heating systems in the City of Lowell.

The Lowell Gas Light Company is also installing a number of Kompak Gas Storage Hot Water Systems in the homes of some of the city's thriftiest people, those who want an unlimited amount of hot water at any time of the day or night.

These storage systems are what might be called the last word in water heating appliances. They provide an unlimited supply of hot water at all times. They are automatically controlled by thermostat, making them the most useful acquisitions in any home. They can be operated at a cost that is indeed low when the readiness for use and efficiency is taken into consideration.

CASES HEARD IN THE DISTRICT COURT

On a finding of guilty to illegally keeping a saloon, George Labrie, proprietor of a cigar store in Chelmsford street, was sentenced to one month in the house of correction, and fined $100, by Judge Darrigh in district court this morning. An appeal was taken.

As the result of a raid at 230 Cheever street by Sgt. Wm. O'Leary, Moore and McElroy, last night, Alfred Boland appeared in court today and pleaded guilty to illegal keeping. The officers testified that they found 11 gallons of distilled spirits on the premises, and that they had been watching the place for a long time. Boland paid a fine of $150.

The third illegal keeping case on the blotter this morning concerned Sophie Sarachek, who was continued until Oct. 20.

Frank Balch was arraigned on three violations of the automobile laws and drunkness. For operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, he was fined $100, and for driving without license or registration, a fine of $10 on each charge, was imposed. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file.

Dimitri Handzovitch of Providence, R. I., was ordered to pay a fine of $100 for carrying a pistol without a license. He said he came to this city last Sunday and went to the house of a friend in Fayette street, where he purchased the firearm for $7. He then got drunk and fell into the hands of the law.

To give him a chance to sober off, Felix Poudrier was committed to the house of correction for 30 days.

Edward J. Chaput, who was arrested in Central street by Traffic Officer John Whelan yesterday afternoon, paid a fine of $100, for driving under the influence of liquor. Before imposing sentence, the court remarked that he may hereafter follow the custom of Judge Crosby of Worcester in imposing a two months' house of correction sentence for offenses of this nature.

Brooklyn Couple Give Praise to Tanlac for Recovery

"My wife and myself both know Tanlac is a wonderful stomach medicine and tonic, for we have tried it and gladly recommend it to everybody," is the statement made, recently, by Isidore Kaufman, proprietor of a high-class delicatessen at 112 Ralph ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Since taking Tanlac I have no more indigestion, headaches or dizzy spells, and have gained around 12 pounds. My wife felt tired all the time, had no appetite and her work was a drudge. But now she is a changed woman. In fact, we are both like new people, thanks to Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills.—Adv.

among the speakers is Rev. James H. Masse, D.D., pastor of Tremont Temple, Boston.

Other speakers will be Rev. Robert L. Webb, Rev. F. P. Peterson, D.D., and Dr. Brooks, all of greater Boston. Various conferences of laymen and ministers will be held during the day.

The ladies of the Central church will serve dinner and supper to all who attend. Devotional and musical programs will be a part of the services.

Gentleman in Rochester Praises "Fruit-a-tives"

The Great Fruit Medicine

"Fruit-a-tives" are unlike any other remedy in the world. They are made from the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes and tonics, by a secret process which produces a compound as unique in composition as it is famous for its medicinal value.

Mr. R. B. O'Flynn of 39 North Union street, Rochester, N. Y., says, "For what 'Fruit-a-tives' have done for me, I believe they are the best Stomach, Liver and Bladder Medicine that the world has ever produced."

Great for Eczema and Old Sores

"I Guarantee My Ointment," Says Peterson—Every Box of It

"If you are responsible for the health of your family," says Peterson, of Buffalo, "I want you to get a large 36-cent box of Peterson's Ointment today."

"Remember, I stand back of every box. Every druggist guarantees to refund the purchase price if Peterson's Ointment doesn't do all I claim."

"I guarantee it for eczema, old sores, running sores, salt rheum, ulcers, sore nipples, broken breasts, itching skin, skin diseases, blind, bleeding and itching piles as well as for sore feet, chafing, burns, scalds, cuts, bruises and sunburn."

"Gentlemen: I had a running sore on my leg for 9 years, tried all kinds of salves, had several doctors treat it—even had to cut to the bone and scraped—nothing did any good. I was told to try Peterson's Ointment; used three boxes and my leg is entirely healed and smooth as my other leg. Thanking you very much for what it has done for me. Yours respectfully, E. L. ## Third Suitcase Found

Overcome by the stench, he says, he quickly clamped the lid of the suitcase shut and notified Chief Pelletier of his gruesome find. He did not look at the contents of the suitcase, he says, but is confident that the odor was that of dead human flesh.

Chief Pelletier called for the suitcase and without opening it or looking at it at the time, took it away with him. No words passed between the Lowell man and the Tyngsboro chief at the time as to the probability of the case containing the woman's head. The man who was on a camping and fishing trip went on about his recreation.

The chief of police of Tyngsboro, he says, made it a point to seek him out the next day. The suitcase was hardly mentioned, he says, but the chief laconically and in a meaning manner mentioned, in a far from casual way, that the search for the head of the woman was still continuing in the vicinity of Dr. Robb's camp.

"I sort of took it as a tip to keep my mouth shut and said nothing at the time," the man said. Since then he has become curious and has spent several sleepless nights wondering about the value of his find. Finally, overcome by the desire to "tell somebody," he made known the story to a few intimate friends.

Chief Pelletier of Tyngsboro and District Attorney Reading will not say the head has been found. There is believed to be a strong possibility however that the head was contained in the suitcase found by the Lowell man and turned over to the Tyngsboro chief.

Has District Attorney Reading, whose case against Doctors Robb and Swope has been characterized as woefully weak in points, an "ace in the hole" in the nature of the missing parts of the dead woman's person? That question is the one receiving the attention of the day.

The man who spoke today of finding the third suitcase claims no particular credit for himself but rather gives the credit for making the find to his companion on the fishing trip, his faithful Scotch terrier.

He says he was proceeding slowly up the Merrimack along the inner channel and the dog was in the bow of the boat. Suddenly he began barking and going through frantic motions as if about to jump over the side. Following the dog's glance the man spied a floating object.

As he made for the object the dog's barking became more violent and he went almost into a frenzy. Getting alongside he saw at once it was a suitcase and immediately lifted it from the water, placed it in the boat, and made for the Tyngsboro shore.

It was here that he opened the suitcase and nauseated by the odor quickly clamped it tight and sent word to Tyngsboro's chief.

Gas Ranges Make Cooking Easy

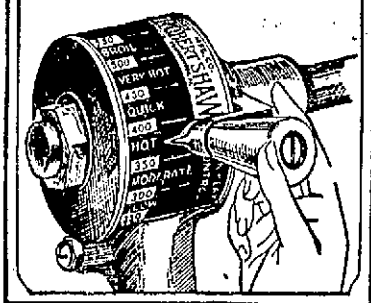

All your cooking - all year round, and save fuel, with a Glenwood Gas Range

UNTIL this year's coal shortage thousands of women never knew the advantage of cooking with gas.

Glenwood gas ranges were made for just such emergencies as this—to do all kinds of cooking easily, quickly and economically. Their all-round ability has been a revelation to many a good housewife.

The Glenwood model shown here will bake, broil and roast as well as the biggest coal range. There's capacity enough with its compact "build" for all the requirements of any ordinary household. The oven is so evenly heated that you can bake two rows of bread or pastry at the same time.

Glenwood "Robertshaw" Oven Heat Controller. Automatically regulates the heat for baking and roasting. Just set the indicator.

Y. W. C. A. DIRECTORS

Reports of International Institute, Health and Girl Reserve Departments Read

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Y.W.C.A. was held Wednesday afternoon in the Association building at 3 o'clock.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Nathan Pulsifer, second vice president. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Louis Olney. The following is from the report of the International Institute read by Miss Fern Graden, executive. Statistical report: Individual service rendered for the month of September, 221 contacts made; type of contacts, visits to clinics, 58; reference visits, 20; interviews, 91; making a total of 236. The kinds of service rendered: Recruiting and follow-up, 14; interpreting and translating, 114; friendly, 44; medical, 44; legal, 39; employment, 32; domestic adjustment, 24. Total, 311. Cases carried with agencies in community. 52; the board of health, charities, department, district court, doctors, hospitals, lawyers, Lowell Guild, Lowell Social Service League, mills, police, women, probation officer and schools. The group service, clubs; total attendance, 165, with five organized clubs for the month. Also the visitors who came to the Institute during the month numbered 48. In closing Miss Graden said: "The outstanding feature in the Institute this month has been the club enrollment. Miss Dorothy Beck has been secured to give several lessons to the Martha Washington club composed of younger Greek girls, on ways to help in the kitchen, taking up such things as the care of milk and milk bottles, setting the table, cooking, etc. Miss Natalie Marshall and Thomas S. Matte have consented to give courses in dietetics and interior decorating to the Educational club comprised of young Greek women. Excerpts from the Girl Reserve report follows: As September is the month of beginnings, our big rally came September the 21st, the first meeting of the fall and winter season, when the three high school clubs, the Tri-High, Triple, and the Highlands, met in Union hall for a party and 'chores from Maquie.' The girls who had represented the three clubs of the Girl Reserve department at the Camp Maquie convention related various incidents of the trip and the convention. Gretta McPherson, Annette Pease, Marion Fletcher and Dorothy Mignault gave the reports.

The two clubs who really got started this month were the White Eagle club (Polish girls) and the Athena club (Greek girls). A club has been formed from the vocational school, also a Junior High School club, which promise to be two very fine groups. An international club, made up of foreign children, meets every Saturday morning for games and story telling. Recreation, which is the fourth part of our program, is being emphasized more this year and is already proving to be very popular with the girls. Especially the basketball; each club hopes to have a basketball team and have the inter-club games.

The schedule of the health education department was read and plans for opening the new gym given. The schedule has been arranged as follows: One night is to be given over wholly to girls from the Institute in a cosmopolitan gymnasium class followed by a Greek girls' basketball team. Monday evening classes for adults; Tuesday evening given over to health examinations, followed by basketball practice. Thursday and Friday nights are the sports nights when basketball, bowling and shooting will be taught. Classes for the younger girls are planned for every afternoon in the week. Two committee meetings were held during the month and were well attended.

The report of the cafeteria showed a gain for the month of September in increased meal service, 6,854 meals being the total. The home department's report showed that 86 transients had stayed at the Y.W.C.A. during the month; that 17 new girls had found homes in the building; and that "all night service" accommodating girls who had missed train connections, was heavy. Several cases were handled in co-operation with the Lowell Social Service League and the Institute.

From the desk report the number of people living in rooms to rent was 23; the number asking for living accommodations outside the building was 33. Number of persons seeking employment 27; number of employers listing positions, 16. After the reports were read and approved the meeting was turned over to Miss Kathleen Knight, campaign director for the coming finance effort, which will start Oct. 22, with Mrs. Louis Olney captain of teams. Mrs. Nathan Pulsifer on publicity gave report. The campaign organization is progressing quickly and a general rounding up of captains and workers is in progress. The meeting closed informally.

The worst cases of overcrowding in London on record are two cases of 18 persons in a single room.

SHOT TO DEATH WHILE RIDING

Woman Was Shot While Riding With Post in Lonely Crossroads Section

JEFFERSON, Me., Oct. 11.—Fred L. Post, a marine engineer at New London, Conn., will be arraigned here on the charge of murder this afternoon before Recorder George W. Singer of the Lincoln municipal court.

It was alleged to have killed Mrs. Sybil Estelle Hamilton of Rockland, who was shot yesterday while riding with him in a lonely crossroads section known as Pander's Corner, between Waldoboro and Jefferson.

It was at first supposed she was shot by a stray bullet, in accordance with the story told by her companion, but an investigation resulted in the discovery of powder marks on her clothing. It was alleged, indicating that the shot was fired at close range. The arrest of Post this morning followed.

Post, who had been living at New London a number of years, returned a week ago to Rockland, where he formerly lived and where a score of years ago he was employed as a special policeman. He boarded at that time at Park-Main hotel, formerly kept by Mrs. Hamilton and her husband, Clinton J. Hamilton, who died two years ago.

Mrs. Hamilton was 53 and leaves a daughter, aged 12. Post is about 65.

Post appeared shortly after 3 o'clock at the home of Charles Pander and said Mrs. Hamilton had been shot. The latter accompanied him to the scene and saw her body beside the road.

He said Post told him he heard a shot and noticed she was steering wildly. He spoke to her and she said she felt dizzy. Then she slumped over the side of the automobile. Post said he took her out of the car, then went for help.

"I didn't have time to bake today"

TO DISSOLVE THE REICHSTAG

Dissolution if Government's Authorization Bill Fails to Pass

BERLIN, Oct. 11. (By the Associated Press).—President Ebert this afternoon invested Chancellor Stresemann with authority to dissolve the Reichstag in the event that the government's authorization bill, giving the chancellor wide authority in dictation of measures for economic rehabilitation, fails to command the necessary two-thirds majority in that body.

The chancellor immediately informed the coalition party leaders of the alternative confronting the government parties. The socialists thereupon immediately called a caucus with the idea of uniting the party in support of the authorization law.

A minority defection in the ranks of socialists was the threat which hung over the measure, giving rise to fears that it would be defeated when it came up for a final vote, which was expected this afternoon. The socialists went into caucus about 2:30 p. m. and the majority members began a course of persuasion upon the minority element which threatened to abstain from voting. Such an act, it was figured, would prevent the government's obtaining the two-thirds majority required.

WHISTLER'S LOWELL SUBJECT OF PAPER

A discussion of the preservation of old houses in Lowell featured the autumn meeting of the Historical society in Memorial hall last evening, presided over by Alfred P. Sawyer, president.

A paper on "Whistler's Lowell," descriptive of the residence of the family of Major George W. Whistler at the house in Worthen street, which now is the property of the Historical society, was read by Frederick W. Coburn.

"The Lowell of the artist's infancy," he said, "though it had borne that name but a short time, was far from being the squalid settlement in a wilderness portrayed by some of Whistler's biographers. Georgian doorways, collections of the arts and crafts of colonial and post-revolutionary decades, still left of resident families among whom the amenities of civilization were traditional. White men and women of good stock had been living during 150 years in East Chelmsford, West Druac, Middlesex Village and the northern part of Tewksbury, now consolidated within municipal Lowell."

MISS MADORE IS TENDERED SHOWER

A shower was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wallace in Westford street in honor of Miss Florence Madore who is to become the bride of

Anthony V. Wallace. Miss Madore was presented a beautiful floor lamp with shade of blue and rose. There were 40 of her girl friends present. The decorations were pretty. Miss Madore was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. A mock marriage was performed with Miss Pauline Wallace as the bride, Miss Irene Bernier as the bridesmaid, Miss Olive Secard as the best man and Miss Dorothy Ward as the minister. Miss Helen Waytower played the wedding march. Refreshments were served and an enjoyable entertainment was provided.

THE LAW OF RHODES

Some able propagandists who favor cancellation of the inter-allied war debts, have brought up the "Law of Rhodes" as a principle of international law that in their opinion might be applied to the question of reparations from Germany and the war loans from the United States.

This principle is brought down through the ages from the days of ancient Rome and is said to have appeared in the Pandects of Justinian, the Napoleonic code, and even in the more modern application of international law. It is exemplified by this example: "If in order to buoy up a ship, merchandise is thrown overboard, the sacrifice made in everybody's interest must be compensated through everybody's contribution."

Various judges are quoted as showing the application of the law in case of voluntary sacrifice made in the general interest, but providing that said sacrifice was made in the proper manner. It has frequently been applied in maritime cases, and now, some European statesmen think that it would be a fine thing if the old law were applied in the cancellation of debts incurred during the war, some of which the allies claim were in the common interests of civilization. The European propagandists are beginning to shout from the house-tops that "the sacrifice made in everybody's interest must be compensated through everybody's contribution." Translated into another form, they say: "The more you stood to lose and the more you shall pay; the more you have lost and the more you shall receive."

American jurists are asked to take up this principle and give an opinion on its bearing on the problem of reparations and inter-allied debts. Despite the fact that we have recently arranged a plan of refunding the war loans to the allies, it appears that the question of cancellation is still being agitated in a manner that indicates a conviction abroad that they will never be paid.

The reference to the "Law of Rhodes" implies that in fighting the Central powers, the allies were fighting our battles as well as their own; and they tell us what a terrible calamity it would have been if the enemy had won; but these writers do not seem to acknowledge that the allies would have been beaten but for the assistance of the United States. Was it not enough to save them from subjugation without having to pay them for what they did to save themselves from impending defeat?

ABOLISH CHILD SLAVERY

Publicity given the evils of child labor in various parts of the country, will bring forcibly to the attention of the people throughout the United States the necessity of a national child labor law. The textile industry of the south is not the only one against which the charge of exploiting child labor is made. An equally great offender in this respect is the beet sugar industry which is highly protected by the Fordney-McCumber tariff law. It is reported that there has been a great increase in the number of boys and girls employed in this industry this season.

The national child labor committee of New York and the Children's Bureau of the U. S. department of labor recently investigated the employment of children in the sugar beet industry and reported serious conditions. Thousands of children, fully a fourth of them under ten years of age, were found toiling in the fields from nine to eleven hours a day. Not only were these children deprived of an opportunity to attend school in the spring and autumn, but they were in many instances contracting physical deformities by reason of their labor and hardship.

Speaking of the inquiry that was made in Utah, the "American Child," a magazine published by the national child labor committee, said: "We found that some rural schools were closed on account of beet field needs." Miss Alice K. McFarland, chief of the welfare division of the Kansas industrial court, made a survey of conditions in the beet fields of that state and called them "deplorable." "It is a common thing to see little tots with long, sharp knives cutting tops from beets," she said. "In many cases they work from 6 o'clock in the morning until nearly dark, with only a short stop for lunch."

It is to put a stop to this form of child slavery that we have an anti-child labor campaign in progress during the present week. Conditions demand a prompt remedy, and congress is expected to pass the necessary legislation at the short session in December. If such an amendment is proposed by a two-thirds vote of both houses of congress, then it will go to the states for ratification, and when ratified by three-fourths of the states, it will become effective. That was the course adopted in passing the prohibition amendment and we believe the child labor amendment will be ready adopted. Child slavery must be abolished.

AN ALARMING CRIME EPIDEMIC

New York city is now in the grip of what the newspapers designate as the worst robbery epidemic in the city's history. The records of burglary insurance companies as well as those of the police department bear out this statement. It seems that New York is infested by gangs of professional bandits who carefully plan the time, place and manner of every robbery they intend to make. They are well armed and usually overawe the occupants, if any, of the places they rob. In many instances they get away with burglaries of banks and stores under the shadow of police stations, often carrying off loot that amounts to many thousands of dollars.

The question arises, as to how this epidemic is to be met. The police seem to be helpless to stamp it out and the men engaged in it are evidently not under the influence of religion so that they might be restrained by any aspect of that kind. In spite of the fact that in some quarters where a different policy might be expected to prevail, there is a plea for greater freedom for young people in following their own inclinations in matters of faith and morals and consequently also in the action resulting from their convictions in regard to both subjects. Apparently the laws of the land are scoffed at by many of the young people of today and it is hardly to be expected that more freedom will increase their respect for law and order, not to speak of their attitude toward the discipline which too many regard as obsolete.

If each generation adopts a new religious belief according to its lights,

SEEN AND HEARD

Various cities are holding fire prevention weeks. The price of coal is a great aid.

Many people's idea of raising kids is teaching them to close safety pins before swallowing.

The world needs an automatic phonograph stop that will not stop in the middle of a record.

Much time and worry would be saved around the home by having elevator ash designs on rugs.

A Thought

To be man's tender mate was woman born, and in obeying nature she best serves the purpose of heaven.—Schiller.

Was Too Clever

"Boys," said teacher, addressing the fifth grade, "if I stand with my back to the sun at midday where have I on my right hand?" James, from a far corner of the classroom, answered "Penguins!" And yet he got into trouble over it.

Very Thoughtful Man

"You should take a vacation, old man," said Jackson. "You're working too hard and it's under no use. Why you have all the money you need and more." "I know that," assented Johnson, "but I've got to provide for my children's lawyers somehow."

Working It Out

"Why don't you discharge your present doctor and get somebody else can't help you? Here he's had you in bed for three weeks now and you seem to be getting worse all the time." "I would make a change, but this fellow owes me $50 and his bill books up only $19 to date. I've got to work it out of him somehow."

Happy Water

One came into a Minnesota village one day and inquired of the restaurant proprietor: "Got any squirrel whiskey?" "No," said the restaurant man, "but I can slip you a little Old Crow." "Aye don't want to try," said Ole. "Aye just want to jump around a little."—Minneapolis Tribune.

According to Orders

A grocer's boy hailed a vessel in dock at Liverpool. The mate gruffly asked him what he wanted. "I've got some vegetables for the ship," was the reply. "All right, you needn't come aboard. Throw them up on a time," called the mate, and then stood ready to receive the expected packages. "Aye, there, look out!" shouted the lad as he threw a dried ear of the corn. "I've got a sack of those."—Herald.

No Lady Tramps

"We don't see any lady tramps," remarked the waiter. The philosopher, an usual, was ready to discuss any proposition that came up. "That is easily explained," he began. "Shoot," assented the other. "A tramp depends on castoff clothing," the philosopher continued. "Well," "Do you suppose a woman is going around in castoff short skirts when other women are wearing long ones? You'll never see any lady tramps."

Lucky Wasn't Lucky

Lucky, a Boston bull pup owned by Mr. W. Messing of Chelsea, Mass., was the wealthiest dog in the world until Dr. J. W. Corrigan performed an operation on him and removed $2000 worth of diamond rings and 36 cents in small change from the dog's stomach. At first the rings were believed to be stolen, but Mrs. Messing remembered putting them in an apron pocket while working in the kitchen. Lucky had been playing with the apron and somehow fell upon the dog. Mr. Messing placed several cheap rings in Lucky's accustomed corner and spied on the pup from the kitchen window. Lucky sniffed the rings and unceremoniously lapped them up. An X-ray examination and the operation soon followed.

Very Mean Lord

Portland Blocker said at a broker's banquet at Conny Island: "We hear a lot about the tricks the broker plays on the poor public, but what of the tricks that the great money kings play on the poor broker?" The average money king treats his broker as Lord Eldon treated Betty. Lord Eldon, you know, was entertaining a few friends at a dinner in a tavern, and he dropped a guinea on the floor while making up the cash for the bill. Well, he couldn't find the guinea, so he said to Betty, the maid, when she came in: "Betty, I've dropped two guineas. See if you can retrieve them for me." But soon after the second guinea Lord Eldon slipped it in his pocket and rose with his friends to go. "When you find that other guinea, Betty," he said, "keep it for your tip."

The English

The English are a curious folk. I'll say they are, won't you? Supposed to speak our language. They say so seldom do.

I changed to meet with Jones Sayce-Jones.

A Londoner, one day while waiting for the city train All down Redondo way.

I said, "Come take a stroll with me." "The car is late," the train said he.

"And if you'll wait an instant by I'll check my bag," "your grip," said I.

A service station first passed me. "Excuse me," remarked, "petrol," said he.

A drayman went lumbering by. "A van," said he, "a truck," said I.

I stumbled over what had been a salmon can; he said, "a tin." Then when I offered cigarettes, "A face," said he, "a pill," said I.

"Have you an extra match?" I said. He chuckled "belfers" instead.

Then paused to flick some ash from me. "My pants," I said, "trousers," said he.

The English are a curious race.

Till say they are, won't you? Supposed to speak our language. They yet so seldom do.

A party was given at the home of Mrs. Patrick J. Powers, 26 Burton street, Saturday evening, in honor of her birthday anniversary. Many of her friends gathered at her home and presented her many beautiful and useful gifts. Refreshments were served and a musical program followed.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Speaking about plants, a friend of mine tried an experiment the other day which he says proved its worth. In a vase with some fresh cut flowers he placed an aspirin tablet, and the life of the flowers was preserved for several days longer than they would ordinarily. This does not prove that aspirin is an elixir of life.

Add to the names of those eligible to compete for the rating of busiest man in town that of Secretary Wells of the chamber of commerce. Since his appointment, Mr. Gallagher, resigned a fortnight ago the general secretary has been gracefully carrying a double burden. "You never know your capabilities until you have to use them," he smilingly remarked when asked if the added load was not irksome.

The Union Pacific railroad system has issued a booklet, entitled "At Grade Crossings—He Who Heedless Is Safe." The following information is given in the booklet and is of interest to all: In the last five years, 2101 persons (almost twice as many as were killed at the Battle of Gettysburg) have sacrificed their lives at grade crossings in the United States through failure to stop, look and listen. The final paragraph in the booklet is as follows: "Grade crossing accidents would absolutely cease if every driver would stop, look and listen at every grade crossing—won't you do it?"

They tell me the boys of Centralville tendered Walter Foyle, well known baseball player, a wonderful reception last Monday night on the eve of his entry into the matrimonial ranks. Mr. Foyle is deserving of the many congratulations extended him by his friends. A lover of clean sport, he made many friends by his ability on the ball diamond, and also by his gentlemanly conduct off the field. He is a member of the athletic family, as his brothers, Raymond and Arthur, testify. He is a member of the Centralville high school and is a member of the Centralville high school association is opposed to Sunday football at Alumni field. As president of the association, Mr. Harris wishes to correct this prevalent misunderstanding. The alumni of the high school, he says, are strongly in favor of Sunday outdoor recreation, but there is a statute in the laws of the commonwealth which prohibits the Sunday playing of football and other games, to which admission, directly or indirectly, is charged. To allow the use of Alumni field in violation of this statute, the high school alumni would make itself liable to court action.

Headmaster Henry H. Harris of the high school rightfully takes exception to the propaganda going around to the effect that the High School Alumni association is opposed to Sunday football at Alumni field. As president of the association, Mr. Harris wishes to correct this prevalent misunderstanding. The alumni of the high school, he says, are strongly in favor of Sunday outdoor recreation, but there is a statute in the laws of the commonwealth which prohibits the Sunday playing of football and other games, to which admission, directly or indirectly, is charged. To allow the use of Alumni field in violation of this statute, the high school alumni would make itself liable to court action.

Francis Hoxon, president of the local branch of the Assyrian Mar Yacoub society, has received from Assyria a Tiger House plant similar to those that grew in the hanging gardens of Babylon. These plants are wonderful for they stand any amount of neglect without deteriorating in the least. The sun fails to affect them, the cold kills, and some of them have been known to live several weeks without water. Many people have called at Mr. Hoxon's home on Westford street to see the plant and, as he realizes it is a novelty locally, he extends an invitation to the curious to visit his home any Sunday and he will gladly show the plant and give any information concerning it that he can.

"Notice many changes?" a man standing in the square, who hadn't been in Lowell for ten years was asked by a friend this noon.

"I should say so; quite a few," said the visitor. "Most of them are for the better, I think. That Fletcher street line, however, is as bad as ever. I see them waiting here 20 minutes for a car and one hasn't shown up yet."

Told the line had been discontinued for to these many years, the visitor said: "Well, then, I can savvy all the changes are for the better. I thought that I had noticed one that was for the worse."

WOMAN INJURED

BY AUTOMOBILE

Margaret Healey, a resident of St. Patrick's home on Cross street, was painfully injured early last night when she was struck and knocked down by an automobile operated and owned by Joseph F. Lawlorson of 107 Crosby St. She was taken to St. John's hospital, where it was found that she was suffering from several abrasions, a laceration of the head, and a possible fracture of the shoulder. At the hospital this afternoon it was stated that she was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

The Mechanic Speaks

Maybe I'm "gross, material and blind,"
Maybe my soul's become "commercialized."
But I'll admit, somehow, I cannot find
What evil lurks in being "standardized."
Standardized tools make work a simpler thing,
Standardized roads and railways give to man
Broader horizons, greater scope and bring
New wonders for his seeking eyes to scan.

"Standardization" gives a million men
What once a thousand, at the most, might own.
It multiplies again and yet again
Comforts that would be otherwise unknown.
Lightens the load of weariness and toil,
Makes steel the beast of burden, and redeems
The plowman from his bondage to the soil.

It does not tie men to material things,
But makes them serve him in a better way;
Give toilers leisure for the thoughts of kings,
For books and music, laughter, love and play.
"Standardized thought?" Ah yes, I've heard the phrase,
It sounds like something ominous, in sooth;
Yet since the first beginning of his days
Man's thought has struggled for a standard—Truth!
It adds new speed to thought, new breadth to dreams,

FIRE PREVENTION DRIVE CONTINUES UNABATED

Today marks the entering of the last half of Fire Prevention week and finds the enthusiasm of those behind the drive in Lowell no whit abated. Flushed by the success met earlier in the week in driving home to the school children of Lowell the need for precautionary measures against fire the crusaders have commenced to preach the same gospel to adults.

Carelessness is the main cause of all fire and by constantly guarding against thoughtless actions we have the greatest of all insurance against the depredations of fire.

Fire losses cannot be eliminated but we have learned that they can be greatly reduced. Statistics for last year from cities of over 200,000 population where fire prevention committees of chambers of commerce functioned throughout the year indicate an average per capita loss of $3.27. This figure is 30% lower than the average of the entire nation and 16% lower than the average of all cities with more than 20,000 and less than 200,000 inhabitants, we are informed by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Encouraged by this record, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has launched a fire waste contest among local chambers of commerce and civic organizations numbered in its membership. The plan and details have been worked out in conjunction with the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Fire Underwriters and the National Fire Waste Council. One of the purposes of the competition is to give recognition and credit to the chambers which are conducting continuous fire prevention campaigns. It is felt that these efforts are producing results and therefore should be stimulated in a manner which will encourage other chambers to appoint committees to carry on the work in their communities.

In order that cities of approximately the same size will be competing, they will be divided into four classes according to population. Grading will be based on the yearly accomplishments in actual reduction of fire losses, education of the general public, and permanent structural and protective improvements.

Although this is the first attempt to apply the competitive idea to the fire waste problem nationally, similar plans have been successfully used to stimulate interest and arouse support in conservation projects when conducted on a smaller scale. That this contest has great possibilities is evinced by the support and co-operation of the leaders in the fire prevention movement who have approved the general plan.

PLAN HALLOWEEN AND WHIST PARTY

A Halloween and whist party will be held Monday evening, Oct. 29, in the Notre Dame de Lourdes parochial school hall. The affair is under the direction of the following committees: Tickets, Misses L. The boy was taken to St. John's hospital and it was reported this afternoon that his injuries are not very serious and that he is resting comfortably.

CONDITION IMPROVED
The condition of Bertram Childs, the 11-year-old Littleton boy who was seriously injured in an automobile accident in Littleton last Sunday, is reported today at the Lowell General hospital to be greatly improved. It was thought at first that his recovery was very doubtful, but it is now believed that he is well on the road to recovery.

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly
The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

COMMENCE CLASSES IN CITIZENSHIP

The first session of the classes in civics, government and English were held at the Y.M.C.A. last evening. About 65 men and women who are on the road to citizenship and have applied for either first or second papers have enrolled in these classes.

H. T. Toomey of the Lowell high school is the instructor of the course in civics and government, and Robert L. Trinker is teaching the course in English. These classes are open to any one who is interested in these two subjects, there being no charge for enrollment or registration.

ADMIRAL FARRAGUT CAMP AUXILIARY

The regular monthly meeting and supper of Admiral Farragut Camp auxiliary will be held tonight in Memorial hall. The supper will be served at 6 o'clock and all G.A.R. men and Sons of Veterans are invited to attend. Following the business meeting a social hour will be enjoyed.

A short meeting of the sewing circle.

The first meeting of the "We-Will-Help-It" society for the aid of foreign missions was held at the auditorium of the Notre Dame academy yesterday. The entertainment program consisted of a short playlet, followed by the singing of appropriate selections by the graduates '24. This is the second year of the society which is comprised of about 22 senior members of the academy. The society did good work last year, sending aid to the foreign missions in various ways, and it is expected that this year will prove equally successful.

THE EVERLASTING CLUB

The first meeting of the Everlasting club was held at the home of Miss Mildred B. Coleman, 14 Asquith street, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 2. There was a short business meeting, with the election of officers resulting in the choice of Miss Margaret Foley as president and Miss Agnes Hunt as secretary and treasurer. A social hour followed the business session with refreshments served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Oct. 16, at the home of Miss Mabel Kenyon, 33 Stratham street, in Wiganville.

The Best of All Medicines, Says Lowell Man

Draco Relieves Kidney and Liver Trouble—Driving Away Gastritis and Constipation

It is strange that people will disregard the early symptoms of stomach trouble and wait till they are down sick, unable to attend to their duties. Stomach disorders lead to a long train of other troubles. The liver, kidneys and bowels are closely allied with the stomach and soon become affected.

Mr. Albert Wheeler well known in Lowell and vicinity, says: "My stomach was in bad shape. Gas would form, souring the food I ate and causing belching and suffering. I felt bloated and acid rising from my stomach made me feel terrible. My liver and kidneys became infected, my system being clogged by the poisonous backwash of constipation. Each day I felt worse. The suffering was unbearable; then I started taking Draco."

This wonderful medicine improved my condition. And after the third bottle all trace of my troubles disappeared. I feel clean and healthy inside. My stomach digests everything I eat without gas rising and causing suffering. My kidneys and liver are in fine shape.

"I'll tell you Draco has made a new man out of me, and what it has done for me it can do for everyone else."

The proper medicine for such a run-down condition is not harsh mineral drugs and chemicals. Not only science, but sound common sense points instead to those good old-fashioned remedies of the vegetable kingdom, herbs, barks, roots and leaves such as grandmother herself used to brew and use in the days when doctors were few and hard to reach and before new fangled drugs and diseases became the fashion.

Draco is being specially introduced by Green's Drug Store and sold by druggists everywhere.

Important To All Mothers

Your children can always be charmingly dressed if you will starch their wash clothes with Linit—the remarkable starch discovery.

Even ordinary cotton goods, napkins, table-cloths, curtains, etc., have a cool, soft, pliable finish, like expensive linen, when starched with Linit.

A New Starch Discovery

LINIT is a scientific starch discovery—distinctly different from ordinary starches. After Linit is thoroughly dissolved, according to directions and is ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and FREE-RUNNING LIKE

WATER—with a "milky" appearance.

Be sure to use Linit according to directions, and unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is why Linit goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches, and is much easier to iron with.

Linit penetrates the fabric, helps prevent wear, and prolongs the life of the material.

You will be interested to know that Linit was originally developed for the use of the great Fabric Makers to give that smartly fashionable finish now so much in vogue.

With Linit you can have your shirt waists look like new. The children can have their garments finished in the daintiest style, equal to the most beautiful French finish.

Linit is sold by all grocers, 10c

Her Neighbor's Advice Helped Mrs. Frick

MRS. ADA FRICK
PERRYBURG, OHIO

"YOU can be just as healthy, strong and happy as I am," said one woman to her neighbor after listening to the description of her ailments,— "if you will take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My condition was very similar to yours, I suffered from those awful bearing down pains, weakness, backache, nervousness and headaches until I could hardly drag around. Today I am strong, well and happy because I followed the advice of a friend who had been greatly benefited by this old-fashioned root and herb medicine."

Nearly fifty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. prepared from medicinal roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its fame has spread from shore to shore. You will now find in every community or neighborhood some woman who has been restored to health by its use, or has some friend who has. Therefore ask your neighbor.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials such as the following are on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and prove the merit of this medicine. Therefore no woman should continue to suffer from such ailments.

Mrs. Frick Tells of Her Experience

PERRYBURG, OHIO—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my sides all the time. I can't remember just how long I suffered but it was for some time. One day I was talking with a neighbor and I told her how I was feeling and she said she had been just like I was with pains and nervous troubles and she took the Vegetable Compound and it helped her. So then I went and got some and I certainly recommend it for it is good. Whenever I see a woman who is sick I try to get her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Ada Frick, R. ## REMARKABLE PICTURES OF THRILLING FEATURES OF FIRST SERIES GAME

STENGEL'S HOMER FINISHES IT

In the last inning, Casey Stengel, centerfielder, and veteran of many a hard-fought campaign, poled a mighty home run to deep center. The runners caught him coming into the plate, bringing home the run that meant a Giant victory.

THE MIGHTY BABE OUT AT HOME

This shows how Babe Ruth lost a big chance to score what would have been a valuable run for the Yankees by failing to slide into the plate in the fifth. After tripling he tried to score on Bob Meusel's fly of which Frisch made an astounding catch in short center. A great peg by Frisch to Snyder doubled Ruth. Billy Evans is the umpire.

WHEN YANKEE ROOTERS WENT WILD

WRESTLING CARNIVAL AT BUNTING PARK

An open-air wrestling carnival with four well matched sets of grapplers listed to perform is the attraction arranged by Battery B for the holiday afternoon at Bunting park. Last season the battery staged a number of indoor matches and they were among the most interesting seen here in some time. Bob Johnson, the well known Billerica wrestler, who was forced to lay off because of a fractured arm received in an accident while at work, had charge of the high class cards, and he is the "man behind" the program announced for tomorrow. Johnson knows the game from every angle, and hence his knowledge of the game enables him to pair up satisfactory matches. For his main event tomorrow he has hooked up Charles Marshall, known as the "bull dog" of Maine, who will tackle Prof. Arthur Davis, instructor at Tufts college in a bout for the New England light heavyweight championship.

Bill Rudy, of Boston, and Kid Roberts of Lowell are down to clash in the semi-final for the middleweight title. Tiger Pearson, of the Battery and Charlie Zavalls, Haverhill champion will hook up in one preliminary, while Kid Roberts of the battery and Jim Donnelly, of this city will perform in the opening. The first bout will go on at 2 o'clock.

To Mike Menosky, outfielder of the Boston Red Sox, goes a new and unique distinction. Coming to the bat with the bases filled, Mike worked the pitcher for a base on balls. That base on balls indirectly cleared the bases, scored three runs. How come? Well, listen and you will be convinced that almost anything can happen in the very uncertain game of baseball.

In the first game of the final series of the season between Boston and Washington, Menosky came to the bat with two down and the bases filled. He worked the pitcher until the count stood three balls and two strikes. Then he fouled off a half dozen pitches. On each pitch the base runners were off with the delivery, in order to advance the most probable bases in case Menosky hit safely. Pitcher Zabiner of Washington finally pitched one that was wide of the plate, making the fourth ball, entitling the batsman to first and all runners to advance one base.

A long line of fans waited patiently for hours outside the Yankee Stadium before the first battle between the Yankees and Giants for the world's baseball supremacy. Many remained in line all night, keeping the light of their baseball enthusiasm glowing with "hot-dog" sandwiches and peanuts. Not all had to stand in line, however. Many had reserved seats, but arrived at the park early anyway. Among those who came a long ways to see the games were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Eldredge of Raton, New Mexico. They are shown inset.

At the time Menosky received the base on balls, Shortstop Mitchell was on third base. Catcher Walters was on second and George Burns on first. All runners were going at full speed on the fourth ball pitched to Menosky. Burns, going from first to second, rounded that base at least 30 feet in the direction of third. Catcher Rust of the Washington club took in the situation at a glance and snapped a hurried throw to second that should have caught Burns at least 20 feet from the bag.

Burns, realizing that he would be an easy out if the peg was accurate, stood flat-footed. Fortunately for Burns the ball struck just in front of Fockinbaugh who was handling the throw, bounding into centerfield. As a result all three runners scored on Menosky's base on balls aided by Rust's bad throw. Had not the throw been bad, the inning would have closed in a most unusual manner. It would have been necessary for the umpire to permit a run to score after the side had been retired. I happened to be the umpire.

"One Eye" Connolly Among the Notables Present—"Blindman" Also on Hand

Stengel Needed Crowd to Be at Best—Venders Sold 57 Miles of "Dogs"

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—One of the proudest "gate crashers" to exhibit himself yesterday was "Tammany" Young, the terror of ticket takers. "Tammany" won't tell how he got in for nothing, as at least three more games are to be played.

"One Eye" Connolly, who boasts that he couldn't be kept out of jail if a big sporting event was on there, got in, but kept hidden.

Day before yesterday when the Giants were at practice in the Polo Grounds, "Casey" Stengel was being joshed by his mates for his inability to hit the offerings of the rookie pitchers. Casey tried time and again, but couldn't for the life of him hit one on the nose.

"What's the matter, Casey?" asked George Kelly. "I can't do nothing 'till I get a crowd around," Casey replied.

And when Casey got his home run in the ninth yesterday and the 55,000 fans cheered, Kelly remembered sure. "I do declare! Casey sure knows his stuff."

One of the most interested fans at the game sat in a box just behind home plate. He was all dressed to kill and beside him sat a fair fan. He was recognized as the same pitiful figure who sits on a Broadway corner at night with a sign on his chest: "Please help the blind."

The vendors of fan foods had a profitable day. The vendor-in-chief, estimating a frankfurter to be five inches in length and a small paper bag to hold 25 peanuts, said he had sold 57 miles of sausage and a half a million of the pods from the fabaceous plants that grow in the southland.

Pitcher John Scott's 11-year-old father came all the way from down south to see the series, sat alongside Kansas Mountain Landis, baseball's commissioner-general.

Old Amos Rusie, a Giant of years gone by had to stay at the Polo Grounds all day but heard the result over the telephone. Rusie is day watchman at the Giants' grounds.

Jack Hendricks, manager of the Indianapolis American Association club, who has watched every world series since Christy Mathewson was a rookie, declared it was the most thrilling game he had ever seen.

London's police comprise a staff of 20,114.

"Economy" is Tydol's middle name.

Tydol is the economy standard for thousands of critical motorists who are beating the high cost of driving with the low cost of Tydol operation.

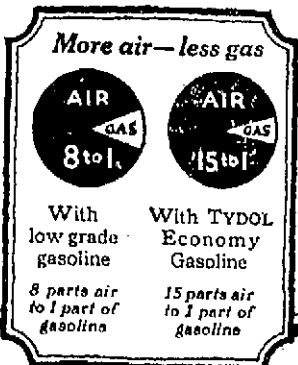

Tydol's lean 15 to 1 mixture does it. You burn more air, which is free, and less gas, which is a pleasure. Result—Tydol Economy. More miles per gallon at less cost per mile. You use less oil, have less carbon and develop more power.

Faccenda Held as Murder Suspect

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—A charge of suspicion of murder was lodged against Ernest Faccenda, early today, by detectives investigating his alleged admission that he saw Emma Dickson, 15-year-old Millville, N. J., high school girl, slain in the swamps along the Port Elizabeth highway, near her home at Bricksboro. Faccenda was held in bail yesterday as a material witness. It was after the return of Peter Sheller, a member of the "murder squad" of this city, from the scene of the crime that the more serious charge was lodged against the prisoner. Faccenda, who is 19 years old and lives in this city, admitted, according to the authorities, that he was a witness to the killing, but declined to supply additional details. He declared that he did not know the identity of the slayer. The detectives plan to question him further today.

Second Fire Prevention Week Blaze

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 11. The second big fire in Hudson county to occur in fire prevention week, destroyed the Spencer Iron foundry early today, with an estimated loss of more than $100,000. Eight fire companies labored for more than two hours to prevent the flames spanning the street in the National Chemical Products Co. plant, where thousands of tons of inflammable material are said to be stored.

MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Stock prices fluctuated within narrow and irregular limits at the opening of today's stock market. Selling was again in evidence in a number of the steel, oil and railroad shares. Sears Roebuck advanced 1 1/2 points and Southern Railway 1 point in anticipation of favorable developments at today's dividend meeting.

With the exception of Canadian Pacific which dropped 1/2 point, buying power came into the railroad shares which improved fractionally. Auto Knitter dropped 1/2 point to 14 1/2, a new low for the year. Navy also were established by Anaconda, Chandler Motors, American Ice and Lee Rubber Producers & Refiners dropped 1/2 point to 18 1/2. Southern Railway advanced about a point. Foreign exchanges opened firm.

The speculative pendulum swung definitely downward again before noon, increasing heaviness of the oil and copper shares being communicated to the general list. Losses in most of the pivotal issues were held in fractions. Additional new low records for the year were established by Endicott Johnson, Central Leather, preferred Magna Copper, Calumet & Hecla, Kelly Springfield, Pierce Oil preferred and Bayuk Brothers preferred. Losses of 2 to 3 points were registered by American Beet Sugar preferred, Houston Oil and Famous Players. Southern Railway was the only conspicuous strong spot, moving up 1/2 point to 35 1/2.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 3

Jack looked around and saw a smiling little thin man sitting on the arm of a big chair. "Hurray!" repeated this little man. "You have brought my balloon back, and for that I shall pay you well." "Who are you?" asked Jack. "Oh, ho!" came the reply. "Don't you know?"

And then the little thin man laughed long and heartily. "Why I am the man who makes King Gobbler laugh. My name is Jingo and they call me the jester." And then Jingo stopped short, as a loud clanking sound was heard. "Hide under this chair," he shouted suddenly.

MISTER GOBBLER'S LESSON

"WHAT ON EARTH ARE YOU LOOKING AT?" ASKED MISTER GOBBLER, PREVIOUSLY.

Very early in the morning Mister Gobbler opened his eyes. The sun wasn't up—but it was coming, for long fingers of light were reaching away the night mist. "Gobbler, gobbler, gobbler!" said Mister Gobbler. "This is going to be a grand day! And I'm as hungry as a sword-swallower, whatever that is. But I saw it advertised on a fence near the road and the man looked awfully hungry. Gobbler, gobbler, gobbler! Get up, family! Don't forget, the early bird gets the worm." "Yes, but what does the early worm get?" piped up Lanky Legs, the little turkey boy, opening one eye and then shutting it again. But like a shot he opened it again, and then the other, and he stared and stared. "What on earth are you looking at?" asked Mister Gobbler peevishly. "One would think you'd been brought up on a desert island instead of a respectable wood-pile, beside the barnyard. What are you staring at?" "I was thinking," said Lanky Legs, blinking his eyes as hard as he could, but he didn't finish his sentence. "Mother! Oh, mother," he called. "Wake up and look what's around Daddy's neck!" Mister Gobbler awakened with a start. She'd been dreaming something awful about an ax. She was glad to Reception to Retiring Teachers.

MISS E. IRENE HOGAN
Committee Chairman

MISS MARY E. TOBIN
President

The members of Lowell Teachers' organization met last night in Liberty hall of the Memorial Auditorium and tendered a reception to Miss Maria E. Roberts and Miss Frances M. Webster, both of whom recently retired after nearly half a century of efficient endeavor in the field of education; and also in the incoming and retiring officers of the organization.

The reception was held in place of the regular business meeting and nearly 200 teachers were present. In the evening, Miss E. Irene Hogan, committee chairman, presided. In addition to Miss Roberts and Miss Webster, were Mayor John J. Donovan, Supl. of Schools Hugh J. Mulvey, Headmaster Henry H. Harris of the high school, Miss Mary E. Tobin, president; Charles E. DeLorme and Miss Emma Graham, vice presidents; Miss Katherine Kelly, secretary; Miss Katherine Usher, treasurer; Miss Caroline A. Downey, retiring president; John G. Walcott and Miss Fannie Murphy, retiring vice presidents.

The members of the organization marched into the hall to the strains of a selection played by the high school orchestra.

Following the reception a large group of teachers acted as ushers and escorted the members of the organization to their seats, while another group served refreshments.

Several piano numbers were played by Almazan L. Dupuis, a member of the high school faculty. Miss Ruth Boulter, accompanied by Miss Gertrude F. O'Brien, entertained with several contralto solos. The entertainment program was brought to a close with several orchestral selections by the high school orchestra, under the direction of Fred O. Blunt.

Miss Mary E. Tobin, the new president of the organization, then mounted the platform and called the meeting to order. In a short address she outlined the reason of the reception and meeting, and announced that the executive council had prepared a motion, naming the two principal guests of the evening as honorary members. This motion was put and unanimously accepted. Then, in accordance with a custom of the organization, she asked the election of Miss Caroline A. Downey, retiring president, as an honorary member, and this was unanimously voted.

The hall was beautifully decorated with potted plants and salvia and the stage was banked with numbers of both. The meeting was an auspicious opening of the fall social season and the greatest credit for the success of the affair goes to the members of the reception committee, of which Miss E. Irene Hogan was chairman and the Misses Edith Erskine, Charlotte Walsh, Helen Abels and Georgiana Keith, members.

Retiring Teachers Schoolmates

Miss Roberts and Miss Webster were schoolmates. Both attended the Varnum grammar school and the high school. Miss Webster being two years ahead of Miss Roberts and graduating from the high school in 1872. Miss Roberts graduating in 1875.

Upon leaving high school Miss Webster immediately entered the field of teaching, receiving an appointment as permanent teacher in the Mann school in 1875. For eight years she taught in the fourth grade of that school and was then transferred to the Butler school, ninth grade. She remained there for eight years and then went to the Edison school where she remained until she retired last June. Miss Webster is a sister of Mary Ann Webster, who is the oldest living teacher in the city and who retired as a teacher in the high school several years ago under the compulsory teachers retirement act.

Miss Roberts received a permanent teaching appointment in 1875, the September following her graduation from high school, and was sent to the Varnum grammar school. For 23 years she taught at this school, being assigned to the 4th, 5th and 7th grades at various times. In 1898 she was transferred to the Bartlett grammar school and remained there until her retirement last June. She taught in both the 5th and 7th grades at the latter school and was one of the teachers assigned by the state to drill normal school girls in the art of teaching. Because of this latter position, she became acquainted with the majority of the girls who attended the Normal school and is thus very well known among the elementary teachers of the city.

Both of these retired teachers are in good health and it is the consensus of opinion among the teaching fraternity that neither would have retired last June but for the fact that it is compulsory now under state law for every teacher to be pensioned upon reaching the age of 70.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF
IN ACCIDENT CASE

A sealed verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1125, was reported by a jury before Judge Qua in superior court this morning in the case of Irving L. Wright vs. John M. Calleo, both of Lowell.

The matter went to the jury only on the issue of assessment of damages, as the defendant had been defaulted. The plaintiff claimed he was injured in an auto accident in which along with an auto owned by the defendant, that he lost 10 weeks' pay, at the rate of $30 per week, and that hospital and doctors' bills amounted to $216.

Attorney J. J. Hennessy in presenting the case to the jury yesterday, argued that the plaintiff was not only entitled to expenses, but that he should further be recompensed for his pain and suffering.

In his charge to the jury Judge Qua instructed the panel that the issue was solely to fix the amount of damages to which the plaintiff was entitled, that the return on the writs shown the defendant was personally served with notice of the suit, that he had not filed any answer, and was therefore defaulted.

A jury was then empaneled in the case of Stanley Urbanski vs. Eastern Mass. St. Rwy., in an action of tort for $500.

The plaintiff contended that while operating his automobile on Bridge street in Lowell on May 5, 1923, his auto was run into by an electric car, because of alleged negligence on the part of the operator of the electric car.

Attorney Francis C. Zacharow was counsel for the plaintiff and Attorney Fred Wier for the defendant.

13 Killed on R. R. Crossings

Pennsylvania railroad, struck a horse-drawn school bus on a grade crossing one-half mile north of Rootstown, in Portage county.

One girl and four boys, passengers in the bus, escaped uninjured. County and school officials are at a loss to explain how the accident happened. The crossing where the crash occurred affords a clear view of the track for 60 rods, it is said. The bus was nearly across the track when struck, the horses escaping uninjured as the vehicle was torn away behind them.

Five Die in Crash

NORMAL SCHOOL LECTURE

State Supervisor Talks on "What Teaching Means to the State"

A lecture on the subject, "What Teaching Means to the State" was given to the students of the State Normal school yesterday afternoon by Burr F. Jones, state supervisor of elementary education. The speaker was introduced by Principal Clarence M. Wood of the Normal school.

Mr. Jones emphasized the fact that the necessity of normal schools was recognized first by Horace Mann, at that time serving in the senate. After an investigation by the first state board of education, which he headed, it was found that "training is a prerequisite to good teaching" and Edward Dwight became so interested in the matter that he offered Mr. Mann $10,000 for the training of teachers if he could secure twice that sum from the legislature. Mr. Mann went before the house with his campaign and on April 19, 1838, the measure was passed without a dissenting vote.

The inauspicious beginning in an old academy building at Lexington with three frightened pupils and the steady increase to ten schools with a total of 3000 pupils was described in some length. The number of teachers in college or normal school graduates is steadily increasing and the time when they are 100 per cent that way will mark the period of greatest efficiency in our schools.

Speaking of the salary question, Mr. Jones said:

"In 1917 there were over 2500 teachers receiving less than $500. The state awoke to the need of remedying this situation and provided a law in which no town or city in the state, no matter how small or poor, can employ a teacher at less than $700. This has been accepted by every municipal government until the average salary has grown to $1000 in towns of less than 5000 inhabitants. Throughout the state there is an average of good sized towns and cities of $1400 and in the large cities it is $1500."

The reason Massachusetts takes such an interest in her teachers and has protected them by tenure of office and retirement systems, Mr. Jones explained, is because not having any natural resources, our best efforts are put to educating the people for moral prosperity and better citizenship. He cited the many prominent men of the nation today who were born or educated in Massachusetts as a result of this course.

Miss Katherine Rafter thanked the speaker for his address, on behalf of the students.

Next week the students of the senior class will themselves discuss "What Teaching Means to the State."

OFFICIAL SURVEY OF MERRIMACK RIVER

The third 24-hour survey of Merrimack river water for the purpose of testing its purity or impurity was begun on Tuesday by representatives of the state department of health. The first survey was made in July and the second on August 8 and 9.

These surveys are part of an official investigation with a view toward minimizing the pollution of the river water and the possible establishment of a trunk line sewer. All three surveys have been made in the basin just above Pawtucket dam and samples of water have been taken from the river at different times during a 24-hour period to obtain facts on all possible conditions.

Knights of Columbus Celebration

JOHN E. HART
Retiring Grand Knight

FRANK A. GROVES
Grand Knight-Elect

Tonight's exercises in connection with the observance of Columbus day by the members of Lowell Council, 72, Knights of Columbus, will be featured by the retirement from office of Grand Knight John E. Hart and the installation of the newly-elected officers, headed by Grand Knight-elect Frank A. Groves.

The exercises will take place in the K. of C. hall in Dutton street, beginning at 8 o'clock. Vocal and instrumental entertainment will be furnished by James E. Donnelly, Francis A. Connor, Andrew A. McCarthy, Thomas Delmore, Jas. B. Connelley and others. Announcements will also be made concerning the Columbus day program tomorrow. Several out-of-town guests will be present.

Grand Knight Hart, who has served the council faithfully and efficiently for the past two years, will make his farwell address tonight and hand over the reins to his successor. The new grand knight will make known his appointments for the ensuing year. He has already named Edward V. Slatery, Jr., as lecturer of the council, and the selection will be hailed with satisfaction.

A buffet lunch will be served after the meeting.

The other officers to be installed are: John J. Flannery, deputy grand knight; James B. Connelley, chancellor; Philip J. Brown, financial secretary; Patrick J. Sweeney, recording secretary; Frank J. Flannery, warden; Thomas J. Fitzgerald, treasurer; Jas. J. Brain, advocate; Richard Costello, inside guard; John J. Lane, outside guard; Thomas A. Ginty, trustee for three years; John E. Hart, delegate to state convention; George F. Brigan, first alternate; Andrew Molloy, second alternate.

The following committee is in charge of the affair tonight: Frank J. Flannery, Albert W. O'Hair, Fred Stowell, Robert R. Thomas, Daniel J. Sullivan, Edward R. Hart, Frank Reilly, Edward F. Saunders, Frank A. Groves and the retiring lecturer of the council.
